

"ANCHOR" BUTTER

FINEST CHOICEST

THE WORLD'S BEST

FROM ALL LEADING PROVISION STORES
Sole Agents:—LUHRING & SMITH.
12, Des Voeux Road, Central.

Hong Kong Sunday Herald

THE LARGEST CIRCULATION IN SOUTH CHINA

Vol. XII, No. 681

號一廿月三 年七十三百九千一英

HONG KONG, MARCH 21, 1937

日九初月二 年丑丁次歲

年六十二國民華中

Price, 10 Cents Per Copy

TRAGIC DEATH OF GEN. HUANG MU-SUNG

Victim Of Pneumonia Following Chill

WOMEN STAGE RIOT

Katowitz, Yesterday.
Furious women staged a remarkable scene in the coal mining district to-day, throwing barricades round offices, and fighting furiously with police who were rushed to the area.

A hunger strike was begun by 1,500 miners in Upper Silesia yesterday in order to force the mining directors to accede to their demands regarding wages and hours of labour.

The demands, listed in a fifty-six-point petition, were the cause of the violent disorders to-day, when the wives of the striking miners descended upon the administrative offices of the mines and bombarded them with stones.

The women then erected barbed-wire barricades around the buildings in order to prevent the directors from leaving until their husbands' demands are granted.

HEAVY REINFORCEMENTS

It was only after heavy police reinforcements had been rushed to the district that order could be restored.

The strike in this district has been augmented by the walking out of 3,400 miners in other parts of Upper Silesia.

The Polish trade union yesterday revoked all wage scales for the Dombrovo and Cracow districts, and announced that the miners were determined to obtain higher wages and better working conditions.—Trans-Ocean.

Dr. Kung's Tribute To Britain

Shanghai, Yesterday.
The Minister of Finance, Dr. H. H. Kung, paid a warm tribute to the spirit of fair play and justice animating British diplomacy in a speech read by his son at a reception to-day in honour of Sir John Brennan, British Consul-General in Shanghai, and Lady Brennan on the eve of their departure to London.

Dr. Kung was unavoidably absent in Nanking.

The speech recalled that Dr. Kung's friendship with Sir John and Lady Brennan dated from 1926, when Sir John was Consul-General in Canton and Dr. Kung was Finance Commissioner of Kwangtung.

Reference was made to the excellent relations marking their association.—Reuter.

Funeral of Sir Austen Chamberlain

London, Yesterday.
Foreign Ambassadors, members of the Diplomatic Corps, Cabinet Ministers and Members of Parliament attended the funeral of Sir Austen Chamberlain at St. Margaret's, Westminster, to-day.

Among the numerous floral tributes, the inscription on one wreath read: "With deepest respect from taxi-drivers on the night rank."—Reuter.

Canton's Goodwill Governor Passes Away In Hospital

It was with a profound sense of shock that Hong Kong learned last night of the death, which occurred at the Sun Yat Sen University Hospital in Canton, of His Excellency, General Huang Mu-sung, the Governor of Kwangtung Province.

Only briefest details of General Huang's sudden and unexpected demise had been received at a late hour. It was known that he was taken ill with a severe chill on Tuesday, and that his illness took a sudden turn for the worse on Thursday night, necessitating his removal to the First Hospital of the Medical Faculty of the University, but it was reported that he had been able to see General Yu-Hon-mau, commander-in-chief of the Fourth Route Army, and Hong Kong was not aware of the gravity of His Excellency's illness.

Death is believed to have been due to pneumonia, which developed on Thursday.

General Huang had not been in the best of health for some considerable time. When he returned to Canton in the early part of last week, it was from a period of rest and recuperation after a persistent cold.

UNTIMELY DEATH

The deepest regret will be felt in the Colony at the untimely death of General Huang, for it fell to his lot, on his appointment as Chairman of Kwangtung, following the reorganisation of the South-West Government by Nanking last year, to play a prominent part in the strengthening of the friendly relations between Canton and Hong Kong.

General Huang created an excellent impression in the Colony when he returned the visit to Canton of His Excellency the Governor, Sir Andrew Caldecott.

ENTHUSIASTIC MEETING

Accompanied by the Mayor of Canton, he received an enthusiastic welcome and was entertained by His Excellency the Governor at Government House.

In the course of the banquet to the distinguished visitors, speeches were made both by General Huang and Sir Andrew Caldecott expressing pleasure at the growing co-operation between Hong Kong and Canton and stressing the importance of closer relations in the future.

ONLY 52 YEARS

General Huang Mu-sung was born in Kwangtung in 1885, and before taking up the post of Chairman of the Provincial Government, which he held at the time of his death, was Pacification Commissioner in Sinkiang.

He received his military education at the Peking Military College, where he graduated, and to which he returned years later as President.

His progress in the Army was rapid and he soon rose to be commander of the 3rd Division.

LEADER IN 1927

In 1926 he was Vice-Commander of the Army Officers' Corps of the National Revolutionary Army which marched from Canton and established the centre of Government at Nanking.

He left China for Geneva, where he was Chinese delegate to the General Huang Mu-sung (centre) is shown in the above picture during his official visit to Hong Kong in November last, a visit which contributed so importantly to the creation of a new spirit in the friendly relations between Hong Kong and Canton.

Official Denial Of Telegram Story

Rome, Yesterday.
It is officially denied here that the Duce sent a congratulatory telegram to General Franco on his victory on the Guadalajara front.

A copy of a telegram, allegedly from Signor Mussolini, was stated to have been found when the Spanish Government troops captured Brihuega. — Reuter. [See Full Story On Page Eleven.]

Capture of Oviedo Imminent

Santander, Yesterday.
The civil population of Oviedo is being evacuated on foot, and are taking the chance of being caught by the Republican besiegers' fire which intermittently sweeps the approach roads day and night.

The Republicans claim that the insurgent concentrations at Oviedo have been effectively dispersed with the infliction of severe casualties.—Reuter.

MRS. SIMPSON'S DIVORCE

Nothing Now Stands
In The Way

London, Yesterday.
Withdrawal of the intervenor in the Simpson divorce case is generally regarded here as having removed all obstacles to the decree nisi being pronounced absolute next month.

According to law, no legal obstacle to the marriage of Mrs. Simpson to the Duke of Windsor any longer exists.—Trans-Ocean.

Disarmament Conference.

He was Vice-Chief of General Staff of the National Government and reserve member of the Central Executive Committee.

ESSEX RAILWAY RIDDLE

LONDON, YESTERDAY.
THE ESSEX POLICE ARE CONDUCTING A WIDE SEARCH FOR WOULD-BE TRAIN WRECKERS WHO REMOVED A SLEEPER FROM THE L.N.E.R. LINE NEAR ROMFORD TO-DAY.

The sleeper had been detached and placed across the line, and only discovery of the obstruction by a patrolman prevented a serious wreck.

This is the second attempt to interfere with the working of the railway near Romford.

On Thursday night the signal wires running beside the track were found to be tied together, preventing the signals from operating.—Trans-Ocean.

LONDON SILVER MARKET

London, Last Night.
London silver prices to-day were down 3/16 as follows:—
Mar. 19 Mar. 20
Spot 20-3/4 20-9/16
Forward 20-3/4 20-9/16
—From Our Own Correspondent.

Kipperd Herring Is Hero Of Local War Games

A kippered herring goes on record as one of the heroes of the Colony's war manoeuvres, which reached their crescendo last night in some of the most realistic operations ever staged here.

Most daring exploit was the invasion of the harbour itself by two destroyers, which actually landed troops at Murray Pier.

One of the raiding party, which did heavy damage at the Naval Yard, is reported to have penetrated as far as the Peak Tramway station, disguised as a Chinaman fisherman, "waving a kippered herring." There the super-spy listened carefully while a Ser-

LEOPOLD HIS OWN DIPLOMAT

LONDON, YESTERDAY.
MOST OF THE LONDON NEWSPAPERS COMMENT IN LEADING ARTICLES THIS MORNING ON THE FORTH-COMING VISIT TO THE BRITISH CAPITAL OF KING LEOPOLD OF BELGIUM.

The "Morning Post" says that in principle the British Government will not oppose Belgium's declaration of neutrality.

Britain and France, however, says the paper, wish an assurance from Belgium that her policy will not serve the interests of Germany.

King Leopold will endeavour to clear up the misunderstanding over his declaration of Belgium's policy.

The paper forecasts the signing of a new neutrality pact, in which Belgium's inviolability will be guaranteed by Britain, France, Germany and Italy.—Trans-Ocean.

MINISTERS ALSO

Brussels, Yesterday.
It was learned here to-day that the Premier, M. Paul van Zeeland, and the Foreign Minister, M. Paul Spaak, are planning to go to London next week in order to discuss political questions with the British Government.

Taken in conjunction with the visit to the British capital of King Leopold the announcement is held here to be of particular significance.—Trans-Ocean.

(See Page Five)

BRITISH ERRANDS OF MERCY

Mr. Forbes Entertained
By Sr. Del Vayo

London, Yesterday.
The British Charge d'Affaires in Spain was entertained yesterday at a farewell luncheon in Valencia by the Spanish Foreign Minister, Senor Del Vayo, prior to his departure next week to take up the post of Counsellor to the British Embassy in Berlin.

Mr. Forbes has played an important part in arranging, with the co-operation of the British Navy, the safe evacuation from Spain of thousands of British and foreign refugees. — British Wire- less.

The small-pox epidemic in Shanghai, which has claimed nearly 500 victims since December, shows no distinct signs of diminishing. Figures of new cases for last week totalled 32. In Bangkok, there were 39 new cases of cholera.

FLOOD MENACE TO HUGE AREA

London, Yesterday.
To-day witnessed a chapter of accidents in England, with the floods in East Anglia the focus of attention; London came into the news with a shipping collision in the Thames while a train accident occurred in Kent.

IN THE FEN DISTRICT AGITATED INHABITANTS OVER A WIDE AREA WERE BUSY TO-DAY FILLING UP CRACKS IN THE EMBANKMENTS WHICH ARE THE SOLE PROTECTION AGAINST WHAT MAY DEVELOP INTO A SERIOUS FLOODING OF THE LOW-LYING MARSH AREA.

The present danger threatens from the Bedford river, which passes through Mildenhall, in Suffolk, where the R.A.F. aerodrome and the village are menaced with inundation.

Every man available has been conscripted to repair the cracks in the river bank which, however, seems to be beyond holding back the swollen waters, and flooding of an area of thirty-five square miles is expected at any moment.

London to-day enjoyed bright sunshine and a real fine day after days of rain and mist.

In the early morning, people coming to London from the south had sunshine all the way up but those coming from the north met with thick mist.

LINER AND TRAIN ACCIDENTS
A liner coming up the Thames collided with an oil tanker, losing its anchor, but suffered only slight damage.

Owing to the recent rains, a goods train ran into a three-foot cavity on a line in Kent.

The engine passed over the cavity but the goods trucks were telescoped. Nobody, however, was injured.—Reuter.

GOLD MINE DISASTER

32 EUROPEANS IN HOSPITAL

JOHANNESBURG.

YESTERDAY.
TWENTY-NINE NATIVES ARE OFFICIALLY REPORTED DEAD, WHILE 26 ARE MISSING, IN THE SUMMER-JACK MINE AT GERMISTON, WHEN FIRE BROKE OUT AFTER SEVERAL HUNDRED EUROPEANS AND NATIVES HAD BEEN OVERCOME BY A FLOOD OF GAS.

Thirty-two Europeans are in hospital as a result of the disaster, the greatest in the history of the Witwatersrand gold mining industry, and 29 are detained. Four hundred natives passed through the hospital where fifty are still detained.

Rescue teams are still searching the affected area but little hope is held of recovering further natives alive from the mine.—Reuter.

SNOWSTORM TRAGEDY

Berlin, Yesterday.
A monument in memory of the five English boys who perished in a snowstorm on April 19 last year during an excursion in the Black Forest, is to be unveiled this summer.

It will be recalled that the victims, who were members of an expedition of British schoolboys, were suddenly enveloped in a blizzard and snowstorm.

The boys were in Germany as guests of the Freiburg Hitler Youth group.—Trans-Ocean.

CRITICAL FRENCH COAST SITUATION

Paris, Yesterday.
The charges and counter-charges of breaking of the non-intervention agreement in Spain culminated in a sensational allegation by the "Paris Midi" to-day.

The journal alleges that the French Mediterranean ports of Marseilles, Sète and Port Vendres have been reported to the non-intervention committee in London as secret smuggling bases for munitions intended for Spain.

The paper adds that in view of this allegation, the German and Italian warships engaged in patrol duty along the Spanish coast intend to extend their activities to the French coast.

The paper says that semi-official naval circles in Toulon are somewhat agitated over the report.—Trans-Ocean.

CHINESE SHIP WRECKED

It now appears that the steamer which was wrecked north of the island of Showel-shan is not the Butterfield and Swire tug "Changteh" as was at first thought, but a Chinese steamer of the same name.

The Chinese steamer is not listed in Lloyd's Register, the only vessel of that name being the B. and S. tug.

A pilot boat has rushed to the assistance of the steamer, which is aground 23 miles north of Showel-shan, in the Yangtze estuary, says Reuter.

EMDEN CREW'S BRAVERY

Medals Presented In Bombay

London, Yesterday.
Several officers and members of the crew of the German cruiser "Emden" were presented with the Life-saving Medal of the Life-saving Society of India, according to a message from Bombay to-day.

A number of women and children were recently rescued from drowning by members of the cruiser when a boat capsized in Bombay harbour.

Captain E. Lohmann of the "Emden" expressed the thanks of the ship at the presentation ceremony.—Trans-Ocean.

SPRING MATERIAL INTEREST

THE new materials that the French are turning out augur well for clothes of delightful character in the coming season. There is less fantasy in the weaves than for the past seasons. This does not mean that they are uninteresting; the new colours alone would prevent that; it means simply that "flash" is no longer dominant. Plainness in woollens and silks is becoming important.

Realistic prints are still seen in abundance, but so discreetly designed that it takes quite a few minutes to realize that what looks like a geometric is really a "ten service," complete with cup, saucer and teapot. Coudrier makes this print. There are plenty of novelties, but the majority of these are not the kind of which women would tire in a month.

Colour plays a high role in next Spring's fabrics. This is true of plain fabrics, and especially of woollens. Rodier, for example, in continuing his Dhou of last season, which will be remembered as a soft, light-weight woolen. He is now showing it in 160 new shades, and among these, pale and warm pastels, particularly the latter, are stressed. There are vivid, pinkish coral tones, and a light green that might be described as "willow," which is worth attention, for this manufacturer believes that it will be a big success.

Lesur, who always specializes in colour, in continuing his Tortaz (another smooth, light-weight woolen) and featuring it in five large groups of colourings. These are "fades," showing a wide range of faded pastel tones; "cuir," which includes all the shades of leather, such as beige, browns and reds; "au mort," that has "dimmed" medium shades of greens, blues and mauves; "cirque," with bright reds and yellows, and finally, the fifth group called "Persan" with Persian greens, blues and other rich Oriental tones.

WOOLLENS ARE SHOWING THEIR COLOURS IN SIMPLER WEAVES — DISCRETION MANIFESTED IN PRINTS.

Important Of Flannels

VERY light weight, almost sheer, flannels are slated for a run. They are prominent in many of the lines, particularly by this creator. He has some heavy tweed plaids in bright colour for coatings, and also some dress weights with the plaids very discreet and in "faded" colours. He continues his series with "noix de coco," and some of the new ones have an open mesh that almost makes them look as though they were crocheted.

ly Rodier's. Challis is also in evidence. These types of smooth, soft woollens may have the same success this Spring as did broadcloths last Autumn. After the plain sorts, in woollens come what the manufacturers call "fancy plains," namely, with some discreet novelty surface or weave. Rodier's Ourbah, with a slightly open mesh weave and large irregular squares done in contrasting coloured slub—as white on a brown ground—is an example.

Lesur has several "dry," crepe woollens in his line. One is called Rizlane. Surface effects, in relief or in the weave along with plain fabrics, are shown

Rustic Weaves

IN silks, both real and artificial, there is a definite trend toward rustic-looking weaves. One of Coudrier's outstanding new fabrics is of this type. It is quite heavy, looks like a shantung and is called drap Louvetau. He has another all-silk sturdy-looking weave called toile rustique, with little bumps in it like a tussore. Coudrier has several all-silks that have the appearance of the artificial. Crope Mari Papa has a slightly granite-like surface that is like velvet to the touch, and with a peau d'ange look about it. Which goes to prove that novelties can be created with all-silks.

MOLLETS WITH MACARONI

EGGS Mollets with Macaroni: Ingredients: Macaroni; eggs; grated Gruyere cheese; smother tongue; butter; flour; milk; seasoning.

Method: Allow 1 or 2 eggs, a heaped tablespoonful of macaroni and a slice of tongue per person. Break long macaroni into small pieces or use cut macaroni; put into boiling salted water and cook till tender. Drain. Make some bechamel sauce, about 1/2 pint for 2 or 3 persons (see recipe for Fried Eggs with Vegetables); use a full 1/2 pint milk and stir in grated Gruyere cheese to taste. Return macaroni to saucepan with a walnut of butter and stir in diced tongue. Put the eggs gently into boiling salted water and cook for 5 or 6 minutes, not more; this sets the white but leaves the yolk creamy. Immediately after taking out the eggs, plunge them into cold water, then peel them very carefully as they are soft. Serve the eggs on the macaroni and gently pour over the sauce.

Lettuce Heart Salad: Halve or quarter hearts of lettuce. Top with shredded beetroot and sprinkle with vinaigrette dressing (see recipe for Portuguese Salad). Serve on a dish or as individual portions.

MADGE EVANS' ADVICE TO GIRLS

(By Will Edward)

MADGE EVANS has taken up the cause for her many university boy fans, and has accepted their request to let the "girls know where they stand."

Therefore, the actress, who has been dubbed the "Typical Modern Girl" by her friends, because more than half of her fan mail comes from college boys, has compiled a list of "Don'ts for the university girl."

Madge, who is now appearing in ESPIONAGE at the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studios, wants the girls to understand clearly that the complaints came directly from young men from many universities. Following is the list of "Don'ts":

1. Don't invite your boy friend out to dinner with another couple unless you're sure his finances can stand it.

2. Don't go to a picture show with him, and then rave about the hero all the way home.

3. Don't talk about your past dates unless he was with you.

In that case rave about them.

4. Don't invite him to your home and then pass all of your time talking on the telephone, while he talks to your parents.

5. Don't smoke.

6. Don't go on a double date and pass all of your time talking to the other boy. (The other girl won't care for that either.)

7. Don't expect him to kiss you on the dance floor, even though the lights are low.

8. Don't egg him on to kiss you good-night and then look shocked and hurt.

9. Don't order dinner by looking at the right hand side of the menu.

10. Don't try to get his fraternity pin the first night you go out with him.

Personally, the actress says, she feels that the university men are being a little too severe with their fellow students, but she wanted to keep her promise to print their "don'ts" verbatim.

To Banish Travel Fatigue

you may always depend on "4711" Genuine Eau de Cologne. A few drops inhaled from the handkerchief or dabbed on temples or forehead will alleviate headache and migraine, will soothe jaded nerves and ensure fresh vitality.

"4711" Bath Soap

First-class cleansing power, rich lather and lingering fragrance.

"4711" Bath Salts

To soften and perfume the water. Stimulating and refreshing.

"4711" Eau de Cologne Cream Soap

A superfatted toilet soap, mild and lasting, delicately scented.

APB6

Charm and Individuality

Vogue realizes how difficult it is to find good quality and style combined at a price that is within reason. We therefore present with special pride a selection of American Dresses, Hats and Shoes that will satisfy your individual taste.

VOGUE

1st Floor, Gloucester Bldg., Hong Kong.
178, Nathan Road, Kowloon, Phone 60544.

Children like KOLYNOS

The Antiseptic Cleansing Dental Cream that Dentists Recommend

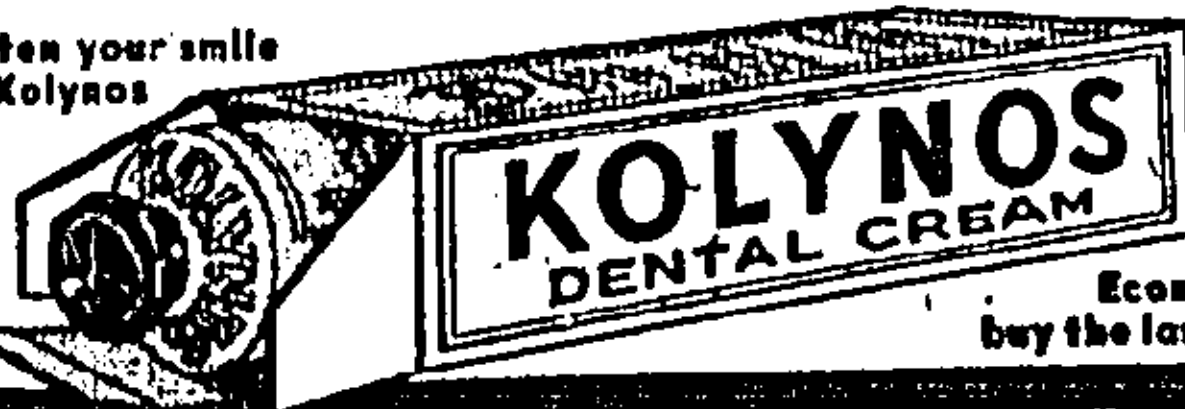

CHILDREN don't have to be coaxed to clean their teeth with Kolynos. They like its pleasant, refreshing taste.

Dentists recommend Kolynos especially for children because of its antiseptic cleansing properties. They know that Kolynos keeps teeth clean and protects them from the dangerous mouth germs that cause stain and decay.

Have your children use Kolynos morning and night. It is most economical because you use only half as much as you would of ordinary toothpastes—a half-inch on a dry brush is enough.

Brighten your smile with Kolynos

Remember—buy the large tube

STREAM-LINED WATER COOLERS!

Modern—Convenient—Sanitary

No Water is as pure as

"PURITY"
DRINKING WATER

Purity
DRINKING WATER CO.

Dina House, Duddell Street

Phone 30692.

Picture Frame Handbags

PICTURE frame bags are new and smart. Square or oval, the raised frame around the edge is made of wood and covered with suede. They come in all colours, are fairly small and easy to handle. Then, too, since one of these can be carried with sports or street clothes, the article is practical as well as beautiful.

Fifteen thousand wives seek separation orders in courts in Great Britain annually, while 3,600 husbands go to prison rather than pay the allowances fixed by the courts.

Miss Anne Emery, who recently observed her 100th birthday in New York City, never has used face powder.

Chinaware In The 16th Century

CHINA plates and dishes, which we take so much for granted nowadays, were not known in England before the 16th century. Before that time food was served to the nobles on silver, and to the poorer classes on pewter and in wooden

In the time of Edward I. some dishes of earthenware were bought from a Spanish ship.

The word porcelain, spelled "porselyn," was mentioned in 1587 when "five dishes of earth painted, such as are brought from Venice," were presented to the queen.

"And I shall be dear to the People
"For I have Glorified Freedom"

Russia's Proud Singer: Pushkin

THE centenary of Pushkin, greatest of Russian poets, most national and most important of Russian writers, was celebrated last month. We know little enough of his work, of which no complete translation exists in English, indeed, we are told that his poems, so pure and fine in sound, so subtle of expression, and so distinctly Russian in flavour, are untranslatable. It is only in his prose that we know him, a vivid and realistic writer, truly Russian in his simplicity of style.

He came to free Russia of a slavish imitation of the French, creating models of his own and founding a national literature. "If we except Goethe," says Mr. Ernest Simmons, Pushkin's latest biographer, "it is not an exaggeration to say that during the first forty years of the nineteenth century no poet of Western Europe surpassed Pushkin in sheer genius or in sustained quality of literary accomplishment. For over a hundred years he has been Russia's most beloved poet."

Abyssinian Ancestor

Pushkin was born on May 26, 1799, of an old aristocratic family. The Pushkins were not wealthy. The poet's father was a wit, totally devoid of practical sense. Just as indifferent was his mother; her grandfather, Hannibal, an Abyssinian prince, had a brilliant career under Peter the Great and died general in command of the Russian army. One of the best known of Pushkin's shorter tales, incomplete as it is, tells of Hannibal, "Peter the Great's Negro." Haughty, tyrannical, Pushkin's mother terrorised the family and was indeed of the same race as Hannibal "the African." Her son inherited her temper.

Lazy and taciturn as a child, his mother endeavoured to "correct" him; he used to take refuge in his maternal grandmother's room or hide in a big sewing basket. The old lady and his nurse Rodionova were the only people who spoke Russian to him. His parents and their friends spoke French as was the custom among members of the Russian aristocracy at that time. At the age of nine he was a voracious reader and was going through all the books in his father's library—a library entirely of French books. It was then that he made his first efforts at writing. He wrote a comedy in French, "The Conjuror," which he acted himself, the only person in the audience being his sister.

Influenced By Voltaire

The young boy was twelve when his parents thought of sending him to the Jesuits' College in Petrograd, where the members of the aristocracy had their sons educated. But a college for young aristocrats was founded in Tsarskoe Selo, and Pushkin was sent there. His school career was not brilliant, but he read a great deal and wrote. At fifteen he published his first poem and wrote a tale in Russian influenced by Voltaire. Voltaire was, at that time, his favourite poet. A small group of his school friends appreciated his great intelligence and generosity of character, but his vivacity and wit did not win him popularity. Nervous, high-strung and passionate he was often unhappy.

In 1817, leaving school, Pushkin was appointed attaché at the Foreign Office; in reality he hardly made an appearance there, but spent his days reading or feasting with gay companions. The three winters he spent in Petrograd were reckless but did not prevent him from writing his great poem, "Ruslan and Ludmila," fresh, young, and sensuous, which at once established his fame. He belonged to a circle of young intellectuals whose social and political ideas were too advanced for the liking of the government.

He began to call himself "the proud singer of freedom." This was enough to get him into trouble. The governor of Petrograd, taking as a pretext his "Ode to Liberty," had his house searched and, but for the help of devoted friends, Pushkin would have been sent to Siberia. He was exiled to the Caucasus instead where he wrote his famous poem, "The Prisoner of the Caucasus." He had just learnt English and was under the influence of Byron.

Proud Singer Of Freedom

He began to call himself "the proud singer of freedom." This was enough to get him into trouble. The governor of Petrograd, taking as a pretext his "Ode to Liberty," had his house searched and, but for the help of devoted friends, Pushkin would have been sent to Siberia. He was exiled to the Caucasus instead where he wrote his famous poem, "The Prisoner of the Caucasus." He had just learnt English and was under the influence of Byron.

The governor of Petrograd, taking as a pretext his "Ode to Liberty," had his house searched and, but for the help of devoted friends, Pushkin would have been sent to Siberia. He was exiled to the Caucasus instead where he wrote his famous poem, "The Prisoner of the Caucasus." He had just learnt English and was under the influence of Byron.

Under Byron's Influence

Byron, says Maurice Baring in his book on Russian Literature, helped Pushkin to discover himself. "Byron revealed to him his own powers, showed him the way out of the French garden where he had been dwelling, and acted as a guide to fresh woods and pastures new."

Pushkin next returned to his family estate in the district of Pskov. There he wrote several cantos of his masterpiece, "Onegin," a novel in verse, and completed "Boris Godunov." It was at this time that Pushkin had become acquainted with Shakespeare, and some parts of "Boris Godunov" are Shakespearean in that they attain to heights of imaginative truth. "Onegin," says Maurice Baring, "is as witty as Don Juan and as consummately expressed as Pope; and when the occasion demands it, the style passes in easy transition to serious or tender tones. And in this period his personal life was colourful as his work. Attracted by strange, exotic women, he loved a gypsy and a Dalmatian girl, both affected by tuberculosis.

By PHYLLIS JUBY

Natalie Goutcharoff

A few months after the accession of Nicholas I to the throne, the poet petitioned the Tsar for clemency. He was asked to come to Moscow at once, saw Nicholas in private, spoke frankly about the political situation, and impressing Nicholas by his sincerity, was pardoned and allowed to live anywhere in Russia except Petrograd. The winter Pushkin spent in Moscow was one of the happiest in his life. But attracted by Petrograd he returned to that city as soon as he was able. He did not get the reception he had anticipated. His friends were few and restrictions were placed on his work; he became irritable and pessimistic.

In December 1828 Pushkin, while in Moscow, met Natalie Goutcharoff, a young beauty of sixteen. He fell in love and they married. He understood his mistake very soon, but with his usual generosity of heart reproached himself with having been too hasty in the matter and would not admit her frivolous nature.

Duel After Theatre

In reality she was an ignorant and naive little girl, impressionable, not in the least prepared to be the companion of a man of genius. Pushkin, however, did not change his attitude towards her, but allowed her to shine in society and enjoy the court atmosphere he found so irksome. Soon the news spread that a Russian existed between Natalie and a French royalist, Baron Georges d'Anthes. Anonymous letters were the origin of the tragedy which caused the poet's death. It was only at the intervention of friends that a duel with the sender of those letters, Baron Hackereen, d'Anthes's foster father, was avoided. One night, coming out of the theatre, Hackereen, having been distributed. An exhibition of portraits of Pushkin was opened to her, "When shall you render your son happy?" Pushkin asked his wife what Hackereen had said to her and she, naively, repeated the remark. Pushkin then wrote an insulting letter and the inevitable outcome was a duel. Georges d'Anthes, however, came instead of his father and on the banks of the Neva, Pushkin was wounded. Taken home he suffered agony all

Father Of Russian Vitality

The people of Russia recognised his death as a national disaster, but succeeding generations recognised even more clearly that Pushkin was the father of Russian strength and vitality in literature. In 1881, Dostoyevsky unveiled Pushkin's memorial at Moscow and paid homage to the poet that found an echo throughout Russia.

And now, to celebrate Pushkin's centenary, all his books have been republished, 13,400,000 copies of the theatre, Hackereen, have been distributed. An exhibition of portraits of Pushkin was opened to her, "When shall you render your son happy?" Pushkin asked his wife what Hackereen had said to her and she, naively, repeated the remark. Pushkin then wrote an insulting letter and the inevitable outcome was a duel. Georges d'Anthes, however, came instead of his father and on the banks of the Neva, Pushkin was wounded. Taken home he suffered agony all

"And I shall be dear to the people

For I have glorified freedom

And asked pity for those who fall."

Beauty that won't WEAR OFF!

When you Simoniz your car, you can be positive—yes, absolutely sure that it will stay beautiful. What's more, Simoniz protects the finish and makes it last longer. Perhaps, however, your car is already dull. Then first use the new, improved Simoniz Kleener. It brings back all the lustre and beauty your car had when new. So always insist on Simoniz and Simoniz Kleener. Besides being easier to apply, they cost no more than polishes and so-called waxes that give but a here-today-and-gone-tomorrow shine.

Simoniz and Simoniz Kleener are sold by hardware and auto accessory dealers, filling stations and garages everywhere.

FIRST CHURCH OF CHRIST, SCIENTIST, HONG KONG.

ANNOUNCES A

FREE LECTURE

ON

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

BY

FRANK BELL, C.S.B.

Member of the Board of Lectureship of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Massachusetts.

IN THE

Y.M.C.A., Kowloon

Ashley Road Entrance

ON

Thursday, 1st April, 1937, at 6 p.m.

The Public is cordially invited to attend.

FOOD "WASHED" WITH PURE AIR Constantly Circulating

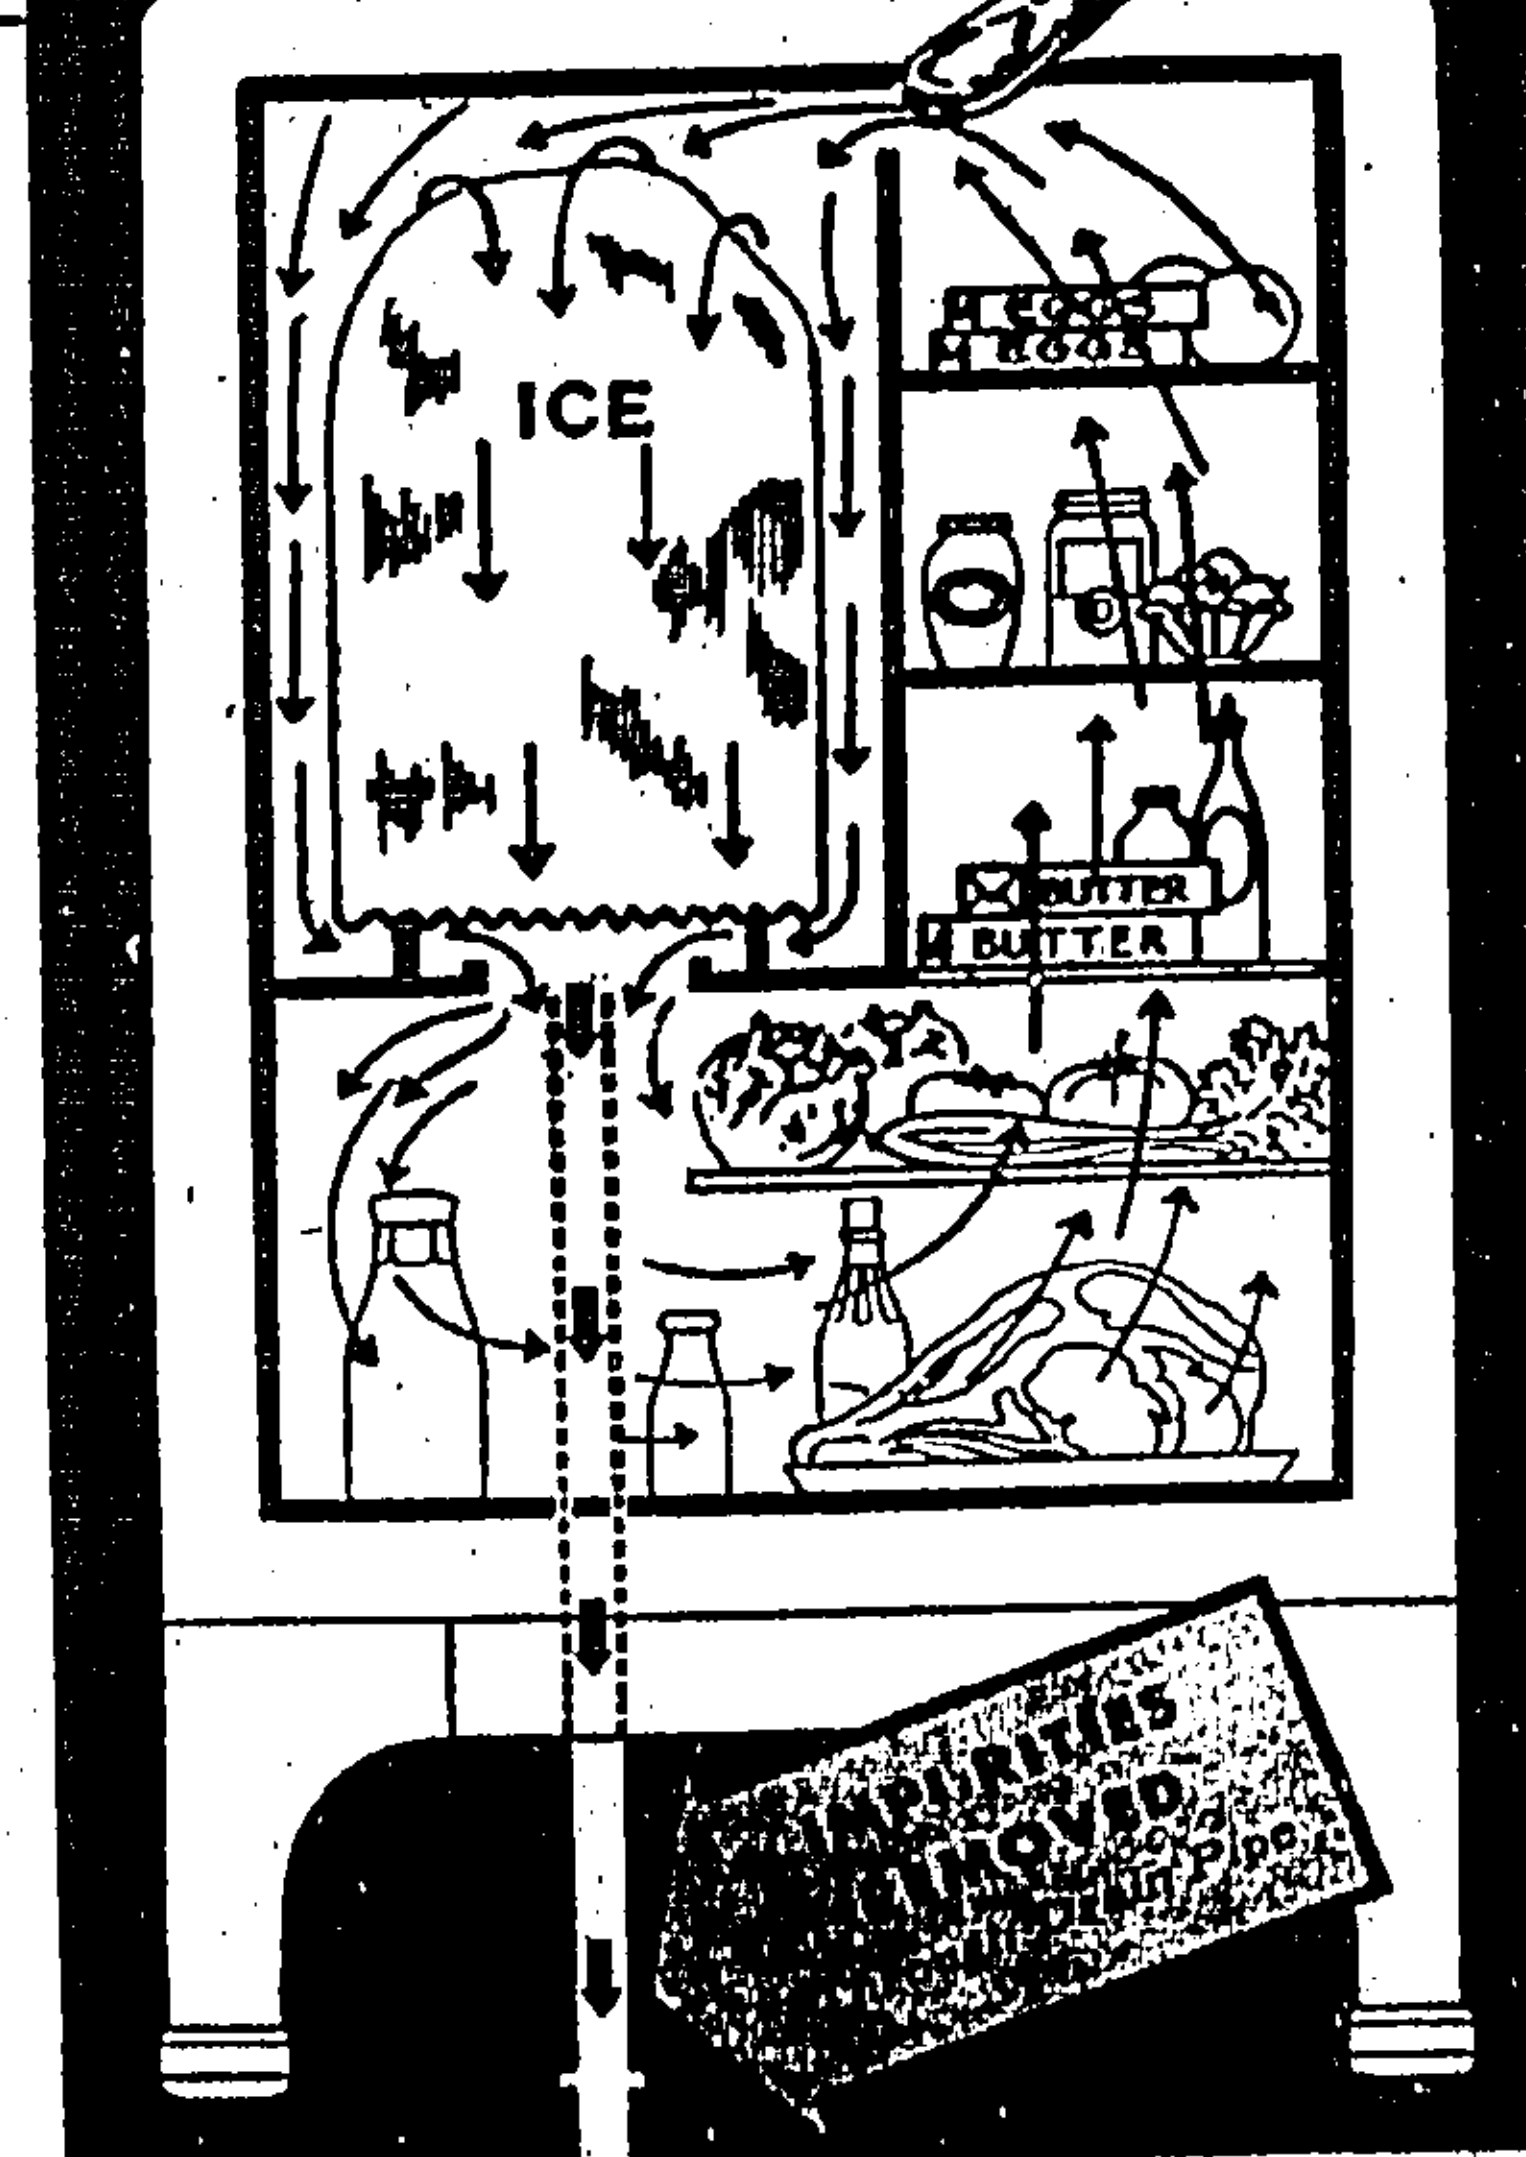

in the Modern Air Conditioned Refrigerator

Certain stored foods pass off impurities, unpleasant in odor, which are quickly absorbed by other foods. Thus food, to remain impurity-free and to prevent decay, must be kept in air that is constantly purified as well as chilled. Cold alone is not enough!

The new OLYMPIC ICE Refrigerator, utilizing SIX-SIDED REFRIGERATION, keeps vitalized fresh air constantly circulating around your food. It "picks up" odors and impurities, carries them to the melting ice film, where they are absorbed and eliminated through the drain pipe. Food odors cannot interchange!

Too, the new OLYMPIC Air Conditioned Refrigerator maintains the correct balance of moisture in the air, preventing foods from drying out. Foods retain their natural flavors, juices and vitamins.

Our Ice Service Man will gladly demonstrate the new OLYMPIC Refrigerator.

MADE BY WARD REFRIGERATOR & MFG. CO., LOS ANGELES, CALIF.

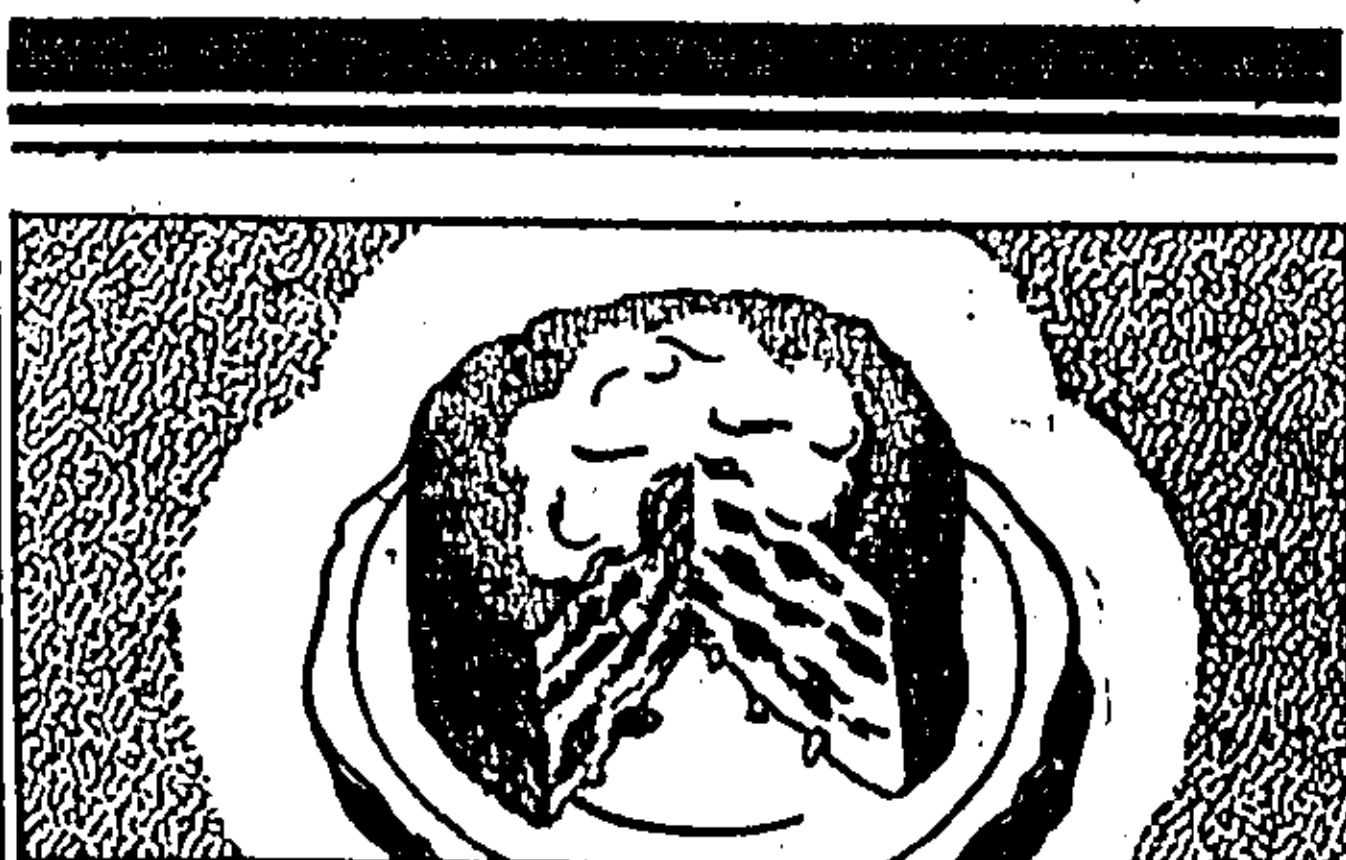

OLYMPIC Air Conditioned REFRIGERATORS

FOR FURTHER PARTICULARS APPLY

THE DAIRY FARM, ICE & COLD STORAGE CO., LTD.
PURE FOOD SPECIALISTS.

Hollywood VOTES FOR OLYMPIC

Let's make some Harlequin pudding

IT IS DONE LIKE THIS

- 2 cups SIMPSON'S Self-Raising Flour
- 4 ozs. almonds, blanched and finely chopped
- 1 cup brown sugar, juice of half lemon
- 1 cup "ROYAL BLUE" Seeded Raisins
- 2 large cooking apples peeled and finely chopped

Sift the flour and salt into a basin. Add sufficient milk to make a thick, smooth dough. Turn on to a floured board, knead for a few minutes. Out into pieces roll each piece into a thin sheet large enough to fit into an 8 inch deep cake pan. Grease the pan with melted butter, place a layer of the paste in the pan and brush over with melted butter. Have ready mixed in a basin the almonds, raisins, apples, sugar and lemon juice. Put a layer of this mixture on the paste and cover with another layer of the paste, brush over with melted butter and continue until all the layers of paste are used. Brush top layer over with melted butter, sprinkle with sugar. Bake in a moderately hot oven about 45 minutes. Serve hot with Custard Sauce.

SIMPSON'S Self-Raising Flour

Agents—GILMAN & CO., LTD., Hong Kong.

DRAMATIC COUPS BY BLUELAND ATTACKERS

BUDAPEST VISIT

MUSSOLINI SENDS ENCOURAGEMENT

Vienna, Yesterday.
The Viennese newspapers, on the whole, express general satisfaction with the visit to Budapest of the Austrian Chancellor, Dr. Kurt Schuschnigg. Dr. Schuschnigg's negotiations in the Hungarian capital were, it is stated, conducted under the auspices of the Rome Protocol.

The Rome Agreement comes in for praise by the "Wiener Zeitung," which describes it as a useful medium for Austria obtaining new alliances.

Other newspapers attach significance to a telegram sent by Signor Mussolini to Dr. Schuschnigg and the Hungarian Ministers in which the Duce wished them success in their negotiations.

The telegram is taken to mean that the Duce wishes the present Danubian policy to continue.—Trans-Ocean.

MUSSOLINI'S REPLY
Signor Mussolini, in answer to a message sent to him in Tripoli by Dr. Schuschnigg and the Hungarian Premier on the third anniversary of the Rome Protocol, sent the following telegram:

"I thank you heartily for your telegram on the occasion of the anniversary of the Rome Protocol. Your message is entirely in accord with the Italian attitude towards political co-operation and I share your view as regards continuation of this co-operation between the three nations."—Trans-Ocean.

BOY SCOUTS RALLY MURRAY TROOP WIN BANNER

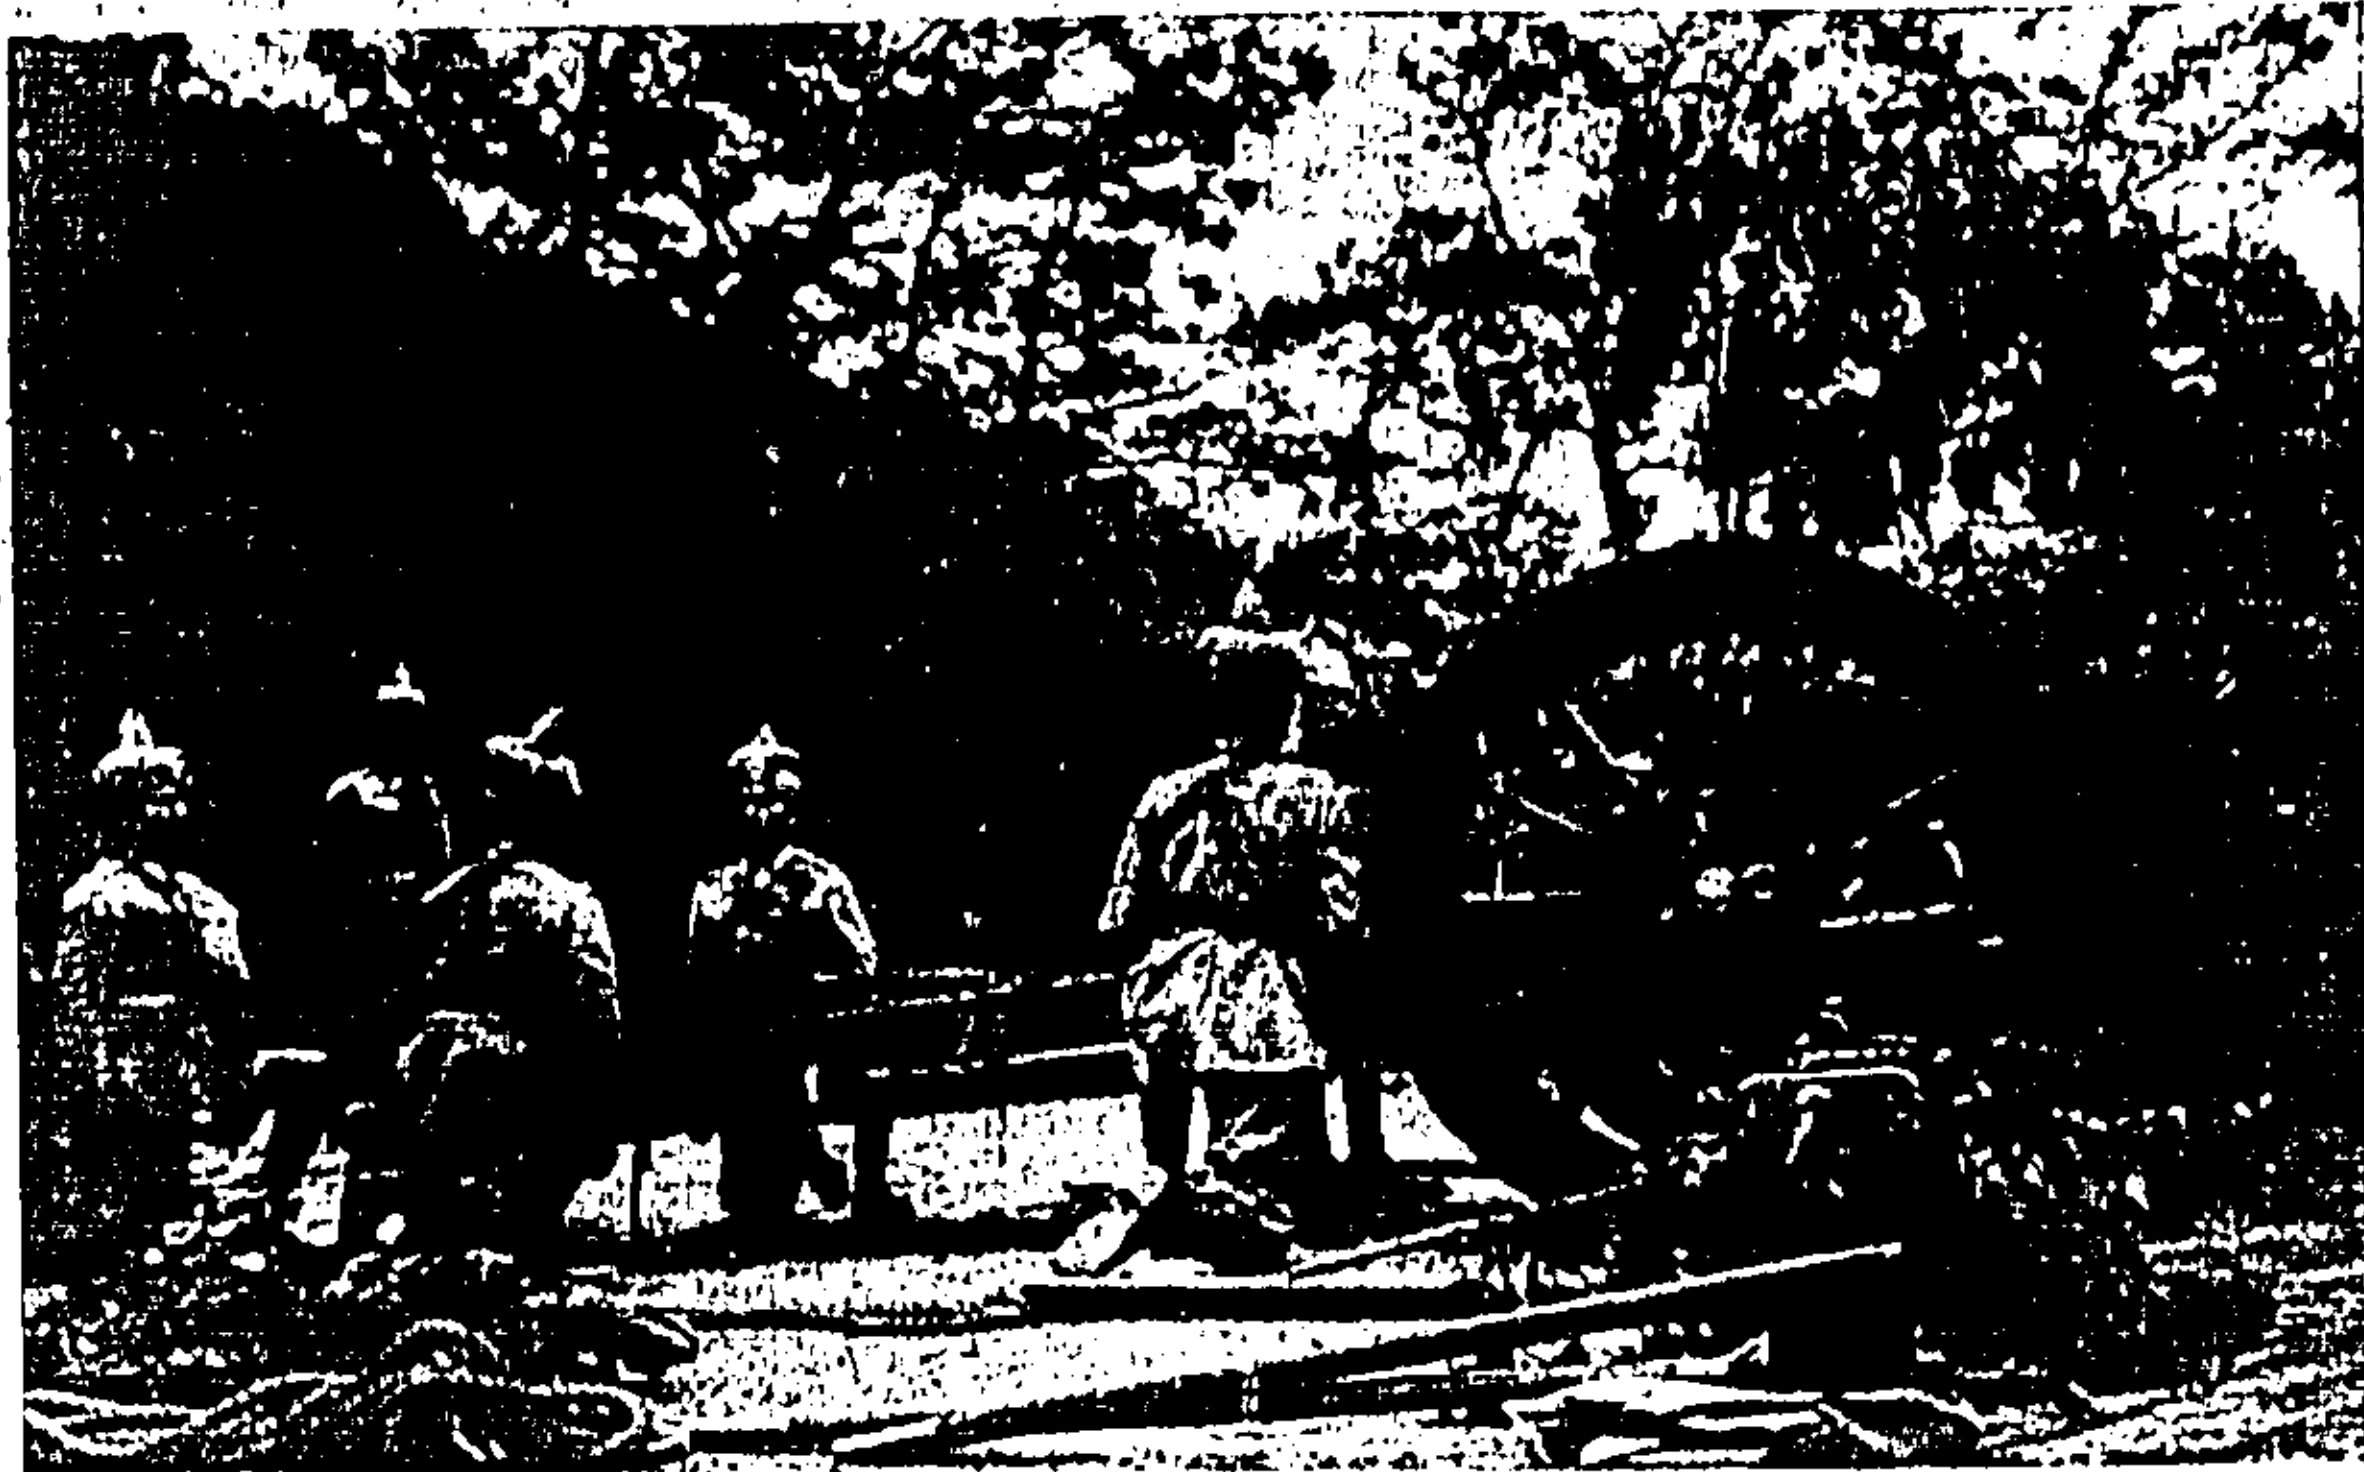

The local branch of the Boy Scouts Association, commenced their competitions for the Prince of Wales Banner yesterday afternoon, when under the supervision of Scout Commissioner N. V. Halward, they assembled on the sports field on the Diocesan Boys' School for their rally.

Instead of a formal inspection of the troops, Commissioner Halward received the registrars of each individual troop, after which the competitions commenced.

The China Fleet Deep Sea Scouts undertook the duties of judging the various events, while Mr. P. A. Peckson, Honorary Secretary of the Association, was in charge of the records.

The Fourth Hong Kong Murray Troop secured first place with a total of 181½ points, closely followed by the First Hong Kong Sea Scouts, who aggregated a total of 181¼ points. The First Hong Kong St. Joseph's College secured third place with 171 points.

Destroyers Steal In, Land Troops At Murray Pier!

A 6 inch howitzer manned by the Hong Kong Singapore Brigade, Royal Artillery, in action during the war manoeuvres. Not the camouflage over the muzzle. (Herald photo).

Attack In Force In New Territories

DEFENDERS FALL BACK ON INNER LINE AND HOLD GROUND

Spectacular strategy by the attacking forces, naval and military last night, followed the breakdown of efforts on Friday night and yesterday morning to smash their way through the defence lines in the New Territories.

DETERMINED WORK BY THE COVERING PARTY ENABLED TWO BRIGADES TO BE LANDED IN THE CASTLE PEAK REGION BUT THE KUMAON RIFLES, WELCH FUSILIERS AND ROYAL ULSTER RIFLES FELL BACK TO PREPARED POSITIONS, AND INFLECTING HEAVY LOSSES ON THE BLUELAND TROOPS, HELD THEM FIRMLY AGAINST WAVE AFTER WAVE OF ASSAULT.

H.M.S. CUMBERLAND ENGAGED THE FORTS, CAUSED HEAVY DAMAGE IN THE POWER STATIONS WITH HER EIGHT-INCH GUNS, BUT WAS HERSELF HIT SEVERAL TIMES BY SHORE BATTERIES.

Official Communique

An official communique issued before the Volunteers went into action yesterday afternoon stated: Blue's pressure on Red has seriously increased during the past 24 hours.

The extensive landings which took place on Thursday night between the Hong Kong Brewery and Castle Peak were developed last night.

It is now considered that Blue has at least two Infantry Brigades ashore there: supported by light artillery, these are pressing forward, chiefly from the Kam Tin Plain, towards the left flanks of Red's prepared "Inner Line" of Defence between the Shing Mun Dam and Gindrinkers Bay.

Blue is here opposed by the Kumaon Rifles and Royal Welch Fusiliers, supported by four batteries of the Hong Kong Artillery Brigade. Every yard of ground is being contested in front of the prepared position. The Royal Ulster Rifles extend the Kumaon flank to the East, and Red is confident that the Inner Line can be held against all odds for an indefinite period.

Attack On Forts

Last night Blue vessels again failed to penetrate the harbour entrances, Red again inflicting casualties. With great gallantry Blue put landing parties ashore on Green Island and at Sandy Bay on the Island. Both parties were driven back to their boats, the latter after entering Mount Davis Battery but before damage could be done to the fixed armament.

Blue destroyers entered Tolo Harbour, but only after losing two destroyers to the fire of Red defending vessels. These destroyers put landing parties ashore between Taiipo and the entrance to Tide Cove. In some cases these Blue landing parties were annihilated by Volunteer Beach machine-gunners. Nevertheless, successful landing parties effectively demolished the road and railway before re-embarking.

Courage In Vain

In this respect Blue has saved Red a certain amount of trouble, for Red intended to carry out the identical demolitions this morning. Elements of the Royal Welch Fusiliers and Royal Ulster Rifles supported the Volunteers in these actions and sustained serious casualties.

Throughout yesterday Blue vessels systematically bombarded Mount Davis and Devil's Peak Batteries and the civilian electric light and power works. The batteries replied and "Cumberland" was hit several times.

Island Landing Foreseen

These bombardments and Blue's selection of targets for aerial bombardment indicate that Blue threatens to land, the remainder of his sea-borne expeditionary forces on Hong Kong Island when the fire of Red batteries is considered to be sufficiently neutralised.

FORMER G.O.C. IN COLONY

DEATH OF GENERAL F. H. KELLY

LONDON, YESTERDAY.
A FAMOUS SOLDIER WHO COMMANDED THE BRITISH TROOPS IN SOUTH CHINA FROM 1913 TO 1915 AND WHO RECEIVED THE THANKS OF THE HONG KONG GOVERNMENT FOR HIS SERVICES, DIED TO-DAY.

He was Major-General Francis Henry Kelly, C.B., C.M.G. Born in 1859, Major-General Kelly entered the Royal Engineers in 1879.

Ten years later he was made captain and rose to the rank of major in 1897. The following year he became brevet Lieutenant-Colonel and full Colonel in 1902.

He was appointed Major-General in 1909.

He first saw foreign service in Burma from 1885 to 1896, when he was mentioned in despatches and received the Burma Medal with clasp.

ON N.W. FRONTIER
In 1897 he served on the North-West Frontier and was again mentioned in despatches. He also received another mention in despatches the following year in the Tirah.

From 1901 to 1902 he fought in the Waziristan campaign and from 1900 to 1905 was Assistant-Adjutant-General, Quetta district.

In 1905 he received the thanks of the Government of India for his work as member of the Indian Survey Committee.

He commanded the Karachi Brigade from 1905 to 1907 and the Ahmednagar Brigade from 1907 to 1911.

MADE C.M.G.
In 1913 he came to Hong Kong as Officer Commanding British troops in South China.

For his services in Hong Kong he was made C.M.G. and received the thanks of the Hong Kong Government and the Lords of the Admiralty.

He retired in the last year of the Great War and in 1919 was appointed Regional Director of the Ministry of Pensions, a post he held till 1924.

At the time of his death he was Commissioner of Scouts for the Camberley district.—Reuter.

A Japanese woman was fined $20 at the Central Magistracy yesterday for failing to report her departure from the Colony on March 30 last year and her arrival into the Colony on August 6.

the fire of Red batteries is considered to be sufficiently neutralised.

Red's Mainland troops are pinned there and likely to remain so. The Island of Hong Kong must rely on the Seaforth Highlanders, one company of the Royal Welch Fusiliers and the detachments of Volunteers which are being deployed in their Island war positions during this afternoon for the repulse of any attempted landings by Blue forces.

NAVAL YARD FALLS IN SWIFT RAID

REDLAND OUTPOSTS ON ISLAND ARE TAKEN BY SURPRISE IN MIST

BY SPECIAL CORRESPONDENTS FROM THE FRONT

Dramatic coups followed one another in bewildering succession during last night's invasion of the Colony by the Blue-land forces.

A DEADLY BLOW AT THE HEART OF THE CITY WAS STRUCK AT ABOUT 8.30 P.M. WHEN FAVOURED BY DISMAL WEATHER CONDITIONS WHICH DID MUCH TO CRIPPLE THE EFFICIENCY OF SEARCHLIGHTS, TWO DESTROYERS, H.M.S. DUNCAN AND H.M.S. WESTCOTT, CREPT INTO THE HARBOUR UNDETECTED, EXCEPT BY A SMALL PATROL BOAT WHICH WAS SUNK, AND LANDED TROOPS AT MURRAY PIER!

A FEW MINUTES LATER, BITTER FIGHTING WAS TAKING PLACE IN THE NAVAL YARD, AFTER PRELIMINARY BOMBARDMENT BY THE DESTROYERS, AND AFTER A SERIES OF SHARP ENCOUNTERS IN WHICH HEAVY LOSSES WERE SUFFERED ON BOTH SIDES, THE "ENEMY" HAD OCCUPIED THE NAVAL YARD.

The centre of the city was occupied with lightning rapidity and one patrol reached the Peak Tramway station.

Two platoons attacked military headquarters, where guerilla fighting proceeded for some considerable time.

ASTHIDE ROAD
At 9.30 p.m. a further important success was credited to the attack, when a strong force was landed in Kellett Bay from H.M.S. Adventure, throwing patrols across the Pokfulam and Island Roads, severing communications.

A Seaforth machine-gun unit took a heavy toll before a bombing squad silenced the gun. At 10.05 a.m., severe fighting developed in the vicinity of Aberdeen, where H.M.S. Danae landed a contingent of Marines, which moving swiftly took the defence completely by surprise and captured a volunteer machine-gun post on the beach.

ABERDEEN HOLDS OUT
Aberdeen Village, however, held out against a series of onslaughts, Seaforth Highlanders, with strategically placed machine-guns, inflicting heavy loss of life upon the attackers.

Further along the Island Road, a Volunteer machine-gun unit was captured by a superior force of Royal Marines, who had landed undetected and overcame the post in a sudden attack from the rear.

The "Blue-land" Marines did brilliant work, moving swiftly and taking the Redland watchers completely by surprise.

The island appeared to be menaced from almost every point. WITHERING FIRE
At Deep Water Bay, three cutters attempted to land troops, but they were detected by searchlights on the adjoining hills and a withering fire from machine-guns was trained upon the boats, while four inch guns exchanged fire with a destroyer lying close inshore.

The attack here was repulsed with severe casualties.

The Volunteer No. 3 Machine Gun Section also exacted heavy toll when what appeared to be a bluff landing to draw the defence was repulsed. INCREDIBLE SCENES

Incredible scenes were witnessed on the Island Road towards Shaikwan, where a detachment of Inniskilling Fusiliers were reported to be within an hour's journey from the heart of the city of Hong Kong, but these reports proved to be unfounded as they were captured at the top of Shaikwan Hill by two platoons from the Royal Welch Fusiliers, who were deployed along the road for about half a mile.

Between the Shek-O Road and Island Road junction and where we found the Fusiliers, a detachment of the Motor-Cycle Machine Gunners were resting on their laurels in a clump of bushes, waiting for the enemy to turn up. They did not realise, however, that the "enemy" were only round the next bend and must have been surprised soon after we left them at 1.30 a.m.

The staccato bark of machine guns, Lewis guns and rifle fire accompanied us on our journey as far as Shaikwan Road, where the road was deserted with the exception of a few passers-by.

HEAVY ENGAGEMENTS
It was evident that the enemy had fixed zero hour for about 8.30 p.m. when a general disembarkation of troops from enemy vessels on all the main beaches on the Island. Between 10 p.m. and 10.30 p.m. most of the beach defence units were more or less heavily engaged. The main object of the enemy attacks, however, appears to have been Tytam Bay where a whole Battalion of the Inniskilling Regiment landed from ships boats from the Cape-town and Destroyers and helped considerably in the objective by a "pen-soup" fog, despite determined resistance by defending troops, they obtained a firm footing and had complete command of the Shaikwan Area and Shek-O Road, including the defending canteens. The attack at Aberdeen appears to have been in the nature of a feint.

Patrols were posted at intervals along these roads and all passing vehicles were stopped and examined for possible spies. The Shek-O and Big Wave Bay Sectors were remarkably quiet.

At the moment it is difficult to forecast the result of the operations, and the result will not be known until 10 a.m. to-day.

Japanese Warship To Visit Germany

London, Yesterday.
The Japanese cruiser Ashigara is attending the Coronation naval review at Spithead as the representative of Japan, and will leave later for Germany. It will be the first visit of a Japanese warship to Germany in thirty years.—Reuter.

Attacks On Home Fleet By R.A.F.

London, Yesterday.
The Home Fleet is now returning after a series of exercises with the Mediterranean and the Atlantic Fleet and as it nears Home waters, an opportunity will be taken to carry out a series of tactical training exercises in co-operation with the Royal Air Force.

While in the Western Coast approaches and the Channel, the Home Fleet is to be located and shadowed by aircraft and then attacked by submarines of the Second, Fifth and Sixth Submarine Flotillas and by aircraft of the Royal Air Force, the squadrons operating from aerodromes on or near the south coast of England.—British Wireless.

we found the Fusiliers, a detachment of the Motor-Cycle Machine Gunners were resting on their laurels in a clump of bushes, waiting for the enemy to turn up. They did not realise, however, that the "enemy" were only round the next bend and must have been surprised soon after we left them at 1.30 a.m.

The staccato bark of machine guns, Lewis guns and rifle fire accompanied us on our journey as far as Shaikwan Road, where the road was deserted with the exception of a few passers-by.

HEAVY ENGAGEMENTS

It was evident that the enemy had fixed zero hour for about 8.30 p.m. when a general disembarkation of troops from enemy vessels on all the main beaches on the Island. Between 10 p.m. and 10.30 p.m. most of the beach defence units were more or less heavily engaged. The main object of the enemy attacks, however, appears to have been Tytam Bay where a whole Battalion of the Inniskilling Regiment landed from ships boats from the Cape-town and Destroyers and helped considerably in the objective by a "pen-soup" fog, despite determined resistance by defending troops, they obtained a firm footing and had complete command of the Shaikwan Area and Shek-O Road, including the defending canteens. The attack at Aberdeen appears to have been in the nature of a feint.

Patrols were posted at intervals along these roads and all passing vehicles were stopped and examined for possible spies. The Shek-O and Big Wave Bay Sectors were remarkably quiet.

At the moment it is difficult to forecast the result of the operations, and the result will not be known until 10 a.m. to-day.

Loo Bros.
SILKS & EMBROIDERY

No. 8, Wyndham Street, Hong Kong.
(Right Opp. Morning Post Building, near King's Theatre)

CORONATION

REDINGOTES
OR HOSTESS GOWNS
Specially Woven
Exclusive Design

A Unique
SOUVENIR OR CORONATION GIFT

ONLY OBTAINABLE AT LOO BROS., 8, Wyndham Street

SALE NOW ON

FROM TO-DAY TO MAY 12.

Special offer of all kinds of ladies' Silk Lingerie of the latest fashion, Swarovski Draw Thread Work, Embroidery and Handkerchiefs, etc., etc.

A Royal Army Medical Corps Detachment on the Taiipo Road, 11 1/4 miles from the city, with Ambulance ready to go to the assistance of "wounded" at a moment's notice. (Herald photo).

MAYEN STUDIO RE-OPENED!

COMPLETE STOCK OF CAMERAS AND PHOTO SUPPLIES

EXPERTS IN DEVELOPING

PRINTING
ENLARGING COLOURING

CAMERA PORTRAITURE

MAYEN & CO.

CAMERA ARTIST, DEVELOPING AND PRINTING EXPERTS.

37, Queen's Road C., Phone 27891.

NAM FONG STAMP CO.

DEALERS IN

EVERY COUNTRY'S POSTAGE
USED & UNUSED

Complete Sets of Jubilee Stamps
NOW ON SALE.

c/o MAYEN CO. 37, Queen's Rd. C.
Telephone 27891.

KING OF THE BELGIANS' VISIT TO ENGLAND

Political Significance Attributed Western Pact Plan
As Incentive

London, Yesterday.

That the visit of King Leopold of the Belgians to London is of prime political importance is the tenor of unofficial statements made in British political circles.

OFFICIALLY, HOWEVER, THE VISIT IS DESCRIBED AS "PRIVATE AND INFORMAL."

It is stated unofficially that the proposed western pact, which vitally concerns Belgium will be the chief subject of discussion, although King Leopold is not being accompanied by any member of the Belgian Cabinet.

The King of the Belgians.

Russians Killed In Border Clash

Moscow, Yesterday.

Four Russian soldiers were killed during a border skirmish, according to an announcement yesterday.

The affair occurred on the Soviet-Manchukuo border near Tungshing, when Manchukuo raiders clashed with a Soviet patrol.—Trans-Ocean.

It is understood that King Leopold's declaration of Belgian neutrality last October must be fully understood before the British Government's answer to the last German Note can be drafted.

King Leopold is arriving in London on Monday and will return to Brussels on Thursday.

The Belgian Ambassador in London, Baron de Marchienne, will give a banquet in honour of the monarch, at which he will have the opportunity of meeting high British officials.

Guest of the King

On Wednesday King Leopold will be the guest of King George. It will be the first time since his accession that King George has met the monarch of another country.—Trans-Ocean.

British Army To Stay In India

London, Yesterday.

There will be no substitution of British troops in India, by Indian native troops.

So declared General Sir Robert Cassels, Commander-in-Chief in India, at the meeting of the Indian State Council yesterday.

Admitting that employment of native troops would result in considerable reduction in military expenditure, General Cassels said that the prime object of the British Administration was the maintenance of law and order, and that was best accomplished with British troops.

A resolution demanding speeding up of Indianisation of the Army in India was defeated.—Trans-Ocean.

IL DUCE VISITS GHETTO

"Roman Political Tolerance"

Rome, Yesterday.

Signor Mussolini's visit to the Ghetto quarter of Tripoli is interpreted by the Italian press as proof of the Duce's "generous and truly Roman political tolerance."

The Duce, says the press, "respects the race and faith of all those who show themselves to be good citizens."

"Popolo di Roma" declares that the welcoming addresses of the Cadi before the mosque and the Rabbis at the entrance to the ghetto are conclusive proof of the "open understanding and intellectual superiority of Italy, since she does not fear peoples of a different race and belief and therefore neither isolates, persecutes or tyrannises them."—Trans-Ocean.

CLICHY RIOTS FUNERAL Government Bans Demonstration

Paris, Yesterday.

In order to prevent repetition of the disorders that occurred at Clichy, the Government has banned the holding of public meetings.

Leftists had planned to demonstrate during the funeral on Sunday of the victims of the Clichy rioting but this demonstration will probably not be held.—Trans-Ocean.

CHAMBER DEBATE

Paris, Yesterday.

Attempts to provoke discussion in the Chamber of Deputies yesterday of the events at Clichy earlier in the week have been postponed till next Tuesday.

The Premier, M. Leon Blum, will himself address the Chamber on the riots and after a formal declaration will leave the Chamber to vote on a motion of confidence in the policy of the Popular Front.

NO SUPPRESSION

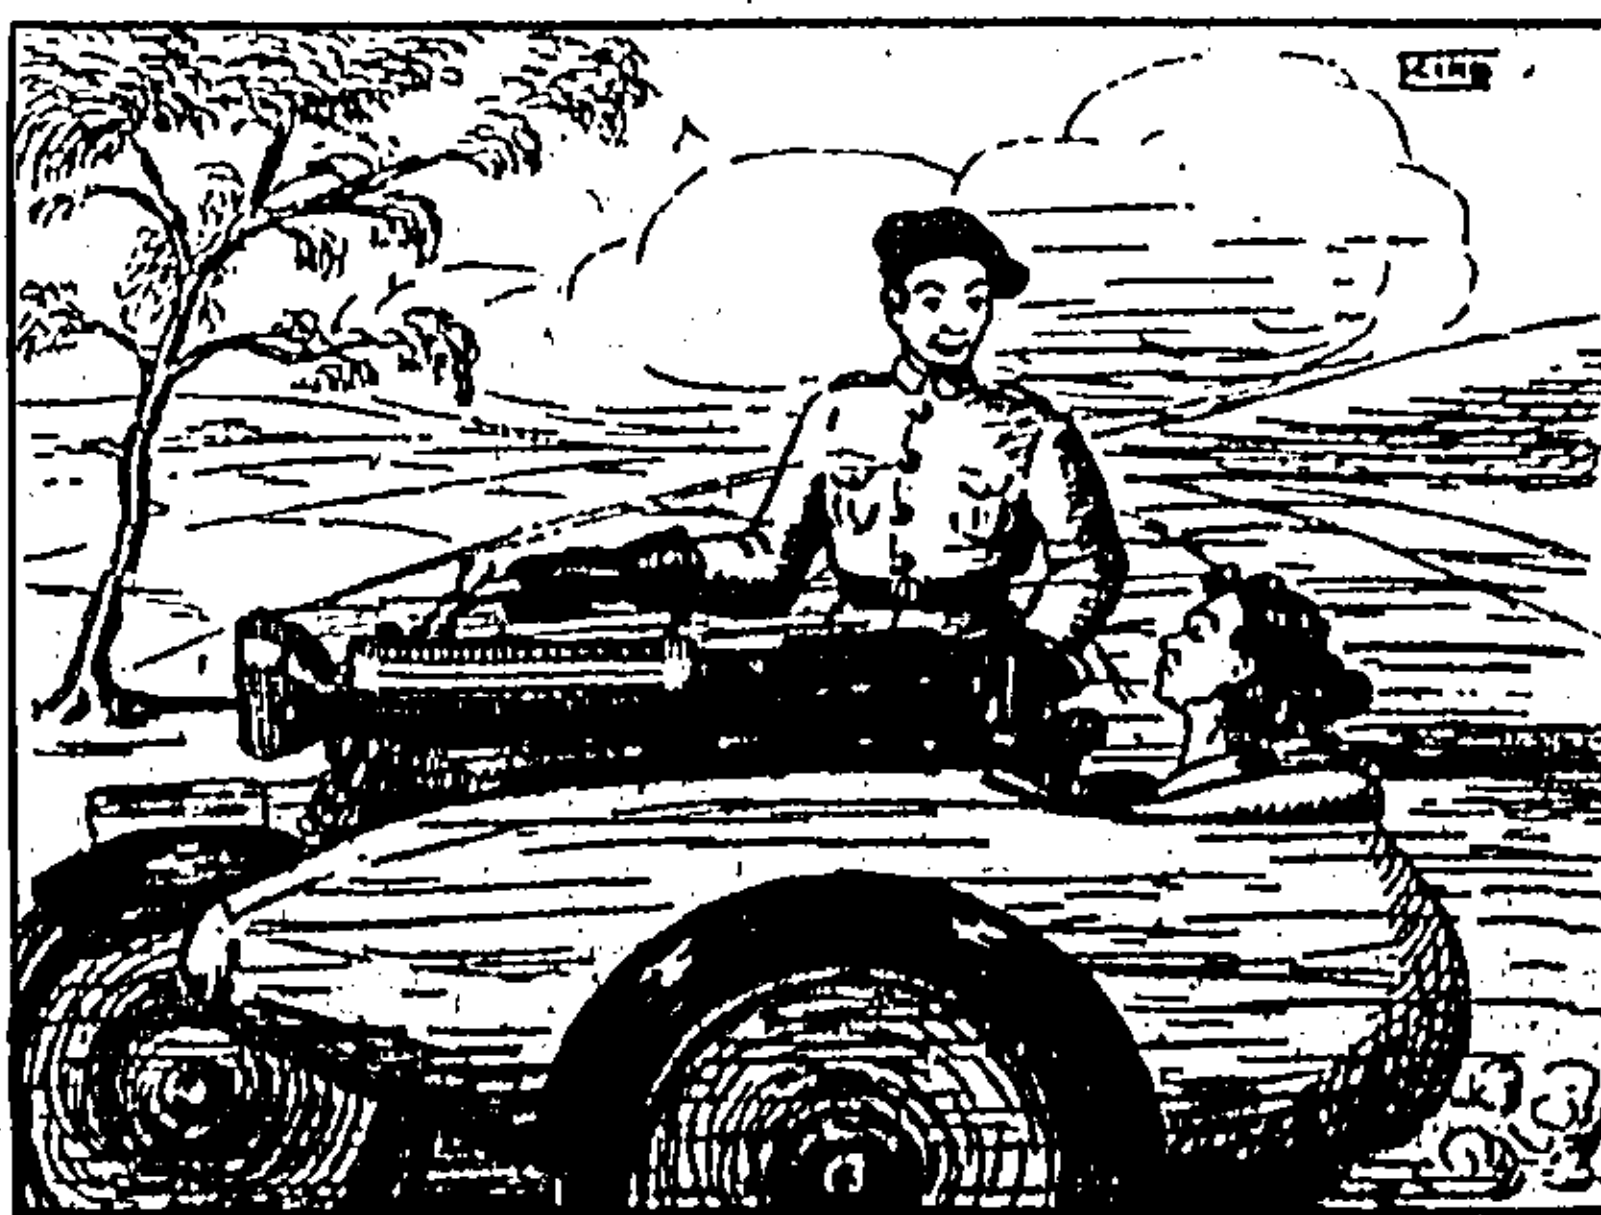

M. Blum yesterday declared in the Chamber that he flatly refused to consider the demand of the Communist Party that the party, headed by Colonel de La Rocque, be suppressed.

M. Blum stated that the Party had been formed, and was being maintained, entirely in accordance with the law.—Trans-Ocean.

EMPRESS OF BRITAIN

The R.M.S. Empress of Britain on her round the world cruise was due to leave Manila at 1.00 a.m. to-day. She is expected in Hong Kong to-morrow at 8.00 a.m. and leaves for Shanghai on Thursday, at 8.30 p.m.

WITH THE VOLUNTEERS

But, my dear, they won't let me take the machine-gun off.

Ukraine's Dictator Deposed

Moscow, Yesterday.

The Secretary of the Ukraine Central Committee, M. Postyschaw, has been removed from office by the Central Committee of the Communist Party, states an official announcement.

M. Postyschaw will be succeeded by the second secretary of the Ukraine Party, M. Chatalowitch. The deposed Secretary has been virtual Dictator in the Ukraine since 1932.—Trans-Ocean.

BUSINESS STRIKE IN WUHU

Shanghai, Yesterday.

Owing to the dispute over the Business Tax between the Government and merchants, a general business strike began on Thursday in Wuhu.—Our Own Correspondent.

Fishing Is Good In False Bay.

Big Fish Are Cruising About

GREYHOUND RACES IN JOHANNESBURG

FIRST IN CON-

JOHANNESBURG

Greyhound racing is a popular sport in Johannesburg. A team of greyhounds from the...

980 BEDS FOR BOWLERS

NATIONAL TOURNEY IN KIMBERLEY

KIMBERLEY

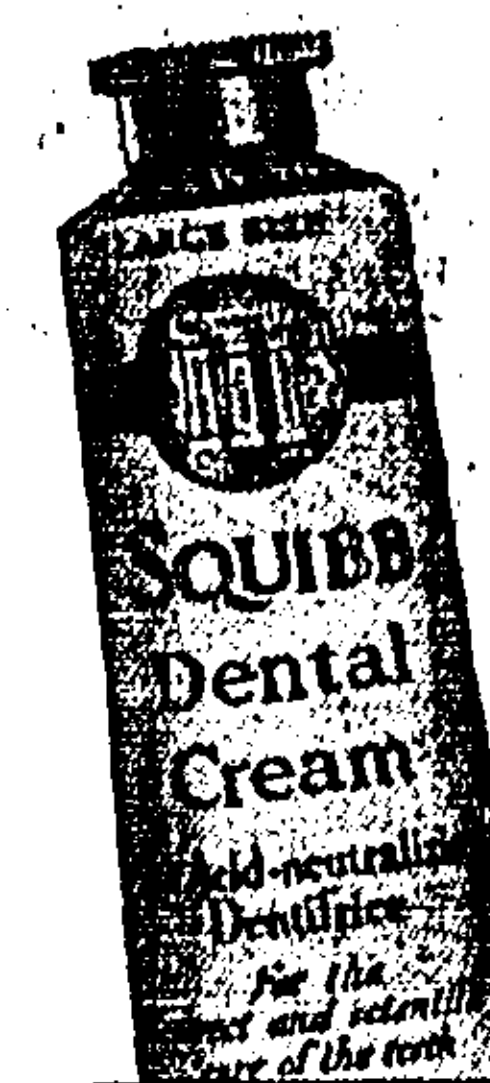

In connection with the Bowling tournament for Kimberley in March, the Union Committee have provisionally booked 980 beds for the players and officials. The date of the tournament is March 13 to March 27.—Reuter.

Sir John and Lady Randles, who have arrived in South Africa from Keswick, England, in the Stirling Castle, are continuing their voyage up the coast to Durban to-day. They have visited South Africa before.

Lady Joseph, who with her husband, Sir Francis, and their daughter, recently visited South...

Starches Sugars

... ENEMIES OF THESE LOVELY TEETH

Starches and sugars tend to promote acids that cause tooth decay. Yet they are present in the daily diet and you cannot avoid them. But if you brush your teeth each day with Squibb Dental Cream you can counteract their harmful effect.

Squibb Dental Cream has a scientific action. It is alkaline and neutralizes germ acids, thus helping preserve the teeth. It also cleans correctly without the use of abrasives, astringents or anything injurious to the enamel or the most delicate gums. Follow the example of millions of people and guard teeth and health with this efficacious, pleasant tasting, economical dentifrice.

SQUIBB DENTAL CREAM

NEUTRALIZES GERM ACID

Obtainable Everywhere.
Sole Agents: ED. A. KELLER & CO., LTD.
(Incorporated in Switzerland).
HONG KONG.

£47,317 SPENT ON TENNIS COURTS

JOHANNESBURG, Friday. THAT the South African Lawn Tennis Union had brought 12 visiting teams to South Africa during the past 11 years, that South Africans had had an opportunity of seeing three world champions, in action on their courts — Borotra, Nijssen, and...

that there were at the present time 130 tennis courts built by the City Council of Johannesburg at a cost of £47,317 for the use of residents of the City, and that the Mayor had given in the Johannesburg City Council in honour of the lawn tennis team at...

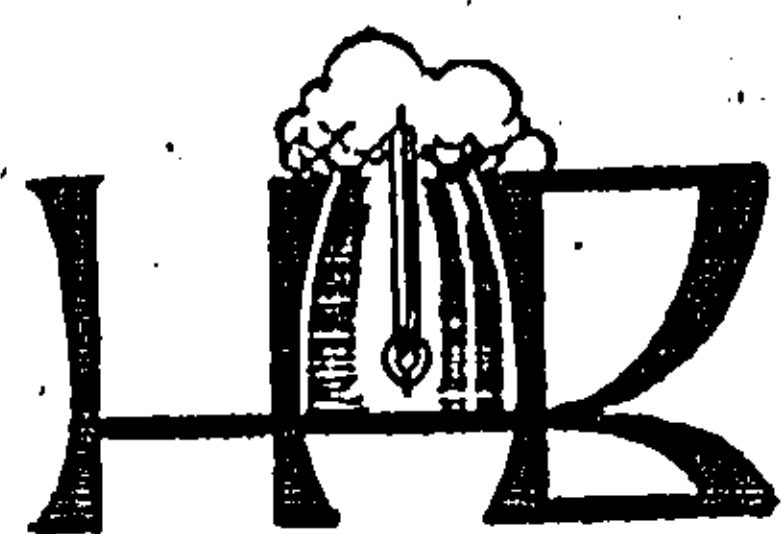

Mossel Bay Crowded with Visitors

You will be surprised how little it costs to travel to Europe via Java and South Africa

MOSSSEL BAY, Friday. history have so many arrived in Mossel Bay and New Year were dispelled when the wagon. speak very satisfactorily the amount of business. Hotels and boarding houses have been full up and accommodation has been difficult to obtain by those who had neglected to book. At the Point and at Die Bakke camping grounds well over 1,000 were under canvas during the first week of the year. The latter camping site has been improved and extended and at the...

K.P.M. LINE OF BATAVIA

ORIENT · JAVA · AFRICA SERVICE

THIS IS ALL WRONG—

BUT—H.B.'s ALL RIGHT!

Obtainable Everywhere

BREWED AND BOTTLED BY HONGKONG BREWERY & DISTILLERY, LIMITED.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS

PUBLIC AUCTION

PARTICULARS AND CONDITIONS of the Sale by Public Auction to be held on MONDAY, the 22nd day of March, 1937, at 3 p.m., at the Office of the Public Works Department, by Order of His Excellency the Governor of one Lot of Crown Land at Repulse Bay in the Colony of Hong Kong for a term of 75 years, with the option of renewal at a Crown Rent to be fixed by the Surveyor of His Majesty the King, for one further term of 75 years.

Intending bidders are advised that immediately after the disposal of the lot the purchaser will be required to deposit with an authorised officer who will be present at the sale, the sum of two hundred dollars, $200.00 in cash. This sum will be refunded on payment of the purchase price.

PARTICULARS OF THE LOT

Locality	Boundary Measurements	Area in Acres	Annual Rental
Repulse Bay	100 ft. by 100 ft.	1.00	100.00
As per sale plan.		17.00	100.00

THE NEW FASHION REMEDY
THE RAPID CURE
THE RAPID CURE
THE RAPID CURE

THE DAIRY FARM ICE & COLD STORAGE COMPANY, LIMITED

Notice to Shareholders

Notice is hereby given that the Forty-first Ordinary Yearly Meeting of the Shareholders in the Company will be held at the Company's Town Office, 2, Lower Albert Road, on Thursday, 25th March, 1937, at 11 a.m. for the purpose of receiving the Report of the Directors together with statement of Accounts, declaring a Dividend and Re-electing Directors and Auditors.

The Transfer books of the Company will be closed from 11th March to 25th March, 1937, both days inclusive.

By Order of the Board of Directors.

J. D. THOMSON,

Secretary.
 Hong Kong, 22nd February, 1937.

THE HONG KONG JOCKEY CLUB

THE SECOND EXTRA RACE MEETING will be held (Weather permitting) at HAPPY VALLEY on Saturday, 27th and Monday, 29th March, 1937, commencing at 12.30 p.m.

The First Bell will be rung at 12 NOON on both days.

By Order,

C. B. BROWN,
 Secretary.
 Hong Kong, 21st March, 1937.

HOTEL

Ice House Street

CENTRE OF TOWN
 UNRIVALLED TABLE
 MODERATE CHARGES

Telephone 26664

CECIL

CHURCHES

TO-DAY'S SERVICES

FIRST CHURCH OF CHRIST, SCIENTIST

(A Branch of the Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass.)
 Macdonnell Road, by Macdonnell Road Tram Station.

Sunday Service, 11.15 a.m.

Subject:—"Matter"

Testimony Meeting, Wednesday, 6 p.m. A Reading Room is located at Bank of East Asia Buildings, 10 Des Voeux Road, Central and is open daily.

10.30 a.m. to 2 p.m.

5 p.m. to 7 p.m.

Wednesdays 10.30 a.m. to 2 p.m.
 Saturdays 10.30 a.m. to 12.30 p.m.
 All authorised Christian Science Literature is available at the Reading Room.

The Public is cordially invited to attend the Services and visit the Reading Room.

ST. JOHN'S CATHEDRAL

Hong Kong

11 a.m. The Bishop.

6.30 p.m. The Bishop.

ST. ANDREW'S CHURCH

Kowloon

11 a.m. Rev. J. R. Higgs.

UNION CHURCH

Kennedy Rd. H.K.

10.30 a.m. Rev. K. Mackenzie Dow.

6 p.m. Rev. K. Mackenzie Dow.

UNION CHURCH

Jordan Rd. Kowloon

11 a.m. Rev. J. D. Maclean.

6.30 p.m. Rev. J. D. Maclean.

METHODIST CHURCH

Wanchai

10.15 a.m. Rev. D. B. Child.

7.15 p.m. Rev. D. B. Child.

EMMANUEL CHURCH

218 Nathan Rd., Kowloon

11 a.m. Dr. H. L. Clift.

6 p.m. Dr. H. L. Clift.

CATHOLIC CATHEDRAL

16 Caine Road

Mass. 6, 8, and 10.30 a.m.

ST. JOSEPH'S CHURCH

Garden Road

Mass. 8, and 10 a.m.

ROSARY CHURCH

Chatham Road—Kowloon

Mass. 6.30, 7.30, 8.30, and 9.30 a.m.

ST. TERESA'S CHURCH

Prince Edward Rd., Kowloon

Mass. 7, 8, 9.30 a.m.

ST. ANTHONY'S CHURCH

Happy Valley

Mass. 7.30 and 9 a.m.

Rev. Fr. D. Page.

ST. MARGARET'S CHURCH

Happy Valley

Mass. 7.30 and 9 a.m.

Rev. Fr. D. Page.

SEE THIS KIWI TRADE MARK ON EVERY TIN OF BOOT POLISH YOU BUY

KIWI preserves your shoes—gives them longer life and always a "high gloss" finish.

KIWI

Agents:—W. R. Loxley & Co., (CHINA) LTD.

SWAPS

SWAP HEREIN NOT HEREAFTER

WILL SELL or SWAP—

- 1—1½d. Silver Victoria 1839.
- 2—4d Silver Victoria 1840.
- 3—40 Franc Gold Piece 1811.
- 4—Commodous Coin 200 B.C.
- 5—2 Para over 3 Kop. 1772.
- 6—Medica Sicily Coin 1699.
- 7—Phillip of Spain Coin 1621.
- 8—Belg-Holl. 1 Guild. 1725.
- 9—Carolus 11 Spain 1785.
- 10—China Coin Silver Tael
- 11—Madarin Head ½ Dollar.
- 12—Collection Old Stamps.
- 13—Several Jade Ring Sets.
- 14—Carved Bone Beaded-necklace.
- 15—Concert Banjo and Case.
- 16—Carmen Piano Accordion.
- 17—Tombo Chromatic Accordion.
- 18—Small Cabinet Victrola.
- 19—Set of 3 Antimony Figures.
- 20—Large Bronze Statue.
- 21—Selection of 2000 old Books.
- 22—Hermes Baby Typewriter new.
- 23—Re-built Underwood 12"
- 24—Old Rex Typewriter 10"
- 25—English made Wall-clock.
- 26—Old Marble Clock.
- 27—Old Chubb Safe & Stand.
- 28—Menrex Electric Switches.
- 29—Large Electric Gramophone.
- 30—Phillips H. T. Supply Unit.
- 31—Solar Electric Hair-drier.
- 32—Large Wall Tapestry.
- 33—Mr. Col. Lecky's Doors.
- 34—Salador Water Filter.
- 35—Old Duplicating Machine.
- 36—White Enamel Bath-tub.
- 37—White Enamel Sink.
- 38—Electric Ceiling Fan.
- 39—Electric Table Fans.
- 40—Electric Table Lamp.
- 41—Electrical Fittings.
- 42—Brass Shell Ornaments.
- 43—Blackwood Joss Table.
- 44—Ladies' Dressing Table.
- 45—Large Chest of Drawers.
- 46—Small Wardrobe new.
- 47—Small Chest of Drawers.
- 48—Enamelled Rattan Set.
- 49—3-fold Bedroom Screen.
- 50—Child's Teak Dresser.
- 51—Furnished Dolls House.
- 52—Selection of 2000 old Books.
- 53—Copy 7 Pillars of Wisdom.
- 54—Copy Anthony Adverse.
- 55—V. A. Graham Library Eng.
- 56—Bentley's Code Book.

WANTED—Will SWAP or BUY.

Portable Typewriters.
 Standard Typewriters.
 Good Adding Machine.
 Large Cash Register.
 Hand Sewing Machines.
 Dover Cook Stoves.
 Gas Range and Geyzer.
 Good Kerosene Heater.
 Kerosene Cookstove.
 Chestfield & Chairs.
 Old Gramophone Records.
 Old Cars For Scrap.
 Small Outboard Motor.
 Movie Camera Small.
 Good Movie Projector.
 Small Cabin Trunk.
 Office Furniture.
 Household Furniture.
 Travellers Samples.
 Old Stamps & Coins.
 Books on all Subjects.
 Copy Pan Kwal Canton.
 Copy Bits of Old China.
 Books by Dr. H. B. Morse.
 Books by J. O. P. Bland.

What Have You To Sell or Swap?

IF THERE'S ANYTHING YOU HAVE THAT YOU DON'T WANT SWAP IT FOR SOMETHING YOU DO WANT. LIST YOUR SWAPS OR GOODS FOR SALE WITH US. WE WILL ADVERTISE YOUR GOODS FREE AND CHARGE YOU 10% IF BUSINESS RESULTS. NO RESULTS NO CHARGES.

CENTRAL SALE ROOMS

11 ICE HOUSE ST.

1st Floor.

PHONE 30761

Foot of Battery Path.

TUITION GIVEN

MISS AILEEN WOODS, EXPERT TEACHER OF BALL-ROOM DANCING. TRAINED IN THE STATES—$30. Remington Typewriter $25. Lessons entirely private. Rapid and perfect tuition guaranteed. Reduced fee for Service Men. Studio 64A Nathan Road, Kowloon. Telephone 58585.

"No More ½ Way Toothpastes for me... MY DENTIST SHOWED ME WHAT PYORRHEA DOES ... now I use FORHAN'S"

Just brushing your teeth is not enough. You must fight Pyorrhea with FORHAN'S—a dentifrice compounded especially for the gums. Forhan's guards the gums as well as the teeth.

Get the two-way protection of this famous dentifrice. Forhan's makes your whole mouth healthier. Teeth are gloriously bright. Gums stay firm and healthy. Start using Forhan's today!

Sales Agent:
 Muller Maclean & Co., Inc.

TUITION GIVEN

HONG KONG FINE ART INSTITUTE—Amateur artist returned from abroad. Tuition given in studio and pupil's residence. Day and evening lessons on drawing, water-colouring, oil-painting (including portraits and all kinds of line arts) commercial designs, etc. Moderate terms. 59, Caine Road.

VIOLIN and SINGING LESSONS given any time by experienced professional teacher at own or pupil's residence. Terms considerably low. Guaranteed rapid progress. Free offer to music lovers playing Violin with Piano accompaniment for enjoyment. Apply: Box No. 402 "Sunday Herald", Hong Kong.

SPANISH, FRENCH AND GERMAN taught by experienced European teacher. Translations made. Moderate rates. ENGLISH FOR FOREIGNER. PABLO LASLO, Hunkow Road 6-A. Kowloon. Telephone 58962.

GERALD SYDNEY, professor of voice production, singing and elocution. Careful development of weak voices, ease of production, purity of tone. Classes held for Chinese students in correct English speech and pronunciation, articulation, intonation, public speaking and debate. Fees moderate. Phone 24413, Metropole Hotel.

LOST

LOST—Local Black Bird answering the name Billy. Reward on returning to Cecilia Denton Salon, 1, Hankow Road, Kowloon.

FOR SALE

FIRST COMMUNION—All kind of articles: medals, statuettes, rosaries, books, pictures, certificates, etc. To be had at the Meteor. Whiteway Building. Open from 9 till 8 p.m. also holidays. Also cheap sale of winter coats, British tailored.

JUST RECEIVED the latest and newest in Lingerie, Table Linens, Cocktail Sets, Evening Bags, Cocktails Mittens, Hors D'Oeuvre sets and many other interesting novelties etc. Gray's Yellow Lantern Shop, Gloucester Bldg. Telephone 27424.

SINGER SEWING MACHINES. Re-built Hand Models with New Cases $20. Remington Typewriter $25. Gentleman's "Superior Quality" Imported Shoes $4.60. Easter Toys. Beautiful Large Steel Safe $75. Smaller One $35. "F.E.M.C.A." Room 321, 3rd Floor, Asia Life Building, 14 Queen's Road.

ECZEMA, Itch, Pimples, Impetigo, Scabies, Hong Kong foot, Ulcerated legs. Regardless how bad or what you have tried and failed. Demand Teofore Eczema Remedy. Get at Sincere's, Wing On Co., The Sun Co., China Emporium, 55 Queen's Road Central or 37 Des Voeux Road Central.

BAND CONCERT

Band of the 1st Bn.

The Royal Ulster Rifles

By kind permission of

Lieut.-Colonel R. M. Rodwell and Officers

SOLOISTS

Anne Winter Soprano

Eileen Hole Contralto

Thomas Gibson Saxophone

CONDUCTOR

H. Alfred Hole A.R.C.M.

Bandmaster

SUNDAY, 21st March, commencing 9 p.m.

at the

PENINSULA HOTEL

(No Admission Charge)

THE HONG KONG & SHANGHAI

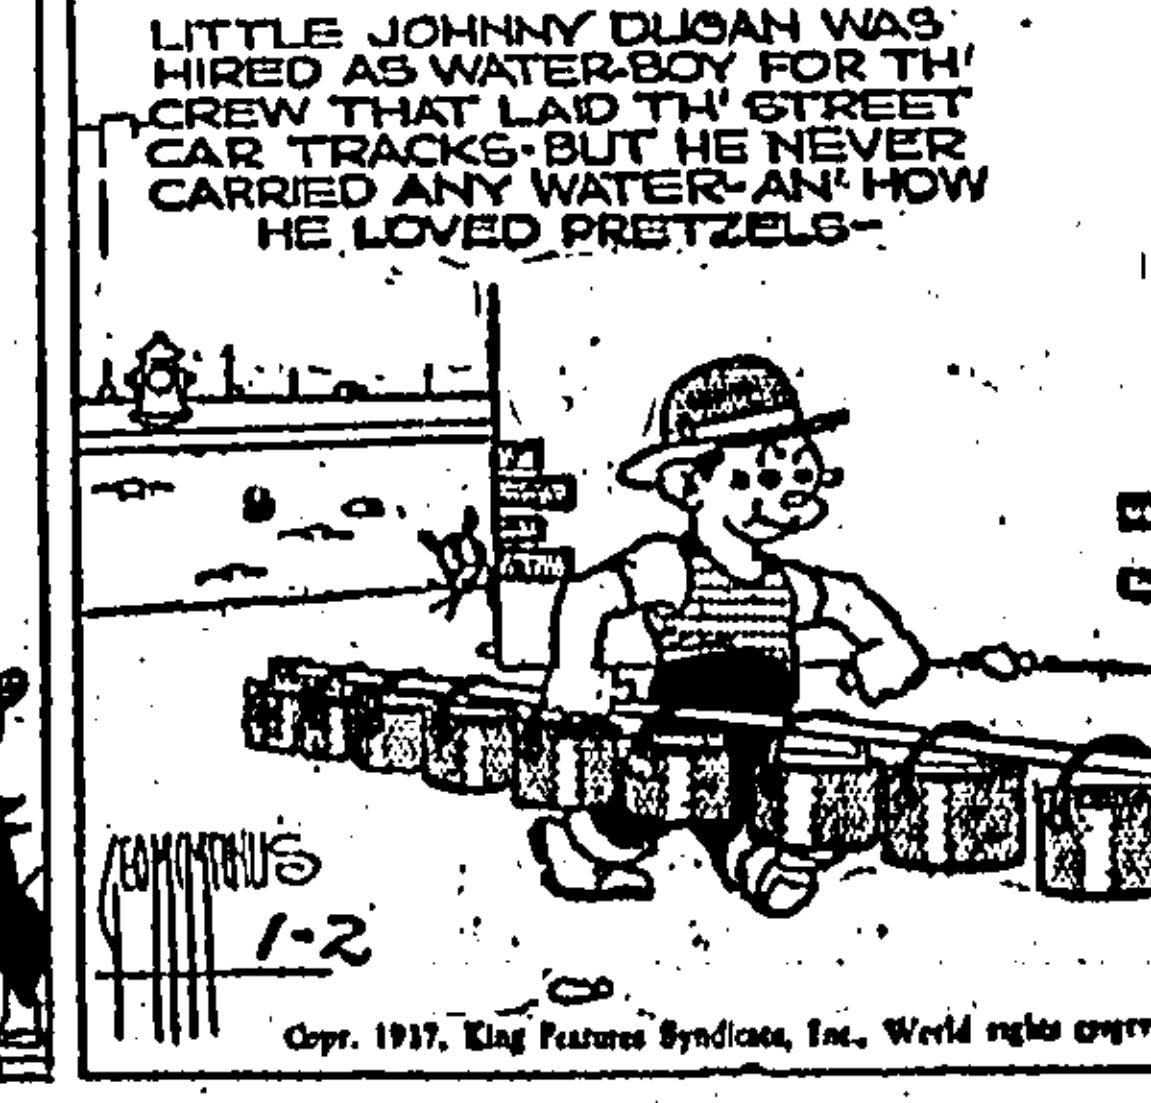

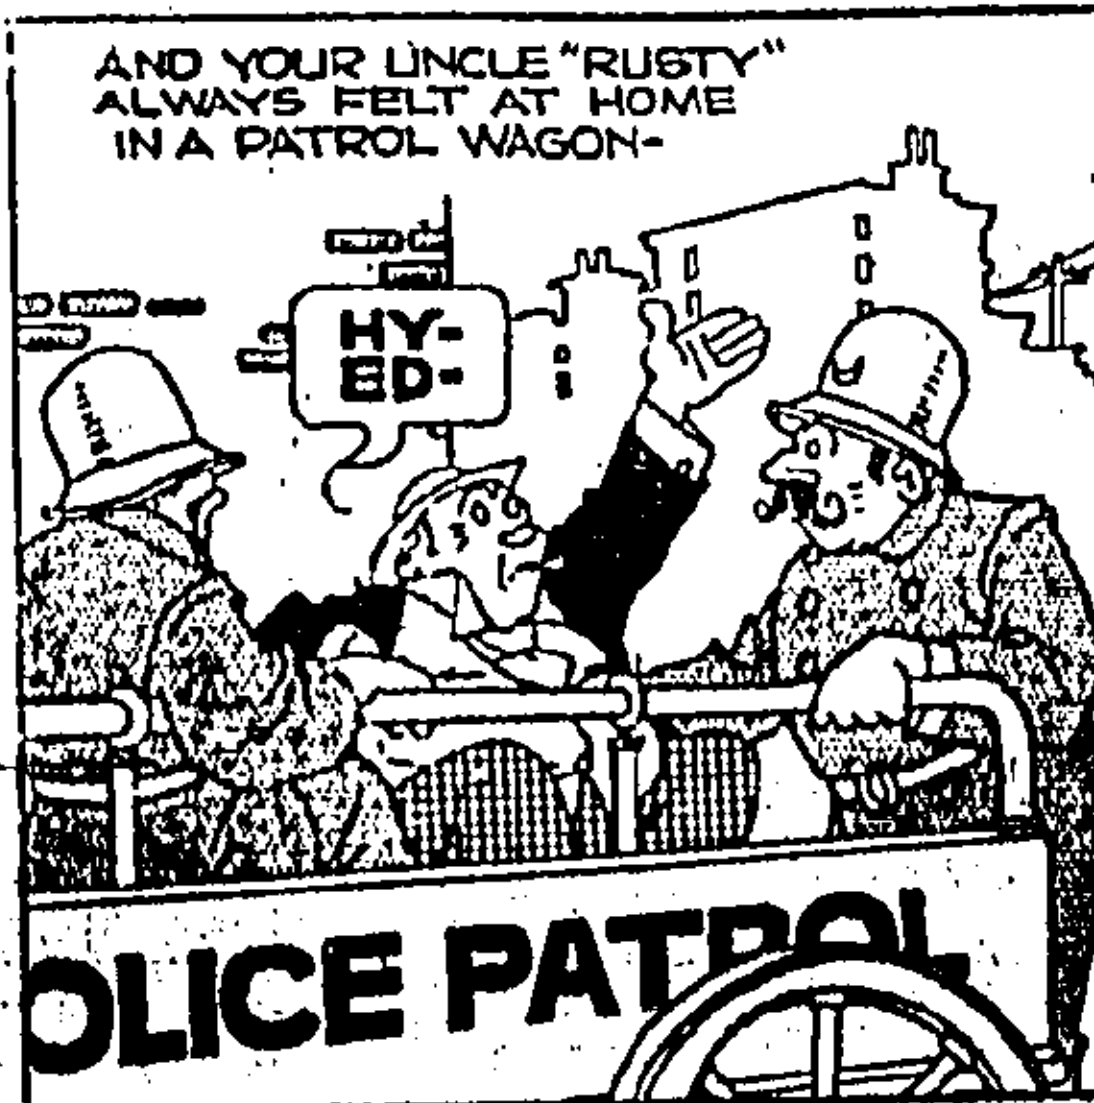

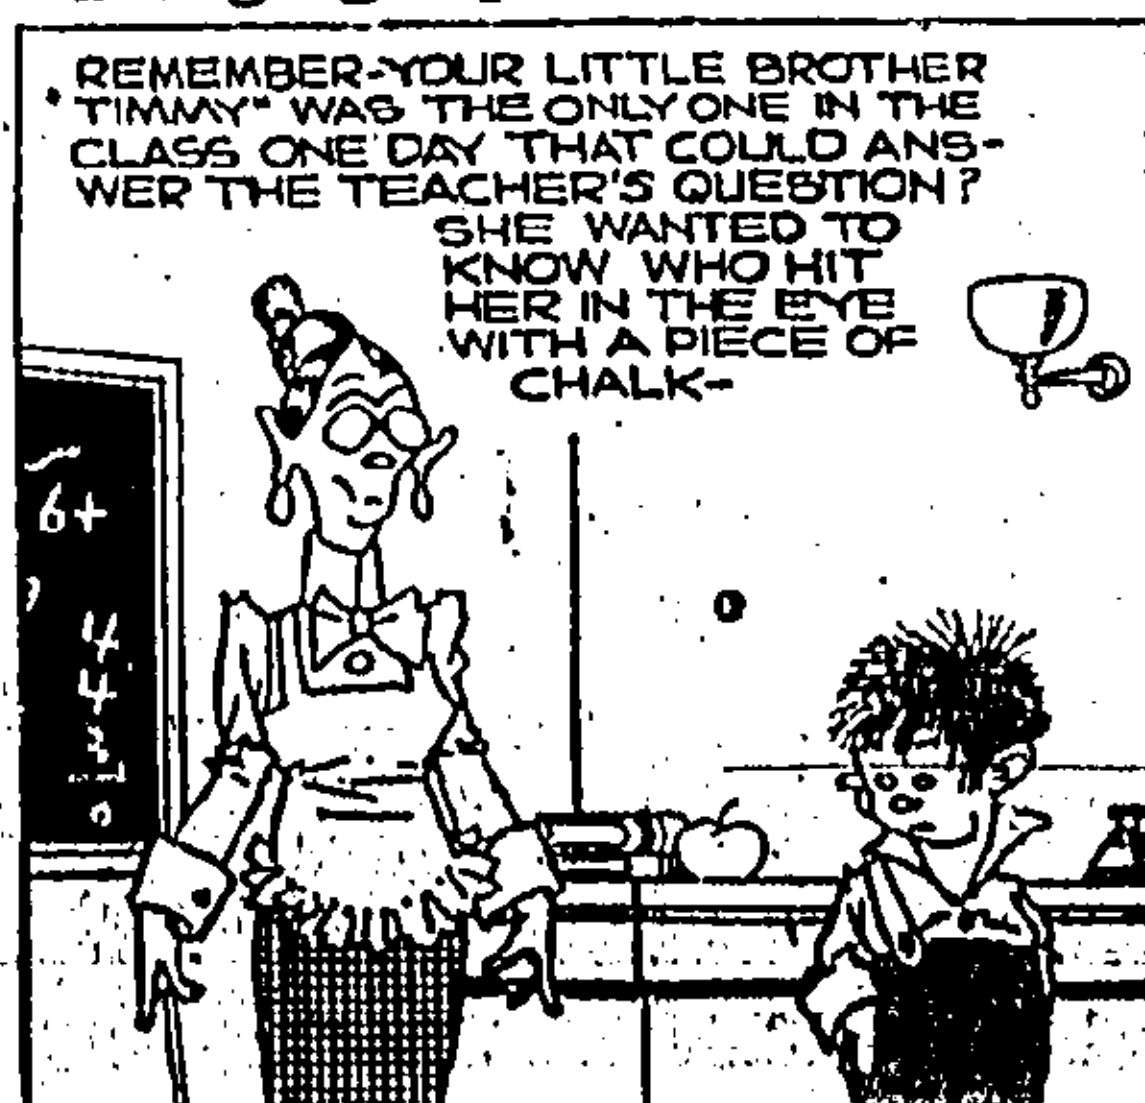

HOTELS, LTD.

TO LET

TO LET—St. George's Building, Chater Road: Attractive Office Suite, overlooking Harbour, and single Offices immediately available. Apply: Lowe, Bingham & Matthews.

No. 30 THE PEAK to let for six months from 15th May, fully furnished bungalow with garden and all modern conveniences. Apply P. S. Cassidy, c/o John D. Hutchison & Co., King's Building.

Bringing Up Father

Copyright 1937, King Features Syndicate, Inc. World rights reserved.

HONG KONG AS AN IMPREGNABLE FORTRESS

Intensive Modernisation In Last 12 Months

G.O.C.'s Revelation At Inspection of Volunteers

That Hong Kong has developed into a modern fortress, virtually impregnable, as a result of the intensive military programme embarked upon during the last year, was indicated by Major-General A. W. Bartholomew, the General Officer Commanding the Troops in China, at yesterday's general inspection of the Hong Kong Volunteer Defence Corps.

The G.O.C. stressed the importance of the Volunteers in the Colony's defence scheme. "If you crack," he said, "or your numbers go down, it means that this fortress may not be impregnable. And IMPREGNABLE IT HAS GOT TO BE."

An excellent turnout of officers and men of the Corps attended the inspection which was made by Major-General A. W. Bartholomew, C.B., C.M.G., C.B.E., D.S.O., at Volunteer Headquarters in two parades prior to participation in the manoeuvres.

His Excellency was attended by his A.D.C. Lt. P. J. Howarth, R.A., and was accompanied by Col. H. C. Harrison, G.S.O.1. The Corps paraded under Lt. Col. R. C. B. Anderson, M.C., Commandant, Capt. G. S. Frizelle, Adjutant, and Capt. H. Westlake, Quartermaster.

M.G. COMPANIES

The first parade comprised the No. 1. Machine Gun Company under Capt. H. Owen Hughes, Capt. E. G. Stewart and Capt. V. C. Branson, No. 2. Machine Gun Company under Capt. H. R. Forsyth and Lt. T. P. Sanderson, No. 3. Machine Gun Company under der Lt. A. Urquhart, 2/Lt. R. M. Wood, and 2/Lt. L. B. Holmes, Battery "M" Section, Medical Section, under Major J. Durran and Capt. J. A. R. Selby, Mobile Column, under Capt. H. G. Williams and Lt. J. R. Way.

BATTERY AND INFANTRY
At 3.30, the following were inspected:—Corps First Battery under Capt. T. Addis-Martin, Lt. M. I. de Ville and 2/Lt. D. Marshall, Engineer Company under Lt. F. W. T. Ross, Troop under Capt. A. H. Potts, R.A.S.C. Company under Capt. J. K. Bousfield, Lt. E. P. Fletcher and Lt. R. P. Phillips, Corps Infantry under Major S. Jarvis, Capt. J. S. Rodrigues, Capt. J. V. V. dos Remedios, Lt. H. J. Silva, Lt. P. P. Sequeira, Lt. J. H. Lawrence and 2/Lt. C. D'Almeida e Castro.

After the inspection the G.O.C. in a short speech said:—

FOUR CAMPS NEXT YEAR
Colonel Anderson, Officers, N. C. Os., and Men of The Hong Kong Volunteer Defence Corps.

I am not going to keep you long, but I do want to mention one or two things.

In the first place you are starting these operations well by such a first class parade. Both numbers and "turn-out" are good. About numbers: I am glad to hear that recruiting is on the up-grade and I thank you for your help in this matter.

Your Commandant is arranging for four camps next year, and I hope this will swell your numbers still more. Remember we want every man we can get, as your Corps is a most important unit in the defence of the Colony. During the last year we have all worked very hard to modernise this fortress and in all our plans you play a vital part. If you crack or your numbers go down, it means that this fortress may not be impregnable—and impregnable it has got to be.

SATISFIED—UP TO A POINT
During this week I have seen some parts of our modernisation in action and, up to a point, I am satisfied. If, during the next 24 hours, you come up to my hopes, that is all I want.

You will only be out for a day or less, but I want you to arrange everything as if you were out for months. In your last "Year Book" I mentioned this and would again remind you that I want you to think about your jobs in the event of real war. What about:—

Ensuring that accurate fire can be opened at any time at a moment's notice? Lines of fire. Reliefs. Organised rest. Cover for men etc.

Also, comfort in summer and winter. Clothes. Food. Water. Mosquitoes etc.

THE NIGHT'S ACTION
I hope to see many of you in action in the next 24 hours and I hope that you will have been inquisitive and found out everything that affects the smooth running and efficient working of your respective jobs, so that if I ask anyone about anything concerning your work, I may get the correct answer. When you get in, on the conclusion of the operations, mind you ask the answer to any question which arose and could not be answered on the spot.

THE VITAL TEST
Lastly I hope that we shall "accustom" most of you to-night; but remember in war there are days or weeks when nothing happens and then suddenly comes the crisis.

Major-General Bartholomew

German Attack On Car Speed Record

Berlin, Yesterday. Dr. Ferdinand Porsche, the famous German motor-car driver, is planning to make an attempt on the world's speed record at present held by Sir Malcolm Campbell with a speed of 301.4 miles per hour.

A hush-hush model is now being manufactured with which Germany hopes to capture the record.

Some newspapers report that the new car will be able to attain the fantastic speed of 385 miles an hour.—Trans-Ocean.

The R.M.S. "Empress of Russia" is due at Nagasaki to-day at 4 p.m. and leaves for Shanghai, Hong Kong and Manila to-morrow at 4 a.m.

Jack Doyle, shown with Judith Allen, his wife and the film star.

JACK DOYLE AND MRS. MARKHAM PLAN EYE-OPENER

Jack Doyle —playboy, boxer, film actor— is planning with Mrs. Beryl Markham, first woman to fly the Atlantic East to West, a record-breaking flight "to startle the world."

CORONATION AMNESTY PREDICTED

An official statement relating to the declaration of an amnesty for certain classes of prisoners on the eve of the Coronation is expected to be made in the House of Commons by Sir John Simon, the Home Secretary, next week.

Classes of prisoners likely to be freed are:—

Political prisoners, like the Welshman recently sentenced at the Old Bailey for setting fire to the R.A.F. Aerodrome in North Wales.

People imprisoned for debt and bankruptcy; and Possibly persons convicted for perjury.

The decision of Italy to send no official representative from Italy to the Coronation, but to appoint Count Grandi, the Italian Ambassador, as Italy's representative, has caused considerable comment.

It was expected until the invitation to the Ex-Emperor of Ethiopia that the Prince of Piedmont would attend.

Count Grandi, states Trans-Ocean, will represent Italy at the

At present Doyle and Mrs. Markham are keeping their plans secret. But it is believed that the flight will be across the Atlantic again or to Australia.

Doyle does not yet hold a pilot's certificate. He is now receiving his first flying lessons from Mrs. Markham.

But nothing is deterring him.

"Mrs. Markham is the chief mover in the project. We are certainly going to make a record flight somewhere. It will be a flight that will startle everyone when we make it."

ACE PILOT

Mrs. Markham, regarded in both England and America as one of the finest women pilots in the world, was taught to fly by the late Campbell Black.

It is understood that a 200 m.p.h. two-seater cabin enclosed machine will be used.

It will probably be of the same type as used by Mrs. Markham when she flew the Atlantic last September.

Coronation ceremonies in Westminster Abbey but not at the other ceremonies which are to be held.

This was made clear in a statement issued by the Italian Embassy in London.

Mrs. Beryl Markham

Race Now A Pleasure Cruise

Jodhpur, Yesterday.

The French airmen, Pissavy and Cornet, who are flying from Paris to Tokyo, arrived here at 7.30 this morning from Karachi and took off again at 8.55 for Allahabad.

Starting out from Le Bourget on March 10, the airmen intended to reach Tokyo within 100 hours and win the French Air Ministry's prize for the feat, but their flight since degenerated into something approaching a pleasure cruise.

They landed at Damascus on March 13 and nothing had been heard of them until they reached Karachi yesterday.—Reuter.

Tang Ham-kin, aged 24, attempted to commit suicide by jumping off the Yaumati ferry, Man Kwok, on Friday but was rescued by a seaman of the motor boat Danny.

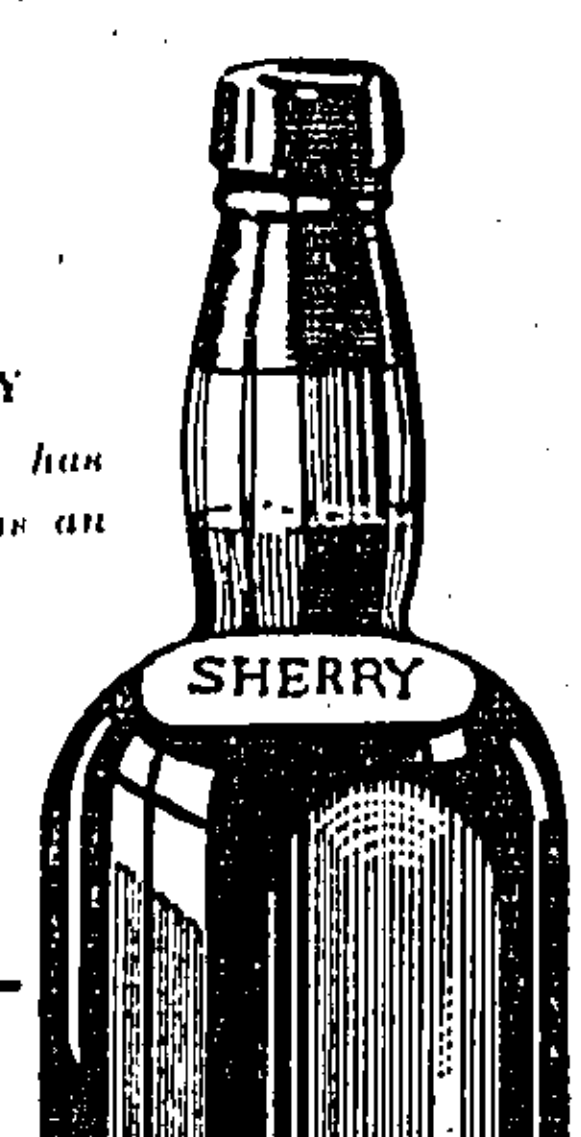

FINDLATER'S SHERRIES FOR ALL OCCASIONS

Obtainable direct from your wine merchant.

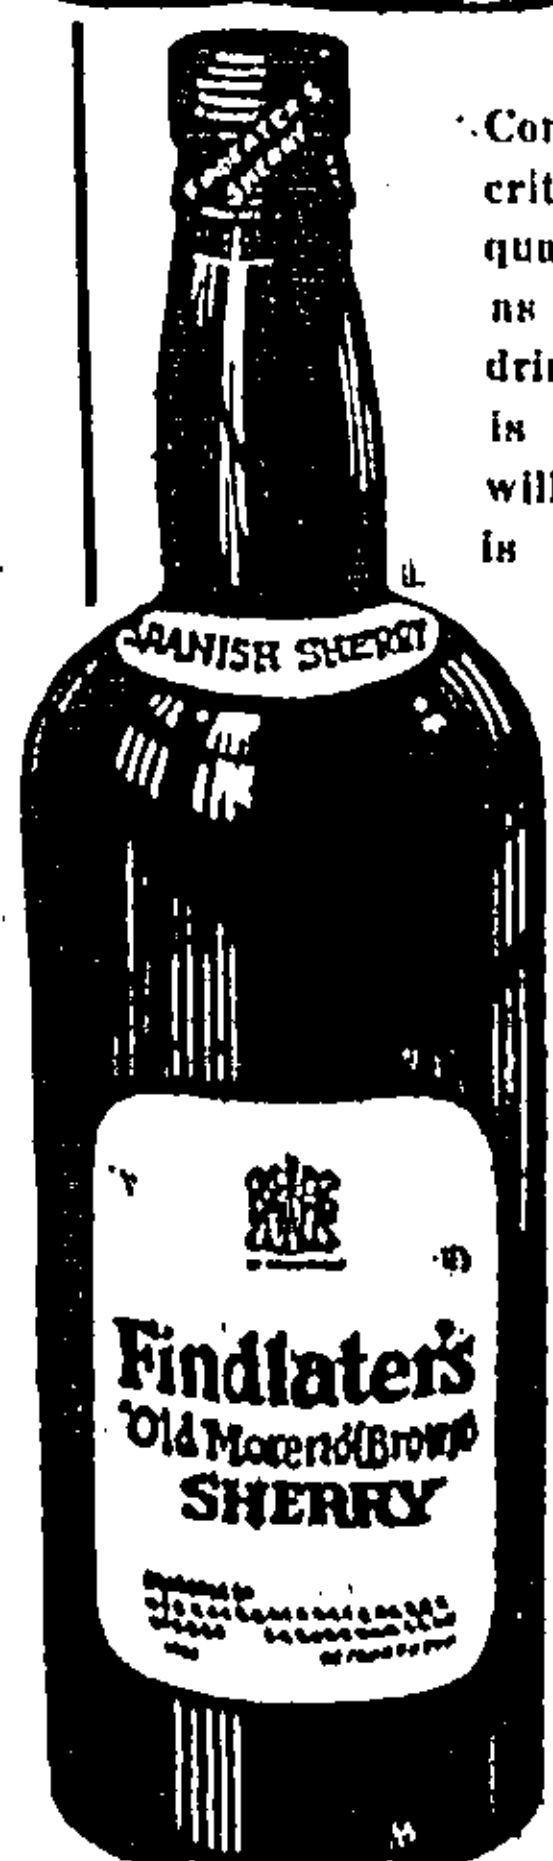

COURT

Medium dry Pale Sherry. Excellent at any time of the day.

PALE DRY
This Sherry has no equal as an appetiser.

Comparison is the only criterion to the personal quality of wine. Good as the Sherry you are drinking may seem, there is perhaps another you will like better and which is not more expensive.

Make the test with a Sampling Case of four of Findlater's Fine Sherries, you will then be able to decide leisurely in the comfort of your own home which Sherry suits your personal taste.

SAMPLING CASE
Containing 1 bottle each of Court $4.00
Old Blend Brown $4.50
Pukka $4.75
Pale Dry $4.40
Offered at $16.00 Delivered

ORDER FORM

Please send me one Sample case.

Name.....

Address.....

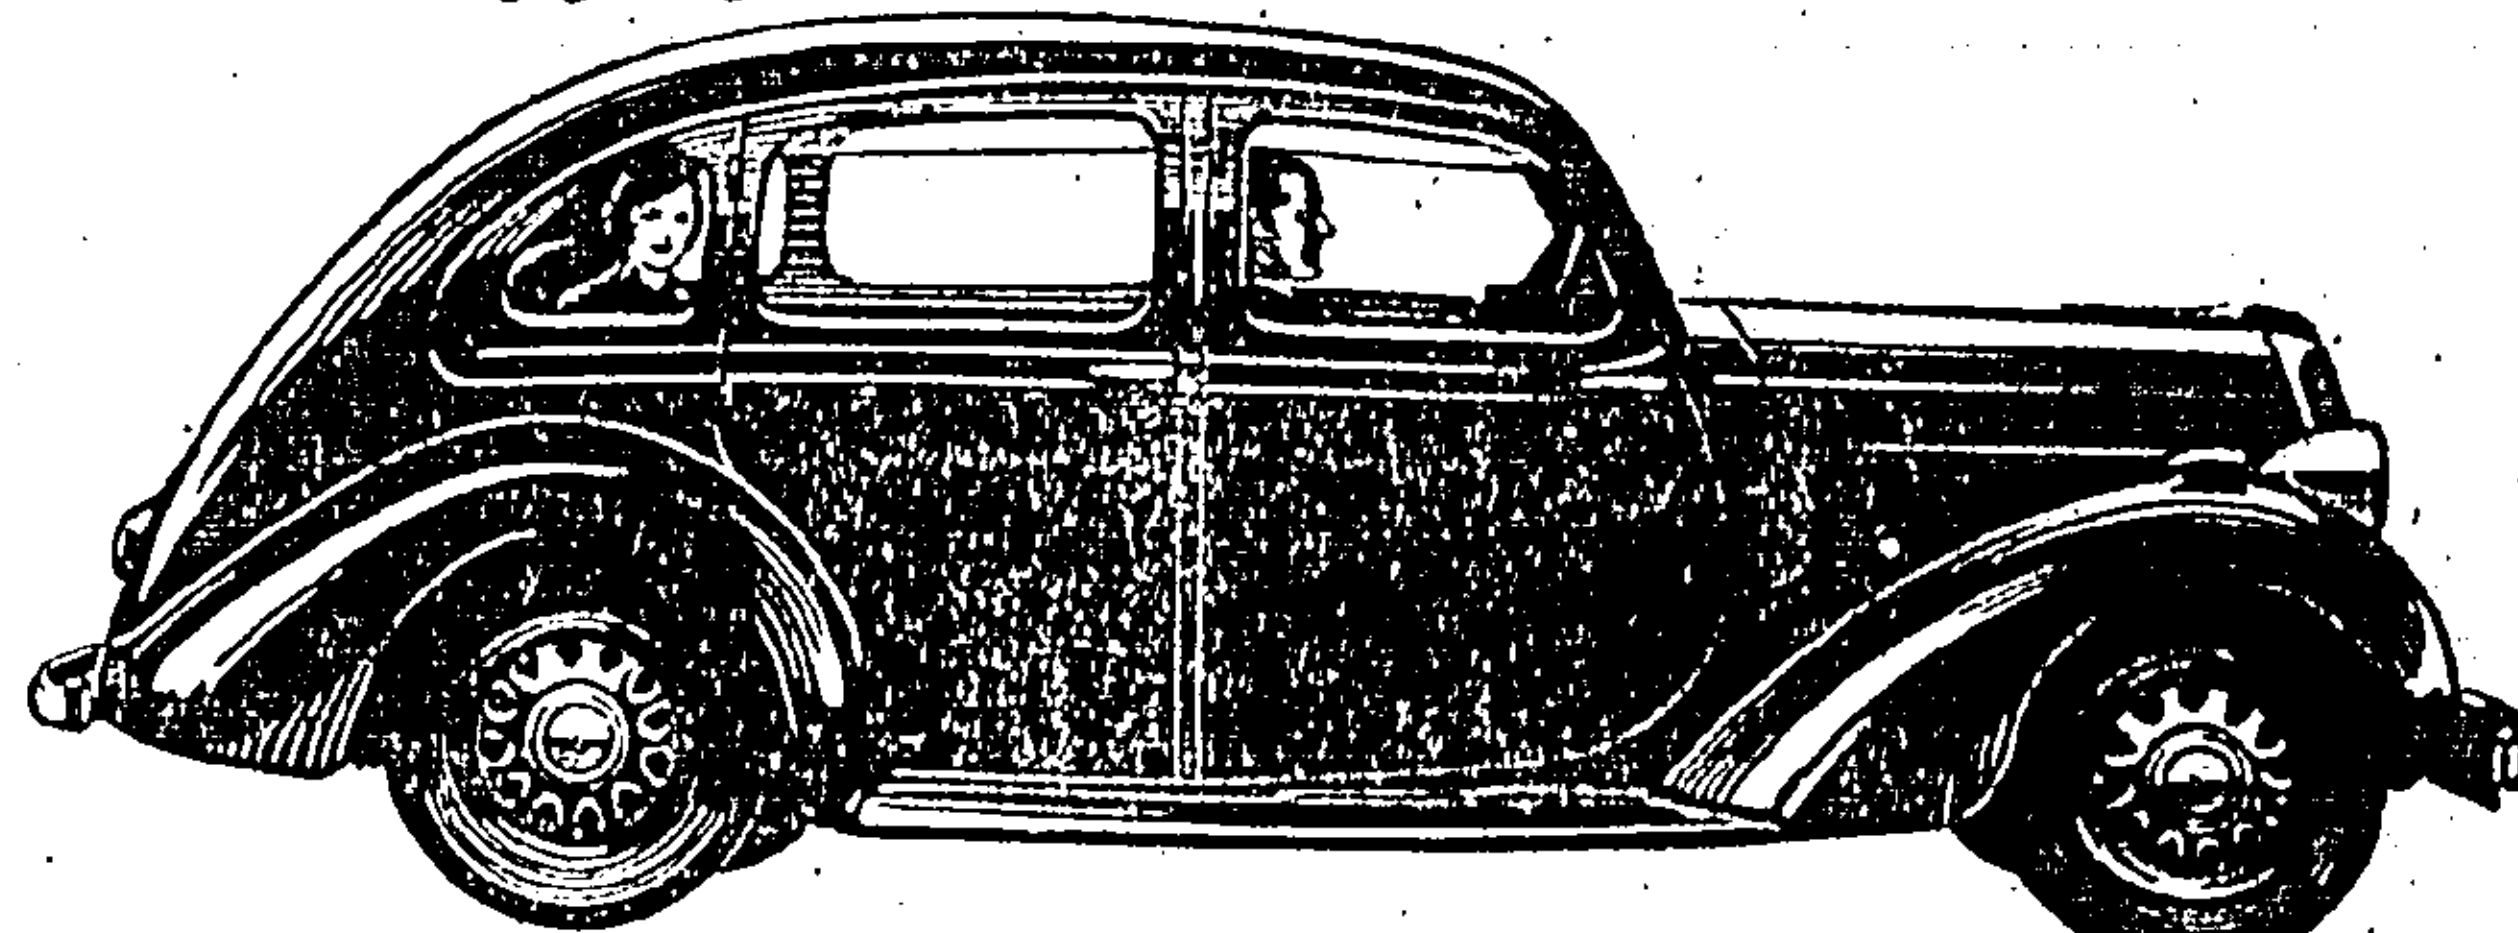

Messrs. Gilman & Co., Ltd.

Gloucester Arcade, Hong Kong.

Of lightest colour not too dry. Nutty and smooth to the palate.

New!

FLYING STANDARD "14"

Beauty, speed and family comfort...

Now Standard have made a 14 h.p. Flying Standard! A new family model, distinguished yet economical—a car of all-round appeal at a moderate price. For the driver—a smooth and powerful 14 h.p. engine that provides an effortless 63 m.p.h.—with a moderate consumption—26 m.p.g. For the family—a sumptuous yet gracefully streamlined body that seats four passengers between the wheelbase. A most luxurious car—with folding tables, adjustable front seat, pedals and steering column, flush-fitting sliding roof, window louvers, four-speed synchromesh gears, etc. Definitely an attractive motor car at Let us give you a trial run. Considerate deferred terms and part exchange. And after purchase service that saves 14 H.P. ENGINE with downdraught carburettor and aluminium cylinder head, developing 49 h.p. at 4,000 r.p.m. TWO COMPARTMENT LOCKER ENCLOSED IN TAIL. "EASY CLEAN" PRESSED STEEL WHEELS HIGH POWER WEIGHT RATIO giving high performance. EASY AND ACCESSIBLE JACKING SYSTEM. Triplex Glass. Oversize Dunlop tyres.

FLYING STANDARD "14"

"Fourteen" Saloon de Luxe ex-Factory £249 .. Hong Kong $280.

Other models £149 — £390.

FAR EAST MOTORS

26 Nathan Road, Kowloon.

ARRANGE WITH US FOR A TRIAL RUN

(Upper left)—A happy group of racegoers at the First Extra Race Meeting at Happy Valley. ("Herald" photo).

Sitting out between dances at St. Patrick's Ball at the Peninsula Hotel. ("Herald" photo).

Among the passengers who arrived in the Colony in the s.s. Cathay were Surg. Cdr. Finnigan, R.N., Mr. D. H. Evans and Mrs. A. Nicol.

Mrs. H. S. Kerby, wife of Wing Commander H. S. Kerby, arrives in the Colony to-day from Shanghai. Her husband is British Air Attache in China.

Mr. and Mrs. N. M. Currie and their two children were passengers aboard the Carthage bound for Home on furlough yesterday.

MRS. Rice Evans is leaving Hong Kong at the end of this month to go on a holiday that will include Japan and Peking. She expects to be away for about a month.

To-day week Mr. S. H. Dodwell is sailing on the N.D.E. liner "Scharnhorst" for England. He will be attending the Coronation as one of Hong Kong's two delegates. The other one, Mr. S. W. Ta'o, is not leaving until April 3rd.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Walker leave this week for England. Mr. Walker is Assistant Manager of the Hong Kong Jockey Club Stables, and consequently will be much missed at Happy Valley.

Surgeon-Lieut. Commander Finnigan arrived last Thursday by the P. & O. "Cathay" to take over from Surgeon-Lieut. Commander W. E. L. Brigham who, with Mrs. Brigham, sailed for Home yesterday.

Among the passengers who left Hong Kong by the "President Monroe" last Wednesday were Mrs. Dana Thomas and her daughter, Miss Faith Thomas. Miss Thomas has been in hospital here for about three weeks, owing to a sudden appendicitis operation which necessitated her being removed from the "President Hoover," on which ship she and her mother were passengers on a world tour.

Colonel Sleeman arrived in Hong Kong by the s.s. "Cathay" last Thursday, and will be remaining here until April 3rd, when he departs by the "Ranchi". Colonel Sleeman is chief Commissioner of the St. John Ambulance Brigade Overseas, and has come on a visit of inspection to the local Brigade as the representative of H.R.H. the Duke of Connaught.

Cocktail parties were more popular than usual last week and among those noticed at various gatherings were Commander Broome, Lt. Clarke, Lt. Mill, Mrs. Robin Gordon, Miss Peggy Humphreys and Mrs. Cavanagh-Mainwaring.

Mr. Q. A. A. Macfadyen left for Home in the P. and O. s.s. Carthage.

Mr. G. S. Hugh-Jones, well-known local solicitor, accompanied by Mrs. Hugh-Jones and their young son, were among the large number of local residents who left for Home yesterday.

Mrs. Coltart, Mrs. S. C. Feltham, Mrs. A. Fay and Mrs. E. G. Renton left the Colony for England yesterday.

Brigadier A. T. Shakespeare, D.S.O., M.C. of the Malaya Command Staff (Asst. Adjutant and Quarter-Master General in command of Administration) accompanied by Mrs. Shakespeare, is en route to Yokohama on the P. and O. liner s.s. Cathay, which left on Friday for the North.

Mrs. Harold Sheldon, who is soon leaving the Colony for England, was charmingly attired in black at last Saturday's race meeting with a stole of silver fox.

Dr. D. G. R. Black left for Home in the Carthage yesterday. One of his offices in the Colony is that of Honorary Consul for Cuba. During his absence, Dr. A. J. Skinn will take over.

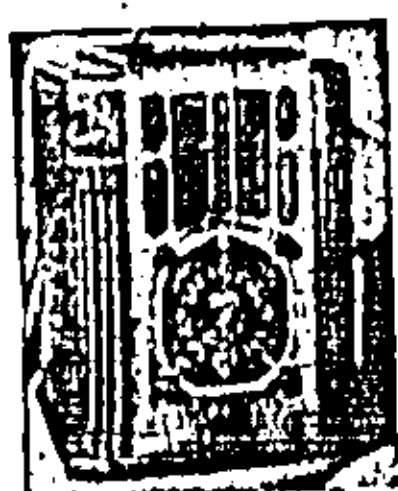

Spotted at the Races last week were Miss Rosalie Alabaster, who wore dainty terra-cotta with a coat of brown and a matching hat, Ina Dunnett in a long dark coat and Miss Betty Fair in a lovely costume of pale grey frieze.

Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Nelson arrived here from Manila on the Empress of Canada.

A group picture taken after the wedding of Mr. W. Sullivan, of the Hong Kong Police, and Miss M. O. George at St. Andrew's Church, Kowloon, on Wednesday. (Y. Yick).

LITTLE NOTES of Great Importance

The Zenith 1937 Radio is "the" one — no doubt about that. The newest in the world — but made by the radio's oldest manufacturer. There certainly couldn't be a finer radio than a Zenith. Visit the INTERNATIONAL RADIO, SALES AND SERVICE, 27 Hankow Road, Kowloon, and find out about it. You may start with a small Zenith and pave the way for an All Wave World-wide Automatic Radio-Gram. But whatever it is, let your slogan be: "A Zenith in the home." There's no end to the pleasure you'll have, for its radio famous for its selectivity, and tone quality. Cash, or terms arranged to suit.

Flowers, light and lovely, are to be worn everywhere this summer, you'll be glad of that when you see the new ones MAIZEE'S have just got in — for day or — for evening, lovelier than ever before. They have in new hand bags too, smart and different, and very summery — all the light shades and plenty of white. There are new hats too and beautiful spring coats and a shipment of light summer frocks. A great deal to see — at MAIZEE'S.

News of the Coronation! The Coronation number of the Illustrated London News has just arrived at BREWERS BOOKSHOP. And a lot of new books this week too! There's "Juan in China" by Eric Linklater — that's one you won't want to miss. And two by Clarence Day "Life with Father" and "After All." Two about China "Can China Survive?" by Hallett Abend and Anthony J. Billingham, and "Shanghai Deadline", a remarkable first novel by La Salle Gelman. And a new one by Maurice Baring too "Have you anything to declare?"

All dressed up . . . and "Somewhere to go" when you have on one of RIVELLE'S new afternoon frocks. I am shy of superlatives, but really it is very difficult to refrain when you look at those thrilling sharkskins and crepes they have just got in, which are the fashion catch of the season. Their collection is brimming over with dresses designed to flatteringly fill every Spring need. Put them on right now and feel their crisply tailored lines.

Baby's kicking away in his play-pen perfectly happy and contented — and I'll say he's lively! And that's all because I keep him safe from all the little worries that usually crop up at teething time, keep him safe from griping, from indigestion, from colic, from vomiting, and all the crowd of digestive troubles so common to babyhood. And how do I do all that? Just simply by keeping a bottle of WATSON'S BABY WATER on hand and using it as a cure and a preventive — its perfect aid. And if you, too, are a young mother you'll be needing it as much as I. What miracles it works. And only 25 cents a bottle.

How fascinating it is to look into the windows of the JADE TREE, but it is nothing short of a revelation to go inside and walk through their rooms. All the poetry, charm and romance of the Far East is there, worked by the master craftsmen of China into dazzling jewellery, lacquer-screens, cabinets, embroidery, glass and silverware. Nothing of the commonplace or commercialised, but all carefully selected by the expert and keen-eyed Mrs. Woods who travels to the remotest corners of China to find these things for the JADE TREE.

PERSONALIA.

Lady Knatchbull-Hugessen, wife of the British Ambassador to China, arrived in Hong Kong on Friday but left immediately for Canton, where she will join her husband. Sir Hugh and Lady Knatchbull-Hugessen, with their two daughters, Ellen and Athelene, are coming down on an official visit on Wednesday.

The following forthcoming marriages are announced:—Mr. Edward Samuel Cunningham, civil servant, residing at Nos. 70-72, Kai Yan Road, Kowloon City, and Miss Constance Lam, of 9, Jordan Road; Mr. Hans Ruecher, merchant, of 19, Lyceum Buildings and Miss Lisl Berna, also of 19, Lyceum Buildings.

Among those noticed at the Races at Happy Valley last Saturday was Lady MacGregor, wife of the Chief Justice, who was wearing a most attractive long slim coat of light brown with a golden fox collar.

Mrs. R. Langley, Secretary of the St. John Ambulance Brigade in Hong Kong, will be sadly missed when she leaves for Home on retirement on April 3. Mrs. Langley has been in the Colony for many years as an education mistress and has been keenly interested in the Nursing Divisions of the Ambulance since 1928. In London, she will represent the local nursing division at the Brigade Jubilee and the Coronation of King George VI.

Honeymooning this week are Mr. and Mrs. A. McKellar, who were married at Union Church on Wednesday. Mrs. McKellar was formerly Miss Cissy Ferguson, well-known and popular in ladies' sporting circles.

Miss Ruth F. Woodsmall, General Secretary of the World Y.W.C.A., passed through Hong Kong on Tuesday en route to Shanghai. She gave an interesting talk in the afternoon at the Chinese Y.W.C.A. in Bonham Road.

Sir Charles George Todhunter, K.C.S.I., a Fellow of the Royal Historical Society and Private Secretary to H. H. the Maharajah of Mysore, one of the richest of the Indian Ruling Princes, accompanied by Lady Todhunter, passed through the Colony in the s.s. Cathay, en route to Yokohama.

Mr. S. E. Edgar is to be married shortly to Miss Dolores Paterson.

Friends of Mrs. Mary Barker, formerly of the Education Department, Hong Kong, will be interested to learn that she is arriving in Singapore on March 24 to take over the duties of Lady Assistant Protector of Chinese, in place of Miss Y. M. Langley, who is coming to Hong Kong for her marriage to Mr. W. T. Rowe, of Negri Sembilan.

Col. V. R. Burkhardt, D.S.O., O.B.E., G.S.O., 1., attached to H. K. Command (Dockyard) returned from Singapore in the s.s. Cathay.

The official party at St. Patrick's Ball. Lady Caldecott is seen seated fourth from right. ("Herald" photo).

LITTLE NOTES of Great Importance

To call it a sale is mild! PAUL RENNET'S are practically giving away all their winter and early spring suits, frocks, hats, jerseys, gloves, shoes . . . even sunshades. All things with worlds of practical wearability . . . and lots of fashion importance. You'll enjoy your visit, it's such fun when everything is marked down to a half or quarter its regular price. That is what PAUL RENNET'S are offering for this is a real clearance sale.

There are a thousand reasons why you should get your groceries at WESSON CO., LTD. This space allows me to tell you only a few and that should be sufficient inducement. WESSON CO., LTD. is the most economical place to buy, you get fresh goods at all times and the best quality available on the market. Fresh and quality food means ultimately your health. So you must go and give a trial to WESSON CO., LTD. for your health sake, and — for your purse too.

A new shipment of spring hats — at MAYO'S all the new styles, all shades, hats to suit all tastes, for the trim and smart, for the stately, for the dainty, for the flippant and the chic. A big choice for you too. MAYO'S always help you to find just the one for your special type. Call early and see these new ones . . . they aren't going to wait for you too long. And don't forget MAYO'S re-model your last year's hats. They do it wonderfully well!

If you are looking for your favourite dispensary, where they so competently make up your doctors' prescriptions and where you also get all your toilette requisites, — of course you know that I am talking of the GRAND DISPENSARY — don't be alarmed if you do not find them at the accustomed place. The GRAND DISPENSARY has moved to more convenient quarters. Still in the China Building, but now in the premises formerly occupied by the Silk Store, at the corner of China Building adjacent to the Queen's Theatre. Only the place has changed; the policy and service are the same.

"Distinction" is the word that applies to the new spring coats at LANE, CRAWFORD'S. Beautiful soft fabrics, and tailored in the new soft manner, not only a high fashion for the new season, but an essentially wearable fashion for Hong Kong's changeable days. The colours are: light grey, nabeige, navy, rhythm blue and black. All definitely new and freshly imagined and as faultlessly chic as you are accustomed to from LANE, CRAWFORD'S. P. S. I never recommend places and things unless I can guarantee your satisfaction.

This week I want to tell you about COLONIAL DAMES Circulation Cream. It is recommended for an oily skin and to help animate a sluggish skin, relieve tired lines, and maintain a youthful appearing contour. Sometimes, despite our best efforts, the blood stream becomes sluggish and circulates listlessly through the facial tissues. Nearly every woman will find occasional use for Colonial Dames Circulation Cream. This formula contains precious balsams, herbs, oils and invigorating essences and works by stimulating the circulation. Action of the cream is evidenced by a mild tingling sensation and temporary "blushed" appearance of the skin.

DIGNITY

To make a funeral service expressive of dignity in its execution, the most expert training and complete experience are required of the director in charge. That our staff is trained and experienced is your guarantee of simple, rich dignity in the rites we conduct at your request.

VALLEY UNDERTAKERS

FUNERAL DIRECTORS & EMBALMERS
OPEN DAY AND NIGHT.

3-5 Hysan Avenue (Leighton Hill Rd.)

Tel. 32979.

Avoid CRITICISM OF OTHERS

KEEP YOUR BREATH
PURE, SWEET

Nothing is more objectionable than bad breath. It causes friends and acquaintances to shun you. It affects your popularity, your social standing. Place yourself beyond suspicion—gargle at least twice daily with Listerine Antiseptic, full strength. Listerine Antiseptic is gentle, mild and safe, yet extremely effective. It destroys all unpleasant odours, leaves the breath sweet and pure. Listerine Antiseptic guards against disease, too—destroys the germs of mouth and throat. Keep a bottle always on hand.

LISTERINE
THE SAFE
ANTISEPTIC

ROOF GARDEN

HONG KONG
HOTEL

A CLASSICAL EVENING
ON TUESDAY 23rd MARCH

FROM 9.30 P.M.

— WITH —

DINA NOTARGIACOMO

DRAMATIC SOPRANO

— AND —

XENIA ZARINA

CLASSICAL DANCER

SEATS $4, $3 and $2.

FOR RESERVATIONS

APPLY H.K. HOTEL RECEPTION OFFICE—PHONE 30281

THE HONGKONG & SHANGHAI HOTELS, LTD.

INTERNATIONAL INVESTMENTS LIMITED.

Every issue offered by us to the public has resulted in Substantial Profits

We are now pleased to be able to offer the stock of

OPISSO & CO., INC.,

at

TEN CENTAVOS

We shall gladly furnish further particulars on request

10, ICE HOUSE ST.
ROOMS 2-3

H. O. ODELL MANAGER

TELEPHONES
34371, 34372

Rev. J. N. Bryan Lewis On

Greatest Drama On Life's Stage

THE hurry and bustle of modern life, makes the observance of the Church's seasons which involve weekdays, more difficult than in the past. The things of the world are more with us, not in quiet succession, but with carefully prepared thrills, by the daily press, and the innumerable distractions caused by frequent posts and engagements.

It is harder to get free from the purely secular, and we do not succeed in doing so when we strive to interpret everything as sacred, and say that there is no secular. For there are peaks of real communion, as well as the drudgery of life in the valleys.

The week which commences today, is one of the peaks. In it we are brought face to face with the greatest week in human history. The events of this week turned the whole world upside down. On Friday the business of the Christian communities throughout the world will cease, in memory of that day in Galilee, when a Cross stood stark against an Eastern sky.

A Pause For Thought

We cannot neglect the call of Holy Week without grave loss to our spiritual lives. The greatest trouble in the world to-day is that people forget the fact that they have souls as well as minds and bodies, and so live only two-thirds of the life God Almighty meant them to live. This week reminds us that there is something else in life besides golf, bridge, racing, the pictures, — all right in their proper place, but so often allowed to become the only things we think about.

Cannot we pause this week in our full round of social activities, and let our minds go back to the closing scenes of the greatest drama ever played on the stage of the world's long life? We shall not be the losers if we do.

The death of Christ was no afterthought. It was predetermined from the first, and predetermined by Himself. The deeper we study the Gospels, the deeper is this conviction forced upon our souls. His name foretold it. His baptism was a prelude to it. His teaching pointed to it. His will was in perfect correspondence with the will of God. He had learned obedience through His 30 years of human life, and He was ready to show it to the end.

A Ransom Of A Life

We cannot understand the drama as it unfolds in deed and speech unless we enter into the fact that He knew that He was about to die, — to give His life a ransom for many.

He began His stay in Jerusalem by an entrance which called forth the wild enthusiasm of His Galilean friends. As they waved their branches in the air they hailed Him as a King, — a term His enemies did not fail to note. Within a week it was hanging as a term of irony above His Cross. He entered the Holy City with their plaudits ringing in His ears. The next day saw Him cleansing the Temple, and recalling those within its precincts to the fact that it was meant to be a place of prayer, not a centre for money-making.

This was somewhat startling, but no less than His rebuke to the hotheads that tribute was to be paid to Caesar.

There is no space to go through the events of this great week. May I suggest that you find time to read them for yourselves again? They form one of the most amazing records in the whole of recorded time. There was, as we can see, a forward import in them all. Looking back now we can see the key to their interpretation: At the time they must have seemed the greatest enigma to that politically intoxicated multitude. He had no thought of an earthly Kingdom, — they had no conception of a heavenly one.

A Waiting And Watching Church

On the Wednesday and Thursday, He passed the greater part of the time with His inner circle of friends, to whom He revealed the future. On them now was the whole future of His mission to depend. He knew that there would be a long waiting time before the consummation of the ages, after His death and resurrection, and He wished them not to be downcast and in despair, because the end was not yet. The Church is to be a waiting and a watching Church. They had to be made to realize that despite all appearances to the contrary all would come right in the end.

As that woman broke the box of alabaster ointment upon His Head, He saw love's homage amid all that was black and grim, and foretold the burial that would follow their hopes, but would yet be followed by a glorious victory.

There followed that supper in the upper room of that cool quiet Thursday night, and we see Him washing His disciples' feet. It was love's sacrament expressed in service. We see Him in the presence of the traitor. We watch Him as He institutes the Lord's Supper, appointing a permanent rendezvous for all those who love Him in a simple meal.

Is It To Be Nothing?

We follow them as they walk through the streets, crowded with pilgrims up for the Feast, across the waters of the Kedron brook, up into the garden hallowed by sacred memories. There in the darkness of such agony as we cannot conceive, He poured out His soul in prayer, in that last hour of high communion with God His Father. As we watch Him there, we can enter into something of what the Cross meant and means, for in that hour He received strength to face His arrest, His trials, and the final scene on earth as far as the thoughts of men were then concerned. The Cross was the goal towards which all led. And from the Cross, His voice rings out across the centuries, moving the hearts of men, not by the spectacle of a just man hounded to His death, but as the Son of God, giving Himself a willing sacrifice for the sins of humanity.

A great leader of men once cried to a crowd of his followers, "I offer neither quarters, nor provisions, nor wages. I offer hunger, thirst, forced marches, battles, death. Let those who love their Country with their hearts, and not with their lips only, follow me."

That was the call of a patriot. From the Cross-crowned Hill of Calvary, His voice speaks to our hearts again to-day. "All this I did for thee, what wilt thou do for Me?"

Is it going to be nothing, and less than nothing, again all ye who pass by?

BRIDGE NOTES

BY ELY CULBERTSON

The Vital Clue

IN any problem of play worthy of the name the solver will be either aided or hindered (depending on his acuteness) by a great variety of clues. As in the modern detective story, the most obvious of these clues are apt to be the least reliable. The vital one rarely is identifiable as such at first glance. The contract expert and, to carry out the analogy, the master sleuth find their success in an ability to distinguish the true from the false. This is not an easy process in either science, but that very fact should add a fillip to the search.

In to-day's hand the declarer based his plan on a clue that would escape ninety-nine out of one hundred players.

West, dealer.

Both sides vulnerable.

NORTH
S—8 5
H—K 10 5
D—K J 10 7 5 3
C—K Q

WEST
S—None
H—A Q J 9 8 4
D—A Q 8 6 4
C—8 2

EAST
S—Q J 9
H—7 3
D—9
C—A J 9 7 6 5 3

SOUTH
S—A K 10 7 6 4 3 2
H—6 2
D—2
C—10 4

The bidding: 11
West North East South
1 heart 2 diamonds 3 clubs 3 spades
4 hearts Double Pass 4-spades
Pass Pass Pass

East retrained himself from doubling the four spade bid as he was not to show his spade holding. Against most declarers this would have been a shrewd measure, and the fact that it did not succeed this time detracted nothing from the strategy.

West opened his top club and East's ace captured dummy's queen. East then made what appeared to be the logical return—namely, his singleton diamond. He hardly could know, of course, that the declarer also had a singleton. From East's point of view the defeat of the contract might well hinge on his getting a ruff of a second diamond lead. When West won with the ace and failed to return the suit, preferring to exit with a club, the declarer settled down to some profound thinking. He knew East to be a sound defensive player and, that being so, the lead of the diamond directly up to dummy's first glance, was completely revealing; with any other holding but a singleton such a lead would have been ridiculous. Therefore declarer could take it for granted that West had started with five diamonds. This would explain, of course, his refusal to return a diamond, since he could count that declarer would overruff East. West also had shown two clubs and from his rebid of heart's at the four level, missing the king and ten, there was no room for doubt that he had a six card suit.

With this count established the rest was easy. Dummy led a spade and, when East properly played low (rather than give the show away), declarer took a first round finesse of the ten spot, and this, with a combined holding of ten spades to the ace-king! From that point the hand was a virtual laydown. The outstanding trumps were drawn and a heart was led up to dummy's king. West, of course, could make only the ace.

A cursory analysis would suggest the play of the diamond king at the fourth trick, with the aim of coaxing a ruff out of East which could be safely overruffed. But it should be noted that, far from being the correct play, this plan would be doomed to failure if East were on his toes. West's refusal to return a diamond after East's urgent invitation was proof positive that the declarer had no more. East then hardly would be such a fool as to ruff the king of diamonds. Declarer could get rid of only one heart, which would do him no good whatsoever, and then, on the lead of the spade from dummy, East could spike effectively the declarer's guns by splitting his spade's honour. He would realize that declarer could not return to dummy for a second

A grateful Sanatogen user writes:

"I am like new-born with plenty of energy and new vitality. It is as if I were now on a new road to health. I regard Sanatogen as a real tonic for those living in the tropics."

New Vitality and Strength for you, too

Many thousands have taken Sanatogen with the result that tiredness and weakness disappeared after a short time. For Sanatogen gives new strength and energy to the run-down cells of body, blood and nerves. Buy a bottle to-day. Your fatigue and listlessness will soon be driven away. You will feel fit and fresh again, full of energy and cheer.

Sanatogen will feed your nerves, and put fresh blood into your veins. Give it a trial. You will be astonished at the wonderful improvement in your health.

SANATOGEN

The True Tonic Food

Obtainable at all Chemists

MEET YOURSELF!

Think it over. Put yourself in the place of the man who interviews you. What does he see? A wrinkled coat, a stained hat, a listless suit... all the marks of a careless job? Not when you're turned out in Zoric cleaned clothes! Perfect cleaning... odourless, greaseless, and done to last longer. That's a Zoric job, the kind of a job that makes a good impression... and keeps up a standard of good appearance!

THE STEAM LAUNDRY CO.

Kowloon Works
Hong Kong Depot

Telephone 57032
Telephone 21279

Relieve Skin Irritations

APPLY.

MENTHOLATUM
REFUSE IMITATIONS

Elizabeth Arden Says—

"Don't feel discouraged about coarse pores."

"Do you think that pore cream will actually correct this condition?" a sceptical client ask Miss Arden. "I know it will!" Miss Arden assured her. At night, after cleansing your skin, pat briskly with my Ardena Skin Tonic. Then spread a little Pore Cream over the areas that have enlarged pores. In a short time, the pores will contract to their normal size, and your skin will be finely textured and lovely.

PERFUMERY DEPARTMENT.

LANE, CRAWFORD, LTD.

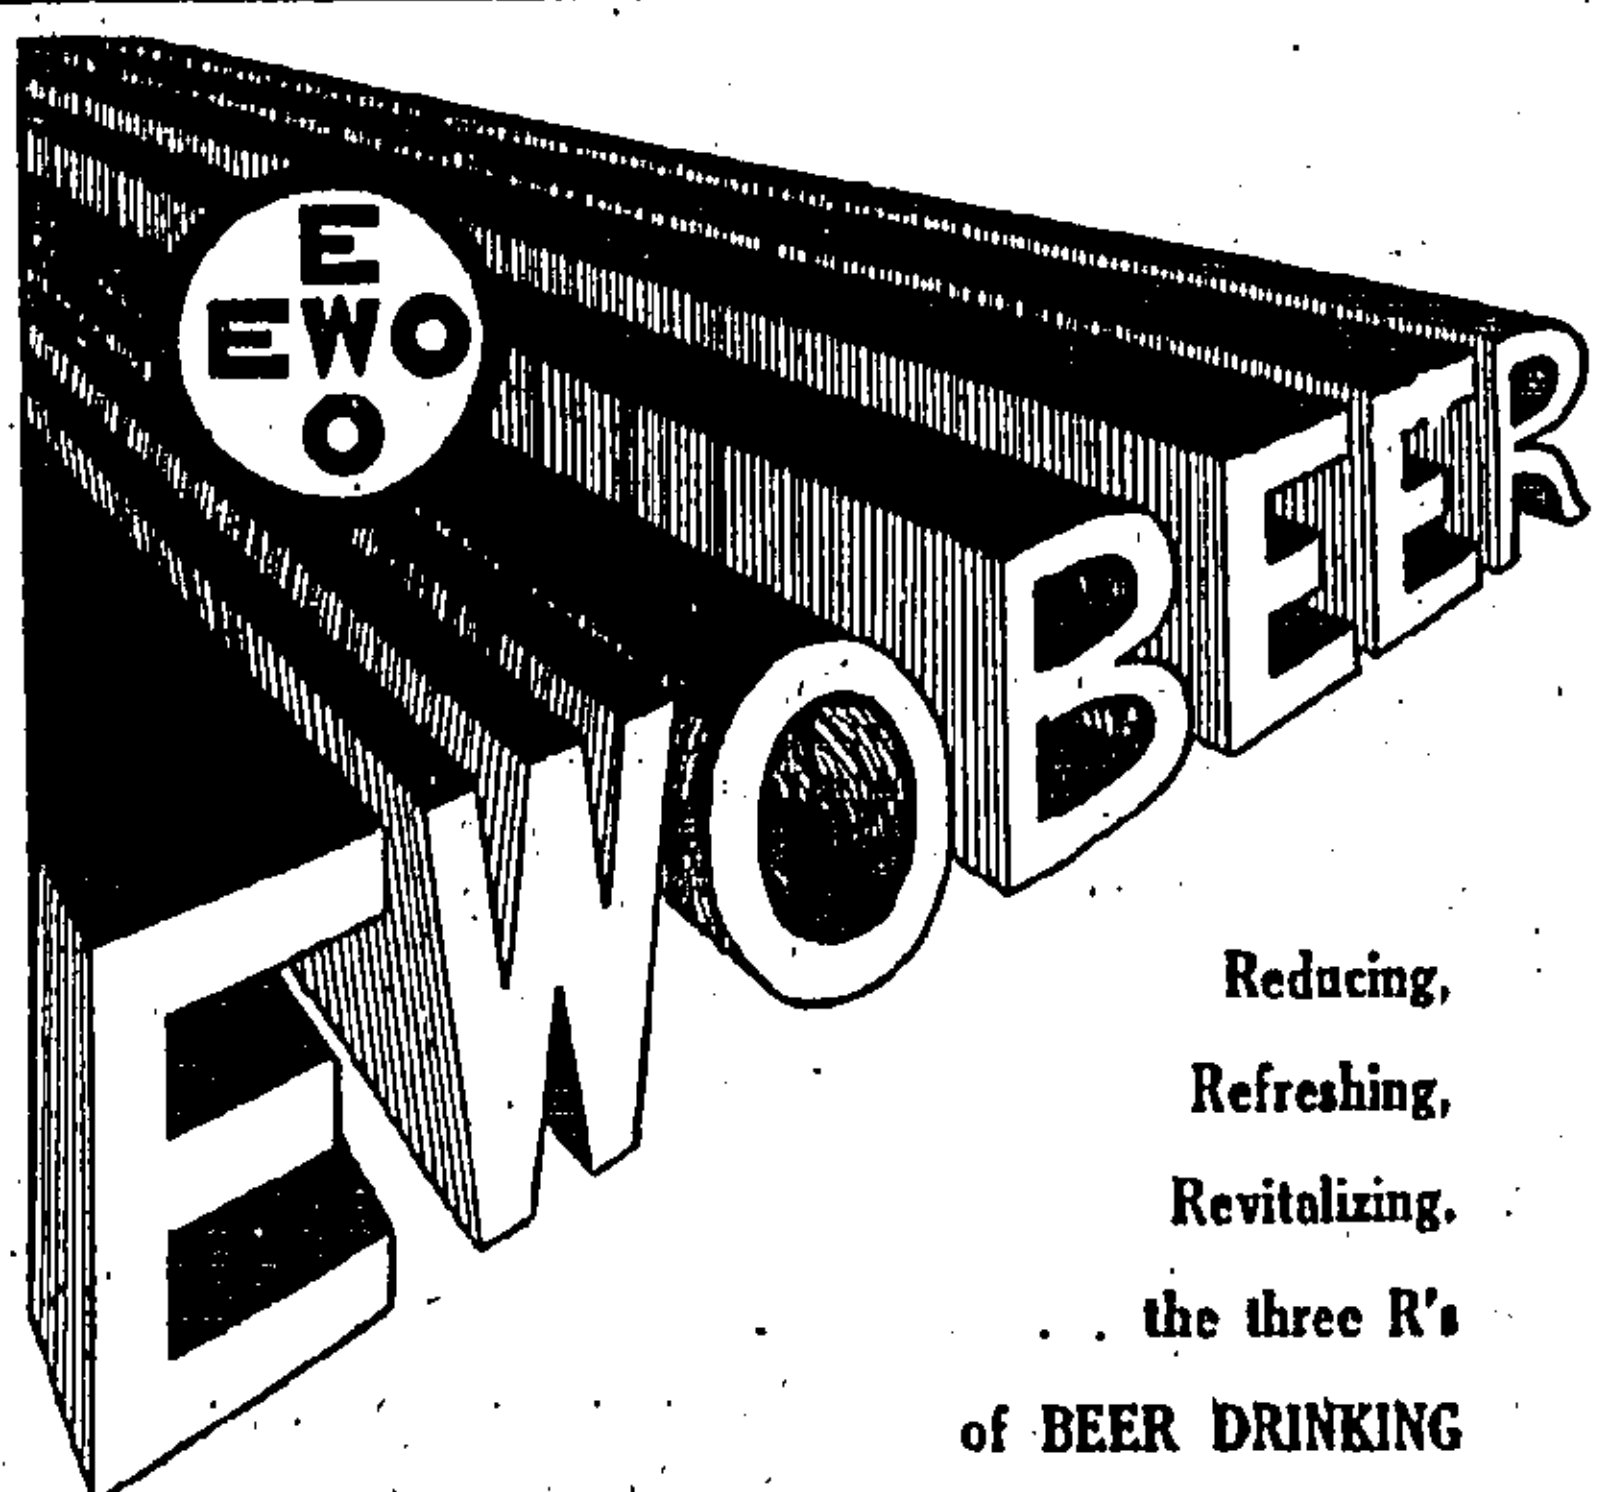

Mullard MASTER-RADIO

EMPIRE EXPLORERS

6-VALVE SHORT AND MEDIUM WAVE SUPERHETERO-DYNE Wave range: about 16.5—51 m., 200—580 m.

In building the "Raleigh", Type X 28, Mullard took special account of the needs of this locality. Consequently it is a fine all-round performer and particularly good on the short waves. Many new Mullard features ensure highest sensitivity, greater selectivity and wonderfully pure tone. Cabinet work is particularly good. Available for A.C. only or D.C./A.C. with the new Vibrator which enables an A.C. chassis to be used on any voltages whether A.C. or D.C.

THE ANDERSON-MUSIC CO., LTD.
ICE HOUSE STREET TEL. 21322.

Reducing, Refreshing, Revitalizing,
the three R's of BEER DRINKING

Brewed by EWO BREWERY CO., SHANGHAI
Managers: Jardine, Matheson & Co., Ltd.

KING'S THEATRE

Under the distinguished patronage of H.E. The Governor and Lady Caldecott

CHOREARTIUM BALLET

By

THE GEORGE GONCHAROFF SCHOOL OF DANCING

THURSDAY, 1st April, 5.10 p.m.

Booking At King's Prices $4, $3, $2, $1.

To ATHLETES
SPORTSWOMEN
& SPORTSMEN

MACKESON'S the Original MILK STOUT gives ENERGY, VIGOUR & ENDURANCE. As a RESTORATIVE it is UNSURPASSED. INVALUABLE in cases of DEBILITY and FATIGUE.

MACKESON'S MILK STOUT and TONIC WATER will be found extremely REFRESHING and RE-INVIGORATING after any form of vigorous exercise.

Price. Per Dozen Pints $5.80
" " Nips $3.40

Sole Agents:—

A. S. WATSON & CO LTD.

The Hong Kong Sunday Herald

HONG KONG, SUNDAY, MARCH 21, 1937.

BLUELAND

WITH half a dozen planes buzzing overhead in the course of the current local "war", and all preparations made for a "black out", one has an impulse to rub one's eyes and decide whether one is dreaming or waking. That manoeuvre are useful, and indeed necessary in the way of training, especially for an "amphibious" defence, is obvious enough. But how far is it possible to realise in peace time what is likely to happen in "the real thing"? The first rejection surely is that if belligerent planes should be buzzing over us the war, so far as Hong Kong is concerned, would have already been won by "Blue-land", whoever or whatever "Blue-land" may be. The victory might have been only tactical, to be wiped out by a subsequent strategic advance, but Hong Kong would be like Bret Hart's hero, of whom it is recorded that "the subsequent proceedings interested him no more."

In the political discussions that turn on the possible or probable conditions that would facilitate such dangerous buzzing we are more accustomed to the mental uncertainty of suppositious campaigns and imaginary retaliations, and there is nothing so solid and obvious, to force us to try to dispel the "fog of peace." No amount of reading in the impressions of stray travellers, or the casual talk of tourists, will help us to frame clear answers to such questions as what would any actual Blue-land gain by blowing up the A.P.C. or Socony tanks in Hong Kong? Under what circumstances is anybody likely to try? If there is such a danger how can it be avoided by a more conciliatory policy?

We have had during the last week the privilege of several addresses from Professor Chang Pong-chun, who looks at Blue-land problems from his own point of view, but of course in a British Colony can hardly omit to take into consideration the attitude of China's neighbours. He is eminently qualified to deal with this subject by his wide reading and travels, but a careful listening to his line of argument fails to leave the impression that any amount of fog worth talking about has been dispelled. Professor Chang quite rightly dwells on the historical fact that invaders of China have failed to establish themselves permanently. But the process of absorption is slow, and modern developments do not allow for a cure that takes several generations. Moreover the whole trend of scientific militarism is to place an ever greater preponderance of power in the hands of a small highly trained force, — as our Dictators have clearly recognised.

The Professor also quite rightly anticipates that Russia, with an enormous territory to organise, is unlikely to be anybody's Blue-land for a long time to come. That will not prevent the dissemination of her infectious doctrines of appeal to the half-starved, and consequent weakening of the power of the Nationalist movement of which he is so inspiring an advocate. If the present position is, as it appears to be, merely a lull to allow Blue-land finances to steady themselves, is anything being done to fill the empty stomachs in time to secure unity before the pressure becomes critical? It is true, again, that "pressure" from outside is a great promoter of unity, but will the pressure stop just at the right degree of persuasiveness? It seems rather a dangerous doctrine capable of an extension to a greater degree of pressure that would not be beneficial at all.

Looking Southwards he sees as neighbours the United States, France and Great Britain, which have just taken common action in the regulation of currency, and hopes that that may lead to combined action on a wider plane. All these Powers are as busy as they can limiting rather than extending their responsibilities. The European Powers are genuinely anxious to help the Orient to develop itself, but the years when Germany at Tsingtao, Russia at Port Arthur, and Great Britain at Wei Hai Wei stood gloowering at each other across narrow seas were very uncomfortable, and not likely to be repeated with a change of names.

Is it really credible that the Young Marshal released the Generalissimo because he had been genuinely converted to his point of view? One would like to believe it. But we have reason nowadays to adopt the current cynicism about sudden conversions. In any case it will be better for everybody, if they can, to aim at a full rice-bowl and no Blue-lands or Redlands.

Since General Goering's visit to Rome, the closer alignment of German and Italian foreign policy has been apparent beyond misunderstanding. If any doubt did remain as to the scope of the common Berlin-Rome front, it was finally removed with the presentation this week of identical notes in response to Britain's Western Pact proposals. Nothing less was sought than the destruction of Anglo-French guarantees, the removal of all stinging from the Franco-Soviet Treaty and the isolation of Britain entirely from the sphere of the mutual guarantees. Clearly implied was a desire to wrap up Western European compactly while leaving Germany freedom of action in the eastern zones. Justification offered, ironically enough, was the desire of Germany and Italy to return to the true spirit of the old Locarno. The sentiment came strangely from the country which tore up the late Sir Austen Chamberlain's most notable diplomatic achievement.

Hopes of a better Sino-Japanese understanding by frank discussion of economic problems with a view to collaboration developed encouragingly from the visit to Nanking of the Kodama Mission. They were as promptly disposed of by Japan's military leaders, who warned Mr. Kodama to stay out of North China. Liberalism in any form is frowned upon in Tientsin and Mr. Kodama's interests were solely the betterment of trade relations, with no thought of territorial domination. The incident confirmed the impression that the position in North China has deteriorated. The fatal accident to two Korean smugglers supplied the militarists with a fresh weapon — and their demand was for nothing short of full liberty of action for "special traders."

The euphemism, a jest for foreign commentators to begin with, becomes more and more serious in its implications.

A mine disaster in Japan, a firecracker factory explosion in Manila, costing 23 young lives, shrank to the scale of minor, if distressing, occurrences with the unfolding of the heartrending story of the Tyler school catastrophe. Six hundred and fifty children and twenty teachers lost their lives in one of the most shocking calamities in American history. Cause of the explosion remains in some doubt for the moment, but a searching investigation is demanded and the truth cannot remain concealed. Heartfelt sympathy will go out to the bereaved parents, but tragedies such as this, of such horrifying magnitude, may well raise enquiry as to the power of consolation.

THIS WEEK

And the air continues full of talk of manmade weapons for human destruction. Japan threatens to make the naval confusion worse confounded by refusing to subscribe to the principle of the 14-inch gun as the maximum calibre for capital ships. One can almost conceive that there is abroad a universal conspiracy to block and cheat every opportunity, however small, that offers even the glimmer of a promise of appeasement. Control of naval building, the elimination of sea-fortress monstrosities, was one such promise. If Japan was in a position to set the pace, her motives might be understood, even if they were not appreciated. As it is, Tokyo seems determined to make April the First her perfect Fool's Day.

General Miaja's confidence in the face of sweeping Italian gains in the Guadalajara sector of Madrid was more than justified by events. As the onrush lost its initial impetus, the loyalists hit back with crushing effect and by Friday, Brihuega, where General Berenguer had established his headquarters, was again in Government hands. The victory reflects the new resilience of the defence as the result of the introduction of unified command and, too, is certain to instil the morale in Madrid's defenders which Burgos communiques have insisted was lacking. Meanwhile, time fights on the side of the Government. There is clear evidence of growing political as well as military unity.

General Franco incurred further displeasure by doing nothing to prevent unrestrained interference with international shipping. The patience of the Netherlands has been exhausted and Burgos has been warned that further incidents will be regarded as piracy on the high seas. The cruiser Java and a submarine headed for the Straits with special orders. It would be odd if after all the trepidation and alarms in the chancelleries of the so-called Great Powers, little Holland stirred up the hornet's nest.

India's National Congress, in conference at New Delhi, produced a political formula which leaves the situation as hazy as ever. Gandhi's peculiar genius for compromise resulted in a resolution which neither authorises elected candidates to support the new Constitution nor unreservedly to oppose it. They will offer to serve while asking guarantees from Provincial Governors which the Governors have no authority to give. The suggestion, apparently, is that without the guarantee, co-operation should be refused. Where their direct guidance is contained in the resolution only a Gandhi could discover infallibly. The likelihood is that opportunism will play an important part in the decisions taken in different provinces.

Mr. Cordell Hull has apologised for Major La Guardia, the Mayor of New York, and not before the step was timely. Acrimony had reached a stage of violence which could only be described as dangerous. People who rightly cherish freedom of speech need to realise that the privilege carries with it certain responsibilities, and that dislike of a political system, however acute, can never justify crude personalities.

SCRUTATOR.

THE PASSING HOUR

By
A. N. M.

THE tendency of sub-editors to refer to Sir Austen Chamberlain as an "Elder Statesman" is itself a sign of the times. He died in his seventy-fourth year, and had retired from office while still in his sixties. The House of Commons which he entered in 1892 was composed, as it had been for a long period, of a small number of men, mostly scions of the big Whig families, who had entered it in early youth, but mostly of men who had first of all had a successful business career and considered sixty the proper age to enter politics. One of the reasons why Mr. Gladstone appointed Lord Kimberley to be Foreign Secretary was that being well on in the seventies, and having had a public career of about half a century, he was safer than any of the younger men. One of the reasons why Mr. Baldwin appointed Mr. Anthony Eden was that he could not reasonably be suspected of being "too old at forty." Which is the better plan?

Political Education

ANOTHER question suggested by his career is, what is the best education for a politician? His father went to a day school and then into an office while still a boy. His first public work was to be superintendent of a Unitarian Sunday School. He learned to go his own way, and to shoulder anyone aside that stood in it. The son went to Rugby, and then to Trinity, Cambridge, where he was in a rather exclusive literary set, which kept well up to date in French Literature. When he had gone down he went over to Paris for a time for further study, and travelled through Europe. Years afterwards he gave a great opening to the more liberal Parisian cartoonists by remarking in a public speech that the "loved France as a man loves a woman." His father had a robust suspicion of foreign statesmen, and expressed his philosophy in the maxim that "he who sups the devil must use a long spoon." But it was the father whose speeches were read all over Europe, and whose views were made the subject of diplomatic protests. They always had an edge to them, — a cutting edge. Politics, even in peace time, are "a sort of a war."

Private And Political Virtues

THE fact is that the son was the embodiment, for good or ill, of "the public school spirit," and the present controversy as to its value could be argued from incidents in his career. He "never let a pal down," — one of the greatest compliments one could pay any man in private life. But what if the pal is letting his party or his country down? That is what everyone saw Mr. Lloyd George to be doing by his pro-Greek policy of adventure with M. Venizelos, which was keeping South Eastern Europe and Asia Minor in a ferment after the Great War, when peace at almost any price was needed. Sir Austen was a member of the Coalition Government, and stood by his Chief, with the result that his leadership passed to Mr. Baldwin, then an almost unknown back-bencher. At an earlier period when Empire Preference was the cause of battle, Mr. Balfour had stipulated that if the Right Honourable Joseph left the Government, he should leave his son as a hostage in the position of Secretary to the Treasury. He could be trusted to be loyal to both. So far as his personality is concerned, he will be chiefly remembered by the letters he wrote at this time almost daily to his father, lying stricken at Highbury with paralysis, in which he gives a vivid and shrewd account of passing events. They were recently published, and it is fortunate that this task was completed. But the public, inevitably puzzled by a new subject, and mystified by Balfour's metaphysical economics, could even less understand how anyone could agree with both of them.

Mannerisms

IN the heyday of Government by Parliamentary Debate, now a thing of the past, there was only one man big enough to combine the ardour of battle with the courtesy of chivalry, — Mr. Gladstone. When Sir Austen first entered Parliament he was selected to move the adoption of the Tory amendment to the Address. The Home Rule bitterness was at its height, and even ordinary courtesy was the exception. The G.O.M. referred to the new member's speech as "a speech which must have brought joy to a father's heart." Those sitting next to the father in question suddenly saw tears running down his cheeks, and he slipped away quietly into the lobby. Neither father nor son was readily given to tears, and in many tricks of gesture and manner they were extraordinarily alike. The eyeglass was, certainly an affection. Having heard both of them speak I can witness that the father, when he had to read one of those awkward quotations from previous speeches of his opponents in which he revelled, dropped the eyeglasses, and only resumed it when he came to make his argumentative point. Sir Austen would sometimes forget to use it altogether. In fact they were absurdly similar, but the son was rather taller. He maintained the old custom of sitting in the House with his hat on, — always immaculately brushed, — and his long legs enabled him to sit comfortably with his feet on the sacred table, stretching across the passage, which few of the Labour members had the inches or the assurance to accomplish.

NEW ROYAL PORTABLE WITH TOUCH CONTROL

3 MODELS TO CHOOSE FROM

The OFFICE APPLIANCE
CO., LTD.

Hong Kong
Sunday Herald

PICTORIAL MAGAZINE SECTION
HONG KONG, MARCH 21, 1937

BOVRIL
banishes fatigue

Shirley Ann, the seventeen-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Winterton of the Prison Department.
(D'Asia Studio).

British Made for Service Overseas

British-made Selochrome Roll Film is thoroughly dependable in any climate and gives consistently fine results, especially in the tropics.

Multi-coated, highly orthochromatic and anti-halation backed, Selochrome is outstandingly reliable for use throughout Britain's colonies.

For perfect pictures with every kind of Roll Film camera, insist on

SELOchrome

EXTRA FAST ROLL FILM

MADE IN ENGLAND BY

ILFORD LIMITED, Ilford, London.

Take Pictures Like This with Rolleiflex & Rolleicord

Rolleiflex and Rolleicord photography is successful with amateurs and professionals alike.

Automatic controls, needle-sharp focussing, actual size view finder—Rolleiflex and Rolleicord think for you.

See them at your dealer

ME.

The New Rolleicord II.

With many improvements, Zeiss Triotar F 3.5 & 4.5, 1 to 1/300th sec. T & B.

Rolleiflex Rolleicord

Health Through Physical Fitness

A Weekly Common-sense Talk

By L. KNIGE,

Director Hydro-Therapeutic Institution, Hong Kong.
This Week I Discuss: "Different Foods and the Theory Of Weight."

TO begin, I shall try to explain very simply the method to be used in producing weight variations, and the part that foods play in this process, for food is one of the chief cause of weight changes in healthy individuals who have no opportunity to dissipate their energy other than by exercise. There are three kinds of foods.

1. Tissue Formers.
2. Energy and Heat Producers.
3. Foods that produce Tissues, Energy and Heat.

Most foods belong to the last named class. Foods to be of value to the body must be digested and taken up by the blood stream, which carries them to the various tissues of the body, where they are either used or stored up for future use. After food is used by the body, waste products result. These are taken up by the blood and discharged through the bladder, bowels and in the form of perspiration. Certain parts of the food eaten are used for the active tissues, and other parts are stored, such as fats. When too much fat is unused, the body is very rarely in a healthy condition. Fat forms in thick heavy layers on the walls of the body's cavities and around the organs. Many women are perhaps too familiar with the "rubber tyre". Fat is also distributed throughout the entire muscular tissues of the body, particularly on the hips, shoulders and underneath the arms.

The tissue builders are those parts which are necessary to rebuild the tissues which are constantly being destroyed, in living, in working, and in generating energy and heat. Destroyed tissue must be replaced.

To do this we need foods containing Proteins, Mineral Matter and Water. Energy necessary for physical effort is produced by fats, carbohydrates and proteins. As an example, when an athlete runs a mile at top speed he burns up tissue, and uses up energy. After such a run should he be weighed, the scales will show a loss of weight. The muscular effort has destroyed tissue. If it is a warm day the body will throw off this destroyed tissue in abundant perspiration.

Balanced Food

What Dieticians call a balanced food ration is one that contains approximately certain amounts of those foods which are needed in order that the natural processes in the living body may go on, and good health may be retained. A balanced ration does not mean that all the necessary kinds of food required by the body should be eaten at the same meal, or even on the same day. It is a good rule to vary your diet as it is also another good rule not to put a mixture of a great number of different foods in your stomach at the same time.

When a person who is too fat or too thin, unless there be some physical disability, it is invariably a sign that they do not eat a balanced ration of food. Generally they eat too much of certain foods. Some of the foods mentioned in the following paragraphs should be eaten for good health but not such large amounts of them, and most certainly not all at each meal. As an example do not eat beans, peas, and potatoes at the same meal. The balance between tissue building foods and heat and energy foods must be considered. Many of the tissue building foods also have a high percentage of heat value. For instance lean beef is rich in proteins, it is heating and energy forming, whilst fat beef is rich both in proteins and fats.

Beans and peas are high in carbohydrates and starches, which are fat builders. They average between fifty and sixty per cent. of their weight in fat producing food elements. Peanuts, and all nuts, for that matter, are high in oil fats. They are very fattening. So beans or pea soups, baked beans, etc. while they are tissue building foods, also are fat producing.

The most fattening food of all, ounce for ounce, is butter. Many have found that by eliminating butter from their diet, they have been able to achieve quite notable reductions in weight. The weight is not lost quickly, but if suitable eating is persevered in, the results are surprising. Nevertheless, should you want to reduce butter should not be entirely eliminated from your diet because it contains elements you need.

Each article that one uses as a food serves a very definite and important part in keeping us healthy. In this article I do not intend to enumerate the benefits of the various types of food. I shall deal with them next week when I write on Weight Reduction, and in a later article on Weight Increase. There is one item of food however which I do intend to particularize, and that is vegetables, for so often have I heard my friends talk "of the lack of variety and nutriment of the vegetables we obtain in the Colony." Here briefly are their purpose. Vegetables are foods containing vitamins essential to life. Some people actually gain or lose weight because they eat large quantities of foods containing little or no vitamins. For example—starchy potatoes.

Green vegetables are healthful foods as they supply the mineral matter the body requires, and are very low in what Dieticians technically term calories. They also contain cellulose matter which acts as a scouring medium for the intestines and satisfies the appetite because it provides bulk. They are largely water, averaging 90% in water content, with a diet of lean meat, eggs, milk, etc. they balance the food ration, yet create little or no fat.

The reason vegetables are recommended in diets for stout people is that while they satisfy the craving for food only a part of them is absorbed into the system. They are largely water, so they furnish the necessary coughage for proper elimination. Elimination is always a serious problem in dieting. The tendency of most diets is to cause constipation. People cut down on the amount of roughage foods they eat until there is practically nothing left for the intestines to eliminate. This causes many intestinal disturbances and has brought into existence an infinite number of cathartic preparations of all kinds. When used regularly these are most injurious and are the cause of much prevalent stomach and intestinal troubles for they draw all the moisture from the intestinal walls, leaving them dry and parched so that constipation becomes chronic.

Potatoes, carrots, beets, turnips, contain large amounts of starch and sugars. They are very fattening and should not be eaten, or else eaten in reduced amounts whilst taking off weight.

One of the most important features of eating vegetables is the amount of mineral contents they bring to the body to replenish the mineral requirements of the tissues and the blood. They have the effect of reducing acidity. The mineral contents of vegetables supply the blood with Iron, Calcium, Magnesium and other minerals that are vitally necessary to health. For this reason spinach and other vegetables are often prescribed for fat and thin people who suffer from anaemia, a disease which produces a washed out, white pasty complexion. Most fat people are anaemic. Most people suffering from simple skin eruption are benefited by a vegetable diet.

It may be interesting to my readers to look at a table giving the contents of the body of a person of average weight, and sixteen elements of which the body is composed.

1. Oxygen	89 lbs.
2. Nitrogen	2 ozs.
3. Iodine	1/4 ozs.
4. Fluorine	3/4 ozs.
5. Sodium	3 ozs.
6. Hydrogen	15 lbs.
7. Calcium	4 lbs.
8. Chlorine	1 3/4 lbs.
9. Phosphorus	2 lbs.
10. Magnesium	3 1/2 ozs.
11. Manganese	1/2 ozs.
12. Carbon	45 lbs.
13. Iron	2 ozs.
14. Sulphur	3 3/4 ozs.
15. Potassium	1/4 ozs.
16. Silicon	1 1/4 ozs.

Next Week:
Foods for Weight Reduction.

Sturdy, happy, growing fast thanks to LACTOGEN
the better milk for babies

YOU can hardly hold him—he's like quicksilver! Yet when bed-time comes, he is off to sleep in a wink. For Lactogen builds strength and vitality, and Lactogen gives peaceful satisfied sleep.

Lactogen is purest, creamiest cows' milk with milk-sugar and cream added to give correct balance. This milk is then put through Lactogen processes which, while they retain all the minerals and vitamins, break up the fat-globules into minute particles, and ensure that the curd is light and flaky like the curd in breast-milk.

Your doctor advises Lactogen, the baby food that is like breast-milk in every essential point. Put your Baby on Lactogen to-day.

Mother! Send for free
LACTOGEN sample & booklet To: NESTLE'S MILK Co.
CHUNG TIN BUILDING
5 DESVORGES RD., C.
HONGKONG.

Please send me a sample tin of Lactogen and a copy of your booklet.

Name.....
Address.....

Mainly about WOMEN

Are You A Lady?

QUEER that in every age there have been people who thought it necessary to compile a book of rules for correct behaviour in what might be termed "good society," instead of trying to instill into the young a natural grace. It is amusing, looking at these books and seeing how they vary at different periods, and how ridiculous they usually are at all periods.

In the 1830's there was but one answer to all pertinent social questions: "Read Mrs. Farrar." Her book of etiquette, "The Young Lady's Friend—By a Lady," became the social gospel of her time. For Mrs. Farrar had been everywhere, she knew the social-literary circle that centred round Boston, more than that she had spent much of her life in England and France consorting with Duchesses, Lords, and Ladies. She knew Lord Nelson.

No wonder the young ladies of America were dazzled. Here are some of her pronouncements on the vital questions with which you might compare the words of such present day guides to behaviour as Alice, Leone Moats and Marjorie Hillis.

19th Century: Never join in any rude plays that will subject you to being kissed or handled in any way by a gentleman. Do not suffer your hand to be held or squeezed, without showing that it displeases you, by instantly withdrawing it. If a finger is put out to touch a chain round your neck, or a breast-pin that you are wearing, draw back, and take it off for inspection.

Accept not unnecessary assistance in putting on shawls or overshoes. Be not lifted in or out of carriages, on or off a horse; sit not with another in a place that is too narrow; read not out of the same book . . . These points of delicacy and refinement heighten the respect in which you are held, and operate as an impenetrable fence, keeping off vulgar familiarity and that desecration of the person which has too often led to vice . . . If necessary to take the arm of a gentleman, be careful to keep within the prescribed bounds. (Mrs. Farrar)

20th Century: In the South where, we are told, chivalry still persists, a lady takes a man's arm on every occasion. But in the North, if a man gives you his arm, it is usually because he, himself, needs support . . . (Miss Moats.)

19th Century: Accepting presents from gentlemen is a dangerous thing . . . it is better to avoid every such obligation . . . When it is the fashion for gentlemen to present bouquets to their female friends . . . it seems more like a tribute to the sex than a mark of particular regard and their perishable nature exempts them from the ban put upon more enduring memorials. (Mrs. Farrar)

20th Century: Flowers, books and candy are considered the only presents which a lady may accept from a man. A jewelled bangle or some similar gift of trifling value may be received without fear of criticism, but expensive jewellery and wearing apparel them but one thing to this cynical world . . . (Miss Moats)

(Right)—Miss Joan MacFayden, who has just passed her examinations for the Brownies' Horsewomen's Badge. She is a pupil of Mr. Bob Charles, of the Hong Kong Riding School, and the only child in the Colony to hold the coveted badge.

19th Century: Since the customs of society have awarded to man the privilege of making the first advance toward matrimony, it is the safest and happiest way for the woman to leave the matter entirely in his hands. (Mrs. Farrar)

20th Century: If you haven't any contacts, put your hat right on and go out and start making them . . . (Miss Hillis)

19th Century: Never condescend to use any little arts or manoeuvres to secure a pleasant beau . . . remember that a woman must not "unthought be won." (Mrs. Farrar)

20th Century: You can be a lot more aggressive than you could have been a few years ago. Things that are taken for granted to day would have made you a hussy then. The best rule is to make your invitations worth accepting and not to care what the man thinks as long as he comes . . . (Miss Hillis)

19th Century: Many are the evils of late rising to a young lady. Her body is enfeebled, her eyes are heavy, her mind is stupefied, her devotions are neglected, her toilet is slovenly and incomplete, and her morning meal is taken alone . . . To begin the day well—it is necessary to rise early enough to perform all the ablutions necessary . . . and to be neatly and completely dressed before breakfast. (Mrs. Farrar)

20th Century: Of course, the only civilized place for any woman to have breakfast is in bed. There is, of course, the chance that you are one of those who . . . spring lightly out of bed with a song on your lips in the early morning—but in that case, you will have flung this book out of the window with something very different from a song long before this . . . (Miss Hillis)

Philippa

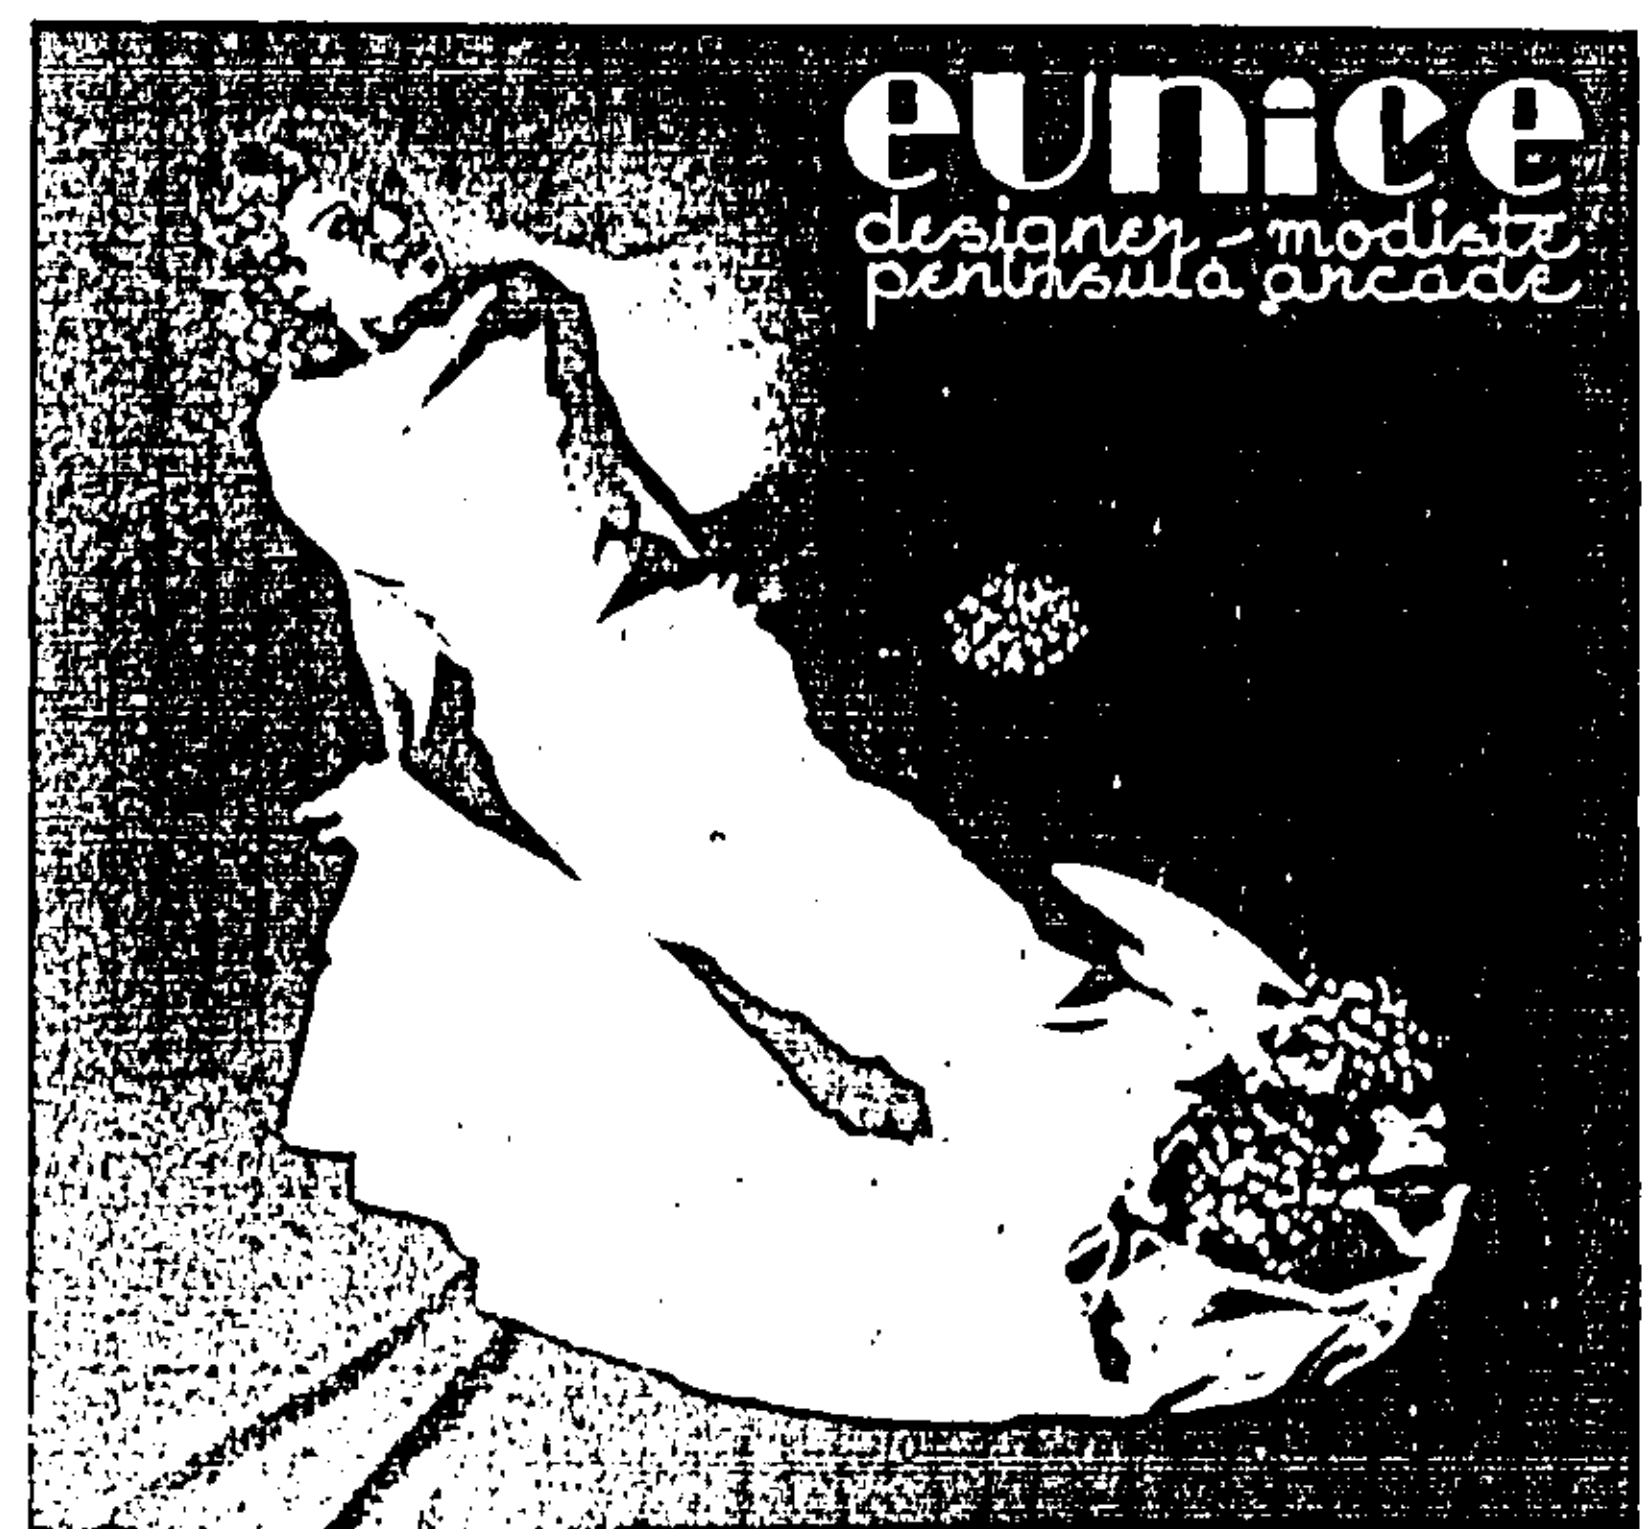

AGAINST

OBESITY
SLUGGISHNESS RHEUMATISM
SCIATICA LUMBAGO NEURALGIA OR RUNDOWN CONDITION

PROTECT YOURSELF
by RADIUM-HYDRO-THERAPEUTIC TREATMENTS

L. KNIGE
HONG KONG
KING'S BLDG.
Near Star Ferry
3rd Floor, Tel. 32613

Since when have
YOU been using GIBBS!

Gibbs-cleaned teeth are shining-white, clean-gleaming—for Gibbs Dentifrice is the scientifically perfect tooth cleanser. Fragrant, fresh-flavoured, Gibbs Dentifrice penetrates to every corner of the mouth, cleansing every tooth surface perfectly, yet so gently that there is no slightest risk to delicate enamel. For teeth really clean, mouth thoroughly refreshed—CHANGE TO GIBBS TODAY.

Your Teeth are Ivory Castles—defend them with

Gibbs DENTIFRICE

Obtainable from all Dealers.
John D. Hutchison & Co., Hong Kong.

Where MYSTERIOUS BLINDNESS is DOOMING whole COMMUNITIES

By JACK HOWELL

THE land of eternal darkness!

This is no mere attempt to become poetic when used in reference to a large area in southern Mexico. For, unlike H. G. Wells' novel, "The Country of the Blind," such a land exists in reality, and not just in imagination, in the Mexican states of Oaxaca, Chiapas, and Guerrero.

There have been recently verified reports of an epidemic of blindness in several isolated districts in these southern states. In some villages all the natives are either totally blind or doomed soon to become so. The malady is increasing so rapidly in these areas that the Mexican government has become alarmed, and is making every effort to stamp it out. But

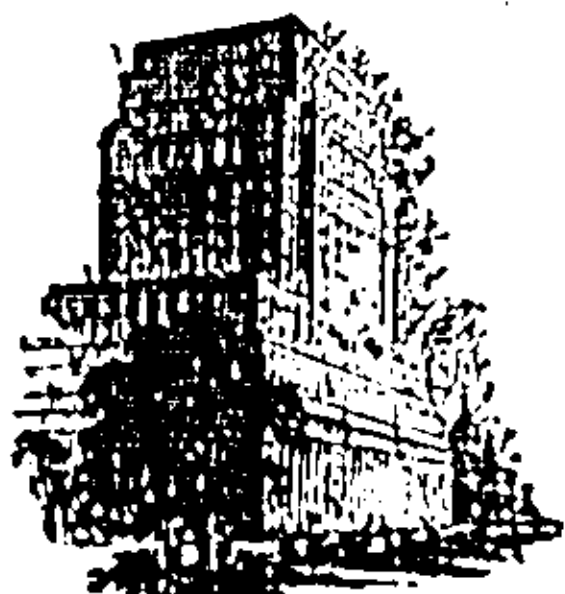

Peace of Mind

Peace of mind is a state well worth achieving. In these uncertain days when savings and other sources of revenue have a habit of dwindling unexpectedly, Life Insurance represents the surest way of securing financial protection.

The Sun Life Assurance Co. of Canada can offer you a definite plan, designed to meet your present income, which provides the maximum benefits at minimum costs.

Once you have embarked on this course, your mind is finally set at rest. Your wife and family are protected from want and hardship and your own retirement is made secure by the Sun Life Assurance Co. of Canada.

For 65 years the Sun Life Assurance Co. of Canada have given protection and assurance to millions of policyholders. Assets exceed Can.$700,000,000.

THE SUN LIFE ASSURANCE COMPANY OF CANADA

South China Branch Office,
J. R. Paton—Branch Manager,
2nd Floor, Gloucester Building,
Hong Kong.

Canton Representative,
F. E. W. Lammert,
66 British Concession, Shamcen.

Macao Representative,
G. P. Lammert,
No. 16 Calçada do Agostino.

Swatow Agent: Amoy Agent:
Fr. Murer C. T. Evans

2SL4

so far the cause of this strange affliction is unknown, a mystery of the scientific world.

This state of affairs is of recent origin, but for decades vague stories have filtered out of the almost inaccessible district of Tliltpec, in the mountains of Oaxaca, of entire villages populated by blind people. These strange rumours said that these sightless people led a nearly normal life, tilling their fields with blind oxen and giving fiestas in harvest time.

For the main part, very little credence was placed in these reports. For, when the outsider inquired too closely regarding the exact location of this district, the narrators would become vague and evasive. In some cases they said that they had been spinning a tall yarn for amusement, and that there was nothing of truth in their original story. Others said that it was extremely dangerous for outsiders to venture into this isolated region since the natives were hostile to all strangers.

On several occasions back at the turn of the century, American and British scientists seeking to investigate these reports of a land of the blind outfitted for an expedition and attempted to find the region. But none was successful. Always, guides deserted them, or the natives along the way became so hostile that it was advisable to turn back.

To understand why it could be so difficult to find such a large district, one must understand something of the topography of this wild, mountainous country of Oaxaca.

On the average map it probably seems to be no larger than a large western ranch, a miniature state that one might easily traverse within a day. But travelling even a short distance of a few miles in a straight line in most of Oaxaca is limited to birds of the air. Since there are very few places for even emergency landings, even planes do little intra-state travel in Oaxaca.

As in many other isolated mountainous regions, the natives here are clannish and nurse a hatred for all strangers. This bitterness dates back to 1486, when the Aztec emperor sent a large band of soldiers into the region to keep a watchful eye on Cosijolza, king of Zaachila, as the region was called by the Indians. The Aztecs were afraid that Cosijolza might attempt to aid the Tlascalans, unconquered enemies of the Aztecs and later allies of Cortez.

The brutal conduct of these Aztec legions in enslaving the people and their ruler created a hatred in these mountains that flourishes to this day—an unquenchable hatred for all outsiders, Indians and whites alike.

The village and the district of Tliltpec is in the heart of the roughest Oaxaca country. An American, Dr. Ray Brown, while visiting in Mexico City in 1932, heard of this district of the blind and determined to

MICHEL LASTS

In Fair Weather or Foul
... From Morning to Night

You don't know how truly permanent lipstick can be until you try MICHEL. It clings lovingly to your lips... stays with you through dining, dancing and sports... comes through rain and drizzle fresh and appealing.

Michel keeps lips soft and young. Its perfume is delicate and subtle. Its creamy base prevents dryness and chapping... helps to make mouths lovely. Avoid imitations.

Post the coupon for your introduction to new lip beauty.

Michel
LIPSTICK

7 APPEALING SHADES

Blonde • Brunette • Cherry • Vivid
Capucine • Raspberry • Scarlet

SIZES:—De Luxe—Large—Popular

For an entrancing complexion, use Michel's adherent compact rouge; for eye beauty, use non-irritating water-proof Michel cosmetics.

SPECIAL OFFER

To Michel Representatives
P. O. Box 400, Hong Kong.
I enclose 50 cts. for small size
Michel lipstick in..... shade.

Name.....
Address.....

2APB2

investigate, hoping to be able to find a cure for the affliction, or at least arrest its spread.

He went to Oaxaca, the capital of the state, and spent weeks in making friends with certain Indians he wished to employ as guides to the lost village. He finally succeeded in organizing a party composed of Miki, Zapoteca, and Chimanteco Indians.

Starting from the town of Oaxaca, the expedition travelled for 19 days over rough, steep mountain trails. At the end of this time it was necessary to halt for three days to gather scanty rations. After three more days the trails became so dangerous that the expedition had to continue on foot.

As difficult as the journey had been, it became even more so. For, although the natives along the route had not been any too friendly, the doctor and his men found themselves now in a region where the people were openly hostile. In many villages they refused to sell the travellers food. On many cold nights the expedition was forced to camp in the open, the villagers refusing to give them accommodations.

But the doctor was certain that he was approaching a land of the blind. For in every village there was a number of sightless people. The surprising thing was that no one seemed to think that this affliction was very tragic. All seemed to regard it as a fate that might befall any of them at any time.

When the doctor's guides explained that he had come in an effort to work a cure, or at least effect a preventive measure, the Indians seemed unimpressed. The white medicine man was an outsider, and they wanted nothing of him other than to have him leave the country.

The doctor quickly saw that one theory he had heard back in Mexico City was erroneous. That was that the blindness in this region was caused by the natives' overindulgence in alcohol. He found that these people were surprisingly temperate, and that in some villages alcoholic beverages were scarcely known.

After days of travel over the trying trails, the party came to a squalid little village—Tiltepec. Here, all but a few children were totally blind. Even the dogs and oxen lived in this eternal darkness, just as the rumours had reported.

It was apparent that the children were soon to be blind, since the eyes of most of them were already affected. Some of the others had been born blind. Yet there was not the sense of depression about the place that one would expect. No one regarded the situation as extremely unfortunate. Like the characters in Wells' book, these Indians regarded their state as normal. Hadn't their fathers and their fathers before them been blind?

The village consisted of a few score windowless huts strung out in single file. Each villager carried a number of small pebbles on his person for the purpose of finding his hut. When he started in from the fields, he counted a number of pebbles in to one hand, corresponding to the number of huts his was from the first one at the edge of the fields. When he passed a hut, he transferred a stone into the other hands. Thus, when the last stone had been transferred, he knew that he had arrived at his home.

Aside from the fact that the villagers were all blind, and that their huts were windowless, the village was much like any other village in the Oaxaca mountains. Blindness did not prevent the natives from holding fiestas and dances. The children who were soon to become blind did not fret. Instead, they prepared for it by learning to distinguish the family oxen from those of the neighbours by running their hands over their bodies.

Almost all the blind had large tumors, varying in size from that of a marble to the size of a doubled fist. It took the doctor weeks to gain the confidence of these people so as to study these tumors, which were mostly about the head, face, and shoulders.

He found that they were caused by the bite of a small tropical fly, four or five times as small as the ordinary housefly, and of the species simulide. It was found that these tumors could be removed without a great deal of pain. But removal did not seem to improve the patient's condition.

Turning to the theory that the larvae of the fly might have worked into the blood-stream, then settled in the eyes to eat away vital parts, the doctor finally persuaded several of the natives to submit to operations. But he found that the eyes were apparently sound. There was nothing to vindicate his theory.

None of the operations proved successful, according to reports on file in Mexico City. The blind, unable to understand that the doctor had really been trying to administer mercy, became openly hostile again. They refused to give, or sell, food to him and his men. Naturally, there was nothing to do but to depart.

Last spring, Dr. J. W. Thompson, of London, led a similar expedition to Tiltepec. A report of his experiences in this district is almost identical with that of Dr. Brown's.

Recently, persistent reports of widespread blindness sweeping over other villages in the states of Chiapas and Guerrero were received at the national school of medicine in Mexico City. Investigation reveals that these reports are true.

The national medical department is establishing field hospitals with doctors and trained nurses in the areas where the malady is worst.

Further investigation revealed that such cases of blindness have been known in great numbers for years down in the most isolated districts of Guatemala where these flies are prevalent. The doctors became certain that the bite of this insect was the cause of the blindness.

Fashion's Choice for the Daily Round, little Social Engagements and all Sports and Pastimes when a heavy Perfume would be out of place, particularly in this Climate.

No other perfume has quite the same freshness and dainty charm; no other perfume is in the same perfect taste at all hours of the day.

All women of charm and refinement use Yardley Lavender after the bath, and throughout the day.

YARDLEY OLD ENGLISH
Lavender

Yardley Old English Lavender is the basis of these delightful toilet accessories: Lavender Soap "The Luxury Soap of the World," Lavender Face Powder and Compacts, Bath-salt Crystals and Tablets, and Talcum Powder.

Obtainable From All Chemists and Stores.

3APB8

WARNING!

Cheap imitations of the well-known products

Viyella

AND

'Clydella'

are being offered for sale in the Colony at low prices.

BEWARE OF THESE INFERIOR IMITATIONS.

LOOK for the selvedge label throughout the piece.

Viyella

REGD

8APB6

Just Received HIGHEST QUALITY MANCHURIAN GAME

COCK PHEASANTS
$1.65 each

HEN PHEASANTS
$1.25 each

SNIFE 32cs. Each PIGEON 38 „ „
QUAIL 45 „ „
TEAL DUCK . 48 „ „
WILD DUCK . $1.15 „ „

TRY OUR BACON DE LUXE
IN RASHERS WILTSHIRE
$1.80 per lb.
DEVONSHIRE
$1.60 per lb.

THE DAIRY FARM ICE & COLD STORAGE
CO., LTD.

Mr. A. W. Grimmlitt (left) snapped at the First Extra Race Meeting at Happy Valley with two friends. ("Herald" photo).

A runaway victory at the First Extra Race Meeting at Happy Valley. ("Herald" photo).

Among a cheerful group at the Races can be seen (on right) Miss Barbara Hance. ("Herald" photo).

(Left)—Seen at the races—Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Stanton and friend. ("Herald" photo).

The cooks of the First Battalion, Royal Ulster Rifles, taken at Lo Wu Camp. From left to right (back row) Rfm. McDonnell, Rfm. McNabb, Rfm. Brown. (Front row) Rfm. Wright, Rfm. Finlay, Sgt. Ewart, Rfm. McSorley, Rfm. Halliday, Rfm. Fletcher.

NEW GAS FIRE SCHEME

WE WILL INSTAL A GAS FIRE or RADIATOR

FOR A PAYMENT OF

$10 ONLY

(which includes fixing charge and rental for any period).

THE APPLIANCE CAN REMAIN ON LOAN FREE FOR AS LONG AS YOU LIKE — ONE YEAR, TWO YEARS, TEN YEARS OR MORE!

HONG KONG & CHINA GAS
CO., LTD.

Showrooms — Gloucester Bldg.
& 246, Nathan Road, Kowloon.
Telephone 28181.

A chat in between dances at the St. Patrick's Ball. Standing in front of the pillar R. Mitchell, O.B.E., while at right is Miss Joan Smalley. ("Herald" photo).

Plenty of thrills for punters here—a close finish at Happy Valley. ("Herald" photo).

The dance floor during the annual St. Patrick's Ball at the Peninsula Hotel. ("Herald" photo).

(Right)—Snapped at the races: (from right to left), the Hon. Mr. C. G. Alabaster, the Commodore, Rear-Admiral C. G. Sedgwick, and friend. ("Herald" photo).

Taken during an informal interval at St. Patrick's Ball in the Rose Room of the Peninsula Hotel. In centre of the picture are the Hon. Mr. R. A. C. North and Mrs. North. ("Herald" photo).

The lady on the right seems to have a deep problem to solve judging from the look of concentration on her face. ("Herald" photo).

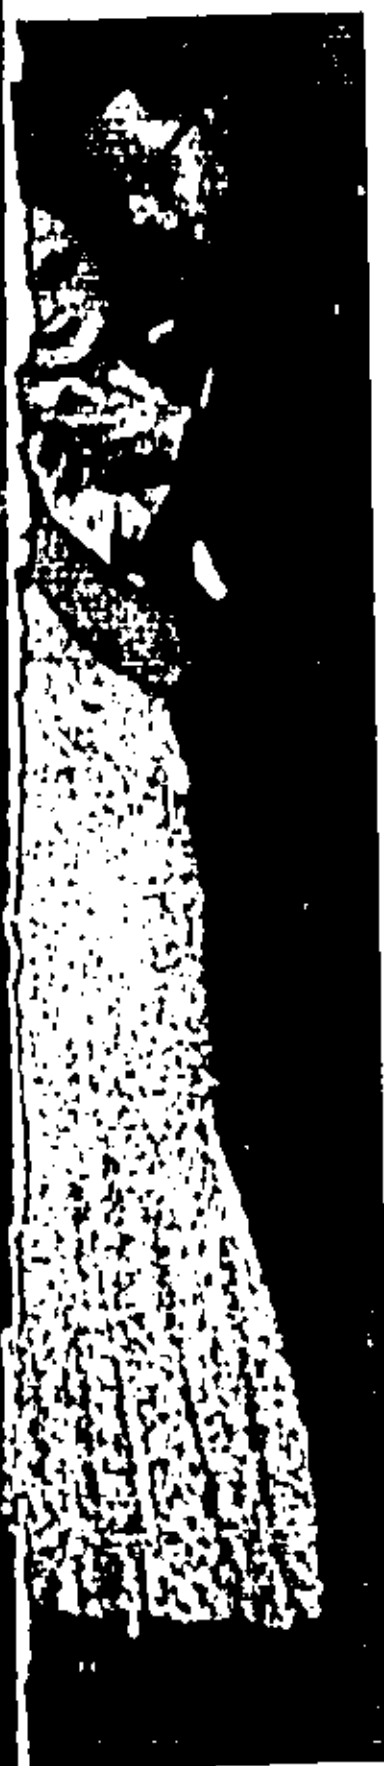

FOR EXTRA DRIVE
NESTLÉ'S QUICK OATS
NOW ON SALE

LONG HING
& CO.

CAMERA HEADQUARTERS
LATEST MODELS
QUICK DEVELOPING, PRINTING,
& ENLARGING EXPERT REPAIRING OF CAMERAS, LENSES AND SHUTTERS

8, DES VOEUX ROAD CENTRAL (ENTRANCE ICE HOUSE ST.)
TELEPHONE: 33074

Major E. J.

Three guests at St. Patrick's Ball. ("Herald" photo).

ANN DVORAK, Warner Bros. Star, in "SWEET MUSIC"

MAX FACTOR'S
Make-Up

SEE the make-up secrets of the screen stars revealed and illustrated! Learn how facial contours may be changed by applying rouge in different ways... A round face appears more oval, a thin face takes on fullness. Even hollow cheeks seem to vanish. * * * See why and how color harmony make-up accentuates beauty naturally.

CHINA FACTORS
909, Bank of East Asia Building.

DINNER DANCES
MONDAYS TO SATURDAYS
(Dancing till 1 a.m.)

There's a thrill in dancing to good music and on a perfect floor. You will enjoy every moment of the evening in the

GRILL ROOM HONG KONG HOTEL

IRVING'S
Yeast-Vite

BANISHES

- Nervepains, Headaches
in 5 to 15 mins.
- Indigestion, Exhaustion
in 15 to 30 mins.
- Constipation, Impure Blood
in 36 hours.
- Lassitude, Depression
in 10 to 20 mins.
- Sleeplessness
in 30 to 60 mins.
- Rheumatism
in 24 hours.

No other preparation contains more active Vitamins, in their natural form, and so correctly balanced for human consumption, than Irving's "Yeast-Vite."

"Yeast-Vite" means healthy digestion, healthy bodies and healthy minds—without drugs—for it is just pure natural health giving energy scientifically preserved.

Over 40,000 testimonials from doctors, nurses and people in all walks of life throughout the world testify to the amazing qualities of "Yeast-Vite"—the greatest medical discovery of the century.

YEAST-VITE IS LIFE INSIST ON

IRVING'S
Yeast-Vite

TONIC TABLETS

Sole Agents:—
GILMAN & CO., LTD., HONG KONG.
2APB5

About TOWN

THROWING stones at the goal-keeper is certainly not a form of showing interest in sport that deserves encouragement, but the police authorities are too experienced not to make some allowance for the excitement stirred up by the regulated and miniature form of battle which we call sport. Some time ago an American speaker said that he could not imagine what should make his fellow-countrymen want war so long as they had football. Is not the surprising thing rather that sport should cause so few breaches of the peace than that it should occasionally give some work to the Courts? Our referees have their own society for mutual protection, but most of its business is concerned with the application of the rules, and the crowd usually vents its feelings in nothing worse than hot air. Consider what would happen if somebody took to walking down Pedder Street and manhandling the passers-by as two teams do each other from whistle to whistle! A game of Football is little else than a series of assaults which are by agreement not treated as such.

The Football Crowd

AND not merely assaults. There is room for a study of the psychology of a football crowd. What insults! What threats! What defiance! Do we not all know the little man with the shrill voice, who would have a very sorry time of it if he said anywhere else what he says from the top bench of the cheap stand? And as soon as time is up the apparently fierce and tumultuous crowd begins to file out at the gate, volubly talking certainly, but once more peaceful and law-abiding citizens, bent only on finding the accustomed place of where the game can be played over-again verbally, with all the superiority of the looker-on. Certain experiences ought to be sampled or endured by anyone who wants to get a complete understanding of the age he lives in, and one of them is to go to Glasgow and see the Rangers play the Celtic in a Cup Match. To say that the police control is wonderful is simply a misunderstanding. The police know better than to interfere. The crowd manages itself, but the whole thing is a mystery. No spectator even pretends to be impartial, or to moderate his partisanship in consideration for the feelings of his neighbours. There may be some sore heads next morning, but there is a general conspiracy to ignore incidental efforts to give practical expression to the sentiments of the moment.

International Rivalries

A cricket crowd is a different thing altogether. Excitement at a close finish takes the form of complete silence. Each ball is watched as if human fate depended on whether it went to the wicket or the boundary. Scenes of wild enthusiasm may be witnessed when stumps are drawn, but they are in the form of an ovation, as if the hero of the match were a mere politician. That is why the introduction of "barracking", which is normal and harmless in Football, has been felt to be contrary to the spirit of Cricket. Noise at Football does not put anyone off his game, but it may easily spoil the accurate timing of a stroke for a nervous batsman. It would be fatal to Lawn Tennis, and of course the extreme of self-restraint, when even a whisper is bad form, is reached by Chess. When, after an absurd amount of anxiety, the first visit of a German Rugby team to England ended only in a keen and enjoyable game, sport was performing its proper function of bringing men together, though there was no lack of cheers and shouting.

A scene at St. Patrick's Ball. ("Herald" photo).

The Fundamental Distinction

WHERE then is the line to be drawn? Each game develops its own characteristic crowd, just as it develops its own rules. The object of the rules is to make it possible for the contestants to have a contest of wit and muscle without leaving any ill-feeling, and the same rule applies to the crowd. The greatest triumph of the principle was surely won by the Marquess of Queensberry, some of whose characteristics did not lead him to be recognised as one of the leading men of his day, when he devised a code which actually enabled men to fight without going beyond the limit of good sport. And the spectators of a match under the rules of boxing will quickly condemn a foul blow, however much they are thrilled by a stern round of fisticuffs. It is the limits imposed on the tactics that may fairly be employed that makes all the difference. And that is why we have several times advocated the prohibition of "All-in Wrestling." It may be true that these contests are rarely fatal, though that seems to be more due to luck than anything else. The essence of this particular contest is to eliminate the opponent by inflicting pain. It may be an exaggeration to compare it with the old gladiatorial shows, but so far as the spectators are concerned there is not much difference. They come to see one man hurt another as much as he can, and to applaud him for doing it. That is demoralising. It is nonsense to argue that the old moderation of sport is present at all.

COMMENTATOR.

WATCH YOUR GROWING CHILDREN

For backward, ailing or fretful children, there is nothing better than Benger's Food, given between meals and at bedtime. This Doctor's recommendation has restored thousands of weakly children to health and happiness.

"I have a home for delicate children, and every fresh child under my care is at once put on Benger's Food."—From a Matron.

Write to-day for Benger's Booklet. It is full of valuable information for mothers. Post free from The Advertising and Publicity Bureau Ltd., Queen's Building, Hong Kong.
Made by Benger's Food, Ltd., Manchester, Eng.
APB3

Best results will be obtained with

Agfa

ISOCHROM

THE ALL-WATHER FILM.

WORLD CAMERA NOTES

Premier Benito Mussolini is pictured above as he threw aside the cares of state to take his son, Romano, on a skiing jaunt on Mount Terminillo near Rome, Italy.

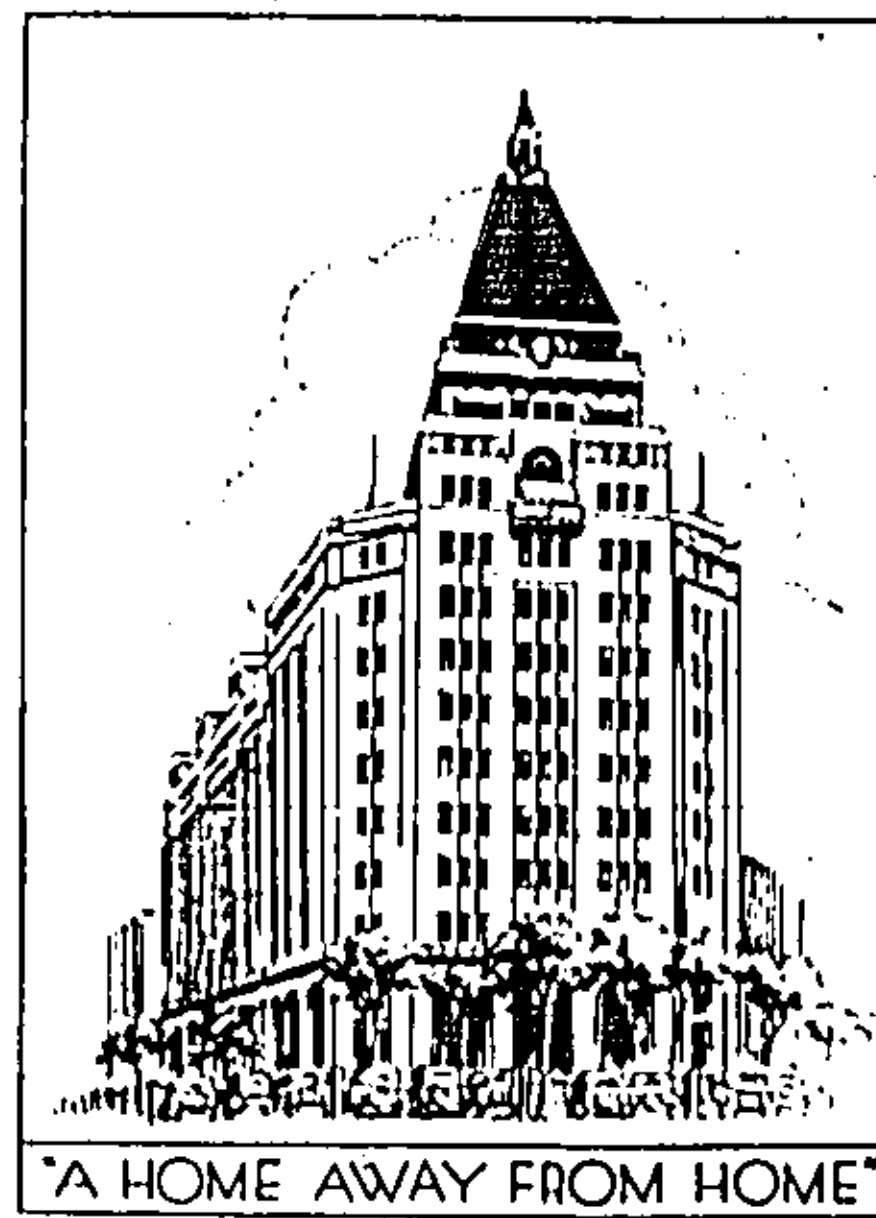

Paul H. Schmidt, head of the Evansville, Indiana, Red Cross unit, is here shown as he clung to a pole after his row-boat fell apart in the surging flood water. He and another flood official were finally rescued.

The two Mr. and Mrs. Bellantes of Washington, D.C., are shown above. Phillip Bellante married Fanny Bridget. They are at the top. Nino Bellante married Frances Bridget (below). The Bellantes are twins. The Bridgets are twins. So you're seeing doubles after all.

Light as a wind-blown wisp of thistledown, Miss Melitta Brunner, figure skating star, is here shown as she gave an exhibition during the North American speed skating championships at Saranac Lake, New York.

SHANGHAI'S LEADING HOTEL

THE CATHAY

Cable Address "CATHOTEL"
The Most Luxuriously Appointed
Hotel in the FAR EAST.

250 ROOMS and SUITES
Every Room with Private Bath

Reasonable Rates:		Per Day.
Single Room with Meals	(2 Persons)	from $16.00
Double	"	28.00
Single Room Without Meals	"	12.00
Double	"	16.00

Rates quoted above in Shanghai Dollars.

AIR-CONDITIONED RESTAURANT.

(8th Floor)

Commanding an extensive view of the Whangpoo River and environs of the Settlement
Luncheon or Dinner
A La Carte

SHANGHAI'S SOCIAL CENTRE

APB1

A Correct
Weighing Machine is the Barometer of Health!

NEW SHIPMENT JUST RECEIVED

SOLE AGENTS:

SCHMIDT & CO., YORK BLDG.

IMPROVE YOUR GAME —

USE THE SPALDING "NEEDED"
TOP FLITE
GOLF BALL

ZORIC cleaned drapes always look their BEST
THE STEAM LAUNDRY
CO.
Tel 57032.

The China Mail is Recognised As The Leading Local Authority on Sport

THE COOK'S ASSISTANT

Millions of Mothers have found that their husbands and children love Oxo, or Oxo and hot milk — and thrive on it.

Oxo makes all the difference to soups, stews and meat dishes.

FOR CUP OR COOKING

2APB2

Sports Chatter

LIEUT. G. D. GOING, who holds the Army Officers' heavyweight boxing championship, and who is attached to the Royal Ulster Rifles, has arrived in the Colony. He will be a definite asset to the Rifles during the coming Garrison Boxing Championships.

AMONG the members of the R. E. football team who are shortly leaving the Colony are Spr. Sellick, Spr. Ferris, Spr. Coleman, Spr. Darby, and Spr. Callard.

Shipp Leaving Colony
CPL. SHIPP, the Army cricketer, will be leaving the Colony next month.

Hulse Visits Colony
A. J. HULSE, who a short while ago was considered one of the most promising cricketers at the Diocesan Boys' School, is now resident in Canton. He was in the Colony last week and played for an eleven representing the past and present pupils of the school against Craigengower.

Two "shots" of Rowlands in action against South China "A" last Sunday. Lee Wai-tong, who scored all three goals for the champions is at the extreme right in the above photograph. ("Herald" photos).

All-Rounder Arrives
A prominent Army sportsman is shortly due to arrive in the Colony. He is Corporal Land, of the Royal Engineers, who has represented the Army and England at athletics. He is also a good cricketer and footballer.

LT. STILEMAN, R.N., a recent arrival in the Colony, should prove a decided acquisition to Navy sport. He is a fine hockey player in the full-back division and is also a good all-round cricketer.

L. C. L.'s Pagan Love (Mr. S. C. Liang) being led in after its triumph over Gordito last Saturday. ("Herald" photo).

THE P.W.D. are contemplating entering a strong team in the Second Division of the Football League next season. They have at their disposal several players from South China "B" and the Athletic.

Junior Interport Manager
COMMISSIONED Gunner C. G. WARREN, one of the members of the Interport Selection Committee, has been appointed manager of the junior Interport football team which will probably visit Macau on April 11.

Hamilton And C.B.S.
A KEEN spectator at the Central British School sports last Saturday was Rifleman Hamilton, the Army miler. It is rumoured that he will be coaching the C.B.S. for the forthcoming inter-school sports.

Jordan's Fine Promise
JORDAN, of the Rifles, has been showing good form on the track this season. With proper training he should be among the leading runners of the Battalion next year.

Tsui Ah-Fai Available
TSUI AH-FAI, former Athletic centre-half and a member of the All-China World Olympic soccer team, has returned to Canton and will again be available for the Athletic in their League encounters.

Marathon Challengers
MCCUTCHEON and Chivers are the two outstanding runners from the Rifles. They have shown improvement lately and should offer keen competition in the forthcoming Kowloon Marathon.

By the Judge

RUMOUR has it that a new European swimming club is being founded for the purpose of playing water-polo and competing in inter-Club galas, but details at the moment are very vague. More will be heard of this project next week-end.

South China Soccer Tour
IT is reported that South China will be embarking on a tour to the South Seas and Saigon after the close of the football season.

Captain Not Going
CHENG SHUI-HONG, Eastern's soccer captain, will not be able to make the forthcoming trip to Manila with the Eastern team, owing to pressure of business.

Recreio Bowls Strengthened
C. F. REMEDIOS, the Recreio football pivot and holder of the Lawn Bowls Singles Championship of Shanghai, will prove an asset to Recreio during the coming lawn bowls season.

Luz Returning To Recreio?
R. F. LUZ, former Colony Interport lawn bowls player, it is rumoured, will be returning to Recreio from Craigengower this season.

Wally Mair Fit Again
WALLY MAIR, the Police lawn bowls skip, has recovered from his recent illness, and his many friends will be glad to hear that he will be strong enough to take an active part in the game when the season opens.

Teddy's New Role
E. C. FINCHER, well known local sportsman, has taken charge of the Sports Department of Messrs. Lane, Crawford, Ltd.

Lim Turning To Badminton?
N. Y. LIM, of La Salle College, was in his younger days a good footballer, playing for Singapore and Penang in the Inter-State Football Competition and for St. Joseph's and Chinese Athletic in Hong Kong in the Senior Division.

Lim's only sport now, however, is an occasional game of tennis, although he is considering taking up badminton and may join the Kowloon Tong Club.

Wallace Will Be Missed
SAPPER WALLACE, one of the Military representatives on the Executive Committee of the Mamak Hockey Tournament and one of the finest hockey umpires in the Colony, is leaving for home on the troopship Dorsetshire, which sails on April 16.

EVANS, of the Fusiliers, who played for Kowloon in the early part of the season, has returned to the Battalion's second team and last week assisted his side in defeating the Engineers. It is understood that he may be joining the Dockyard Police soon and that he will probably return to the Kowloon side again.

Swimming Anxiety

THERE is a serious dearth of first class swimmers in the Colony, with the exception of Wilfred Lawrence, Lionel Roza-Pereira, Chan Chan-hing and Norman Lee, who cannot be expected to carry the brunt of the Interport meets for many more seasons. Lawrence has already given us his best, while Roza-Pereira is past the record stage. Chan is away at the moment and Lee seems to be the only remaining hope, although there are many at the V.R.C. who can be developed into first class swimmers if properly taken in hand.

Played For Ordnance

FISHER COOK, the Ordnance centre-half, played for the Corps at Aldershot while at Home.

look at this happy baby

He owes his buoyant looks and bonny health to a wise and careful mother who put him on Allenburys from birth.

The Allenburys Foods always provide a satisfactory substitute when natural feeding fails or proves inadequate.

They are similar to the natural milk and contain an ample proportion of Vitamin "D" for perfect formation of bones and teeth.

Allenburys Graduated Feeder is excellent for feeding baby easily and cleanly, and its scientific shape allows for quick and perfect cleansing.

All Allenburys Infant Foods are supplied in large and small tins.

Allenburys
The Progressive System of Infant Feeding

MOTHERS!
SEND FOR FREE BOOK

The Advertising & Publicity Bureau, Ltd., Queen's Building, Hong Kong.

Mrs.
Address
will be pleased to receive, free of charge, a copy of the Allenburys book "Infant Feeding."

Hong Kong Distributors—DANDY & HANCE, Alexandra Building, Hong Kong.

8APB2

Mrs. Eu Tong-sen's Dick Turpin (Mr. W. H. S. Davis) being led in after its success in the Randwick Plate last Saturday. ("Herald" photo).

McGahan Injured

MCGAHAN, the Engineers' hockey half-back, badly injured his ankle while playing against the Kumaon Rifles in the Large Units Hockey Tournament recently, and will probably not be seen on the hockey field for the rest of the season.

Army Half Miler

L/SGT. COLLINS, of the Engineers, who played for the Corps at football at Home, represented the Army in the half mile last year.

"Y" Swimming Meeting

THE European Y.M.C.A. Annual Swimming Meeting, to discuss prospects for the coming season and to elect a captain and committee, will be held in the West Lounge on Wednesday, March 31, at 5.30 p.m.

This is Babe Risko's new face which has been thoroughly done over by plastic surgery. Risko will shortly meet Freddie Steele for the world light-heavyweight boxing title.

Sollis's Rugger Prowess

SERGEANT SOLLIS, who plays cricket for Army "C" in the League, was a fine Rugby footballer in his younger days, hooking for the Royal Welch Fusiliers for a good number of seasons.

Selk In Manila

HIS many friends in the Colony will be glad to hear that E. F. "Bob" Selk, former Assistant Secretary of the European Y.M.C.A. and a fine all-round sportsman, is now working in Manila, where he is doing fairly well. He wishes to be remembered to all his friends.

McHardy Going Home

W. McHARDY, the Police First Division goalkeeper, will be leaving the Colony on Home leave in the first week in April by the s.s. Ranchi.

BLOW TO ENGINEERS

The Royal Engineers will be losing seven of their Junior Shield soccer players when the Transport Dorsetshire leaves the Colony for England on April 16.

Fusiliers Leaving

THE Royal Welch Fusiliers will be leaving the Colony at the end of the year, according to their trooping schedule, and will be badly missed in the Colony, where they have a very fine all-round record, two of their sportsmen having secured Interport recognition—Lieut. Hon. G. R. Clegg-Hill at cricket and Fus. Talbot at football.

Gilchrist Going Home

J. GILCHRIST, the Club left half, is leaving the Colony for Home soon, and will not be available until the middle of next season.

New Soccer Team

THE 1st Battalion Inniskilling Fusiliers, who are at present in the Colony in connection with the Combined Manoeuvres, had a fairly good soccer record when stationed in Shanghai and as they will be under canvas at Fanling for a month, there is a possibility that several friendly matches will be arranged with other military and civilian teams.

Ireland v. Portugal

IRELAND will meet Portugal in the Semi-Final Round of the local International Hockey Tournament next Tuesday on a ground yet to be nominated. Portugal received a bye, but Ireland defeated Wales by a solitary goal after two goalless draws, eventually winning during extra time.

Scott Recovers

L/CPL. Scott, who is Hon. Secretary of the Boys' Football League, spent a short period in the Military Hospital last week-end, but is back again at his job now. The teams participating in the League have much to thank him for as he spends all his spare time on their behalf. His plan for a boys' international soccer series is still awaiting confirmation.

Mrs. Clarke's Tennis Prowess

MRS. CLARKE, wife of G. E. Clarke, the well-known K.C.C. and Army tennis player, is herself a player of no mean ability. While in India she played against some of the finest players there.

Major Foley Going Home

MAJOR P. F. FOLEY, who has been prominently connected with Army sport in the Colony, is leaving for Home by the troopship Dorsetshire.

NINE RUNS OR FIVE IN CRICKET?

AN incident which occurred in the recent South Melbourne-Northcote club cricket match has aroused some comment.

Cornelius square-cut a ball towards the distant boundary and he and Nash ran six runs. However, while the sixth run was being run, the fieldsman kicked the ball to the fence, thus apparently converting the stroke into a boundary.

The umpire, however, allowed five runs. His argument was that five runs had been scored before the ball was "dead."

Umpire A. N. Barlow, the Victorian State umpire, in a match between St. Kilda and Prahran a few years ago, allowed seven runs in similar circumstances.

In the present case the fieldsman was chasing the ball towards the fence. He was not running round to cut it off. And the kick did turn a six into a five, according to the umpire's ruling.

Answer—Nine runs should be credited to the striker.—Sports Ed.

BY APPOINTMENT TO H.M. THE KING OF SWEDEN

3 GOOD REASONS WHY YOU SHOULD DRINK DOCTORS' SPECIAL

BECAUSE it is the Aristocrat of blended Pure Scotch Whiskies.

BECAUSE Doctors' Special has a full distinctive and pleasing flavour.

BECAUSE the smooth "roundness" of Doctors' Special is just right for the most discriminating palate.

Sole Agents:

JOLOP & CO., MARINA HOUSE, HONG KONG.

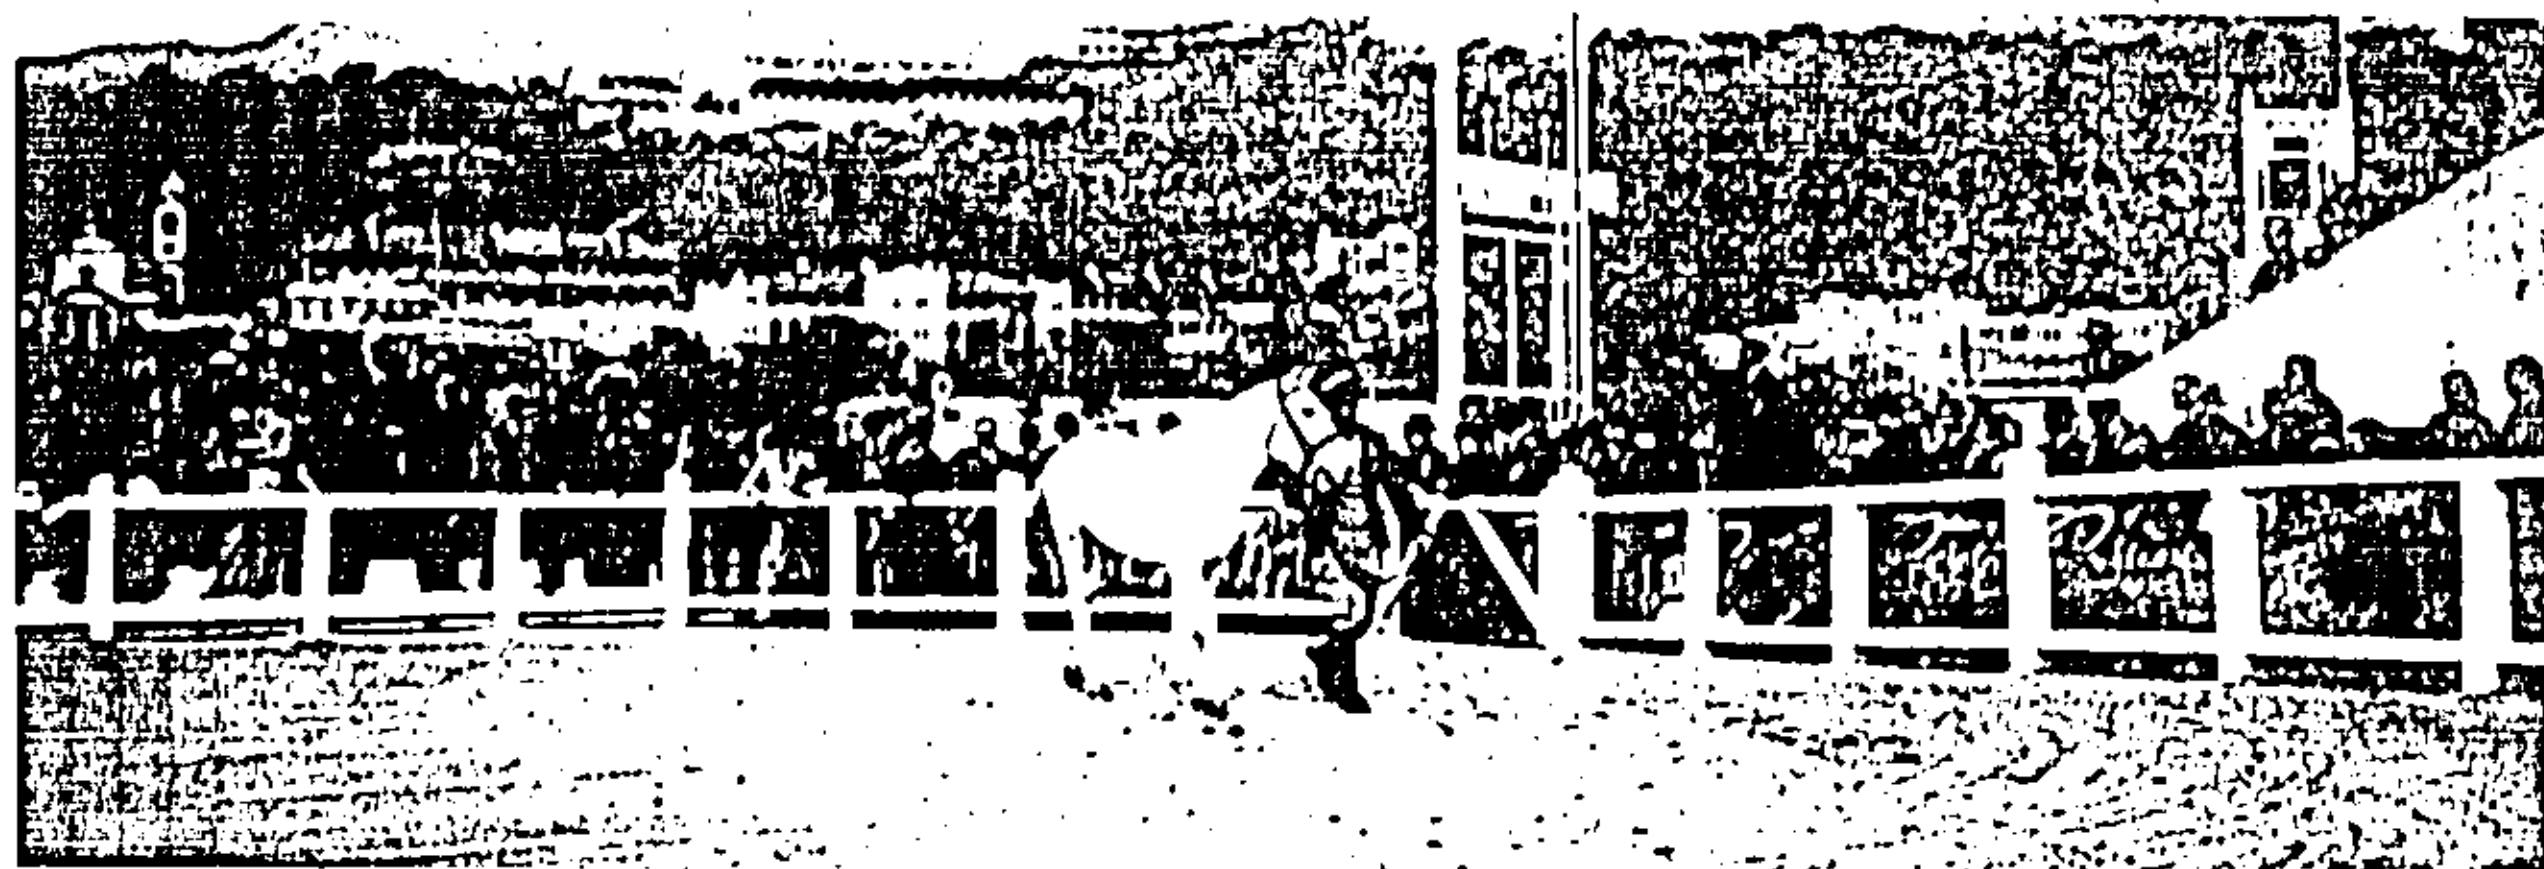

2APB1

In between dances at the St. Patrick's Ball at the Peninsula Hotel. Third from right can be seen Mr. B. J. Gallagher. ("Herald" photo).

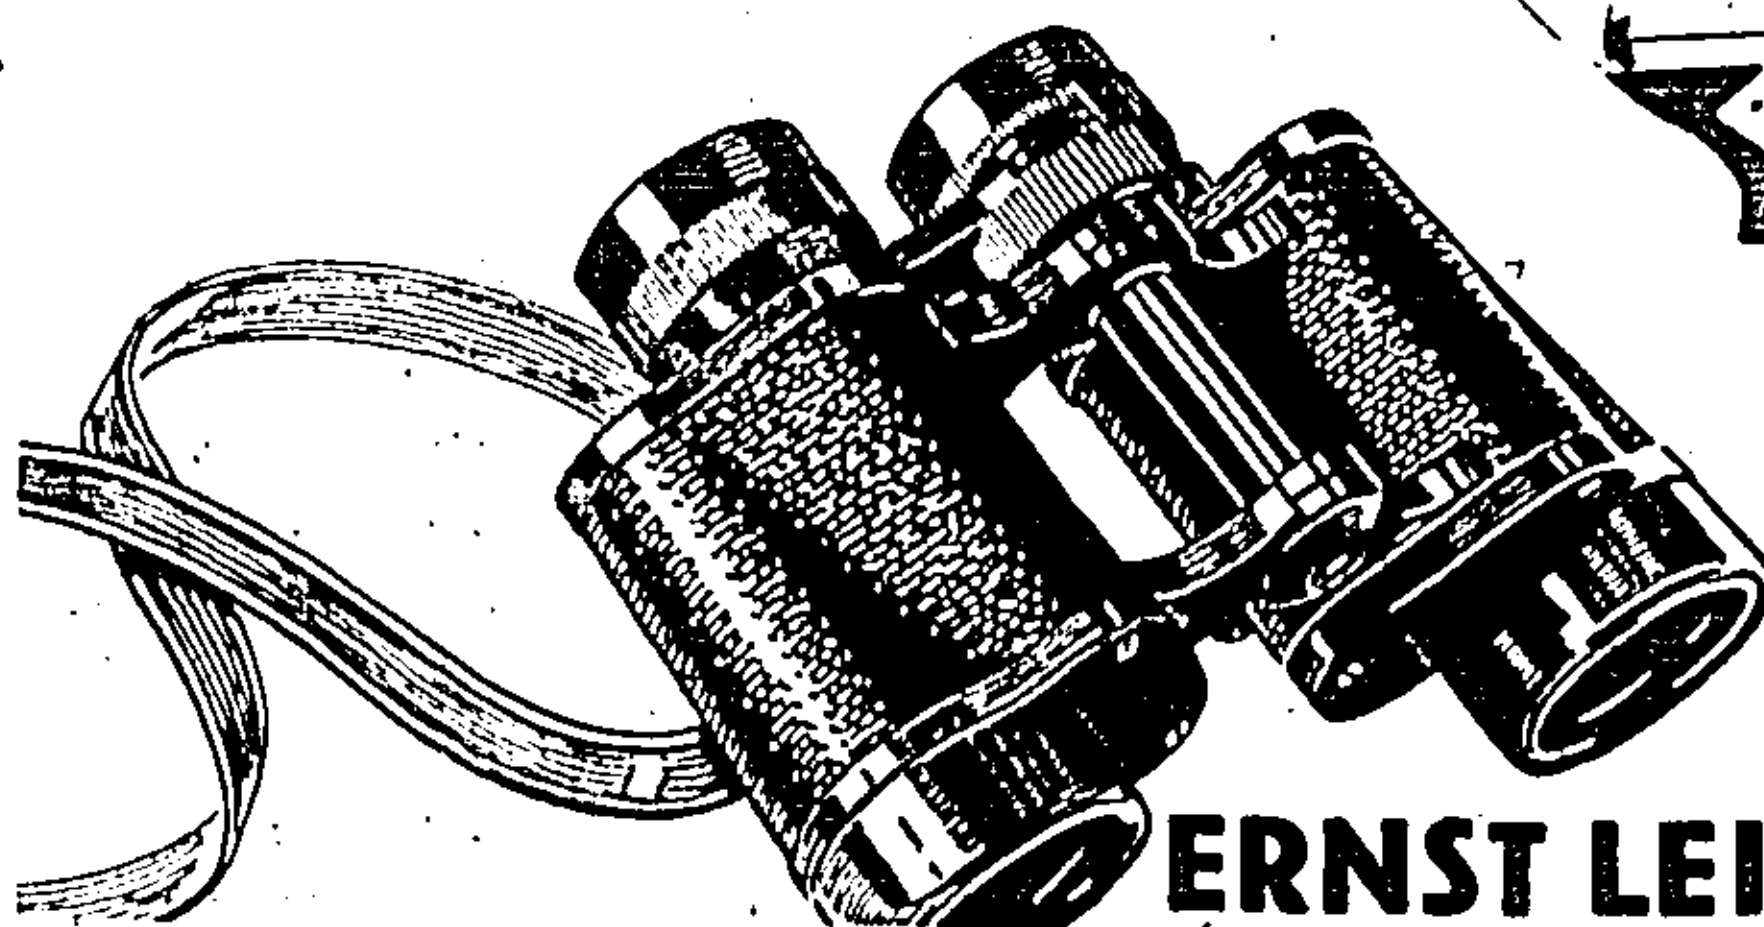

Mrs. R. Langley, Corps Secretary and District Officer of the St. John Ambulance Brigade, is leaving for Home on April 3. She will represent the local Nursing Division at the St. John Brigade Jubilee and the Coronation. ("Herald" photo).

(Left)—A scene at the Pony Race held in the Paddock of the Jockey Club last Tuesday. ("Herald" photo).

SPOT THE WINNER —

With a Leitz
BINOCULAR

ERNST LEITZ · WETZLAR

SCHMIDT & CO. York Building

ITALIAN TROOPS DEMORALISED

Several Divisions "Retreated In A Panic"

BRIHUEGA NOW 15 MILES BEHIND THE LINES

NO FURTHER ATTEMPT IS BEING MADE TO CONCEAL THE FACT THAT ITALIAN TROOPS ON THE MADRID FRONT HAVE SUFFERED A CRUSHING AND DEMORALISING DEFEAT.

At the same time that a telegram, purporting to be from Signor Mussolini, was found in Brihuega exhorting the Italian divisions in Spain to great efforts towards victory, these same troops were retreating in a disorder amounting almost to panic in the face of the overpowering loyalist advance.

THIS IS ADMITTED BY A SENIOR INSURGENT OFFICER WHO HAS ARRIVED AT ALGECIRAS, SAYS REUTER. THE OFFICER REVEALED YESTERDAY THAT THE ITALIANS SUFFERED SERIOUS LOSSES AND THAT "SEVERAL DIVISIONS RETREATED IN PANIC."

FOLLOWING THE CAPTURE OF BRIHUEGA BY THE LOYALISTS, THE GOVERNMENT TROOPS HAVE NOW TAKEN THE TOWN OF NAVALPOTRO, FIFTEEN MILES NORTH-EAST OF BRIHUEGA.

Mussolini Telegram Before Battle

A Government round-up of Italian prisoners in Brihuega continued all day yesterday.

Italians left behind were found hiding in all sorts of places, some lying under large piles of straw.

It is also claimed that enormous quantities of munitions were captured.

Many Desert

Forty Italians reached Madrid yesterday evening and said they had decided to desert and "join our comrades who are prisoners."

Government tanks went into action yesterday morning for the first time on the Cordoba front, where a column alleged to consist of 14,000 Italians, carried out an unsuccessful attack on the loyalist positions.

The telegram congratulating the troops at Guadalajara and purporting to have been sent by Signor Mussolini was found by the Republican troops in Brihuega, according to the Fabra Agency.

Text Of Telegram

THE TELEGRAM IS REPORTED TO SAY: "I FOLLOW WITH CALMNESS THE VICISSITUDES OF THE BATTLES ON THE GUADALAJARA FRONT. CONFIDENT THAT THE TENACITY OF OUR LEGIONARIES WILL OVERCOME THE RESISTANCE OF THE ENEMY."

"CRUSHING OF THE INTERNATIONAL FORCES WILL BE A SUCCESS OF GREAT POLITICAL VALUE. LET THE LEGIONARIES KNOW THAT I FOLLOW HOUR BY HOUR THEIR ACTION WHICH WILL BE CROWNED WITH VICTORY."

A message received in Paris from Salamanca states that General Franco has accepted the resignation of General Orgaz, High Commissioner in Spanish Morocco and Commander-in-Chief of the insurgent forces in Africa.

Fresh "Volunteers"

The allegations that Italy has been sending troops and war material to Spain since the control plan came into force are countered by the "Echo de Paris" with the assertion that Russia continues to despatch munitions to the Valencia Government.

Four steamers, the paper states, have left Odessa in the last few days for Spain.

Giving details of the alleged shipment, the paper declares that one of the ships, the freighter "Sac 11," is carrying 22 aeroplanes and other war material, and another ship, the "Sac 6," has on board a cargo of tanks and lorries.

A third ship, the paper alleges, the "Antonio Saturney," is carrying 10.5 centimetre guns as well as rifles and ammunition.

Spain's Protest

The Spanish Government on March 13 sent the Secretary-General of the League of Nations, requesting that it be forwarded to States members, a communication asserting the presence of regular military units of the Italian army in Spanish territory "in flagrant violation of the provisions of Article 10 of the Covenant, whereby members of the League undertake to respect and preserve against external aggression the territorial integrity and existing political independence of all members."

The communication relies on declarations by Italian officers and soldiers made prisoner in the Guadalajara sector and gives details of the troops, officers and armament.

British Action

Reports appearing in the London papers assert that the British Foreign Office has ordered an investigation into the truth of the Valencia allegations.

It is also reported that the British authorities at Gibraltar and captains of British steamers have been instructed to report their observations to London.—Reuter, Trans-Ocean and British Wireless.

Polish Strike Settled

Warsaw, Yesterday. A conflict in the Polish mining industry, which threatened to lead to a general strike, has been settled satisfactorily.—Trans-Ocean.

Lo Yee, a coolie, was admitted to the G.C.H. yesterday in a serious condition from injuries received when he fell into the hold of the s.s. Gustav Diederickson.

Unique Jubilee Aboard "Hindenburg"

Frankfurt-on-Main, Yesterday. A unique kind of jubilee was celebrated on board the airship "Hindenburg" on its first trip to America this year.

The head steward, Heinrich Kubis, completed twenty-five years of service as Zeppelin steward on Thursday.

In 1911, when Kubis was just starting his career, he suddenly decided that the future lay in the air in spite of the ridicule of his friends.

Loyalist defenders crouched behind a barricade as they repulsed repeated vicious assaults by rebel forces. Heavy losses inflicted on the attackers in recent fighting has changed the whole complexion of the situation in the Guadalajara sector where the loyalists have now taken the initiative.

STORM IN ECONOMIC TALKS

SHANGHAI, YESTERDAY. CHINESE EFFORTS TO RAISE POLITICAL QUESTIONS DURING THE SINO-JAPANESE TRADE DISCUSSIONS IN SHANGHAI HAVE EXCITED A SHARP REACTION IN LOCAL JAPANESE MILITARY AND OTHER CIRCLES.

The idea, advanced by Mr. Chow Tao-min, President of the Sino-Japanese Trade Federation that removal of political obstacles must precede any economic rapprochement, is hotly opposed in some quarters, though the most liberal elements endorse it.

Mr. Kodama and his colleagues on the Japanese trade mission are at present non-committal, but it is indicated that Tokyo awaits their return with interest as the views of the mission are bound to influence the framing of Japanese policy towards China.—Reuter.

New Reich Loan Over-Subscribed

Berlin, Yesterday. The entire amount of the new 4 1/2 per cent. Reichs Loan, which was originally fixed at 500,000,000 marks but was later increased to 700,000,000 marks, has been oversubscribed.

Subscription was opened on March 5 and closed on March 18. The first 100,000,000 marks was taken up by banks before the issue was announced; and the remaining 600,000,000 marks was subscribed by the public.

This brings the total amount of consolidated loan floated in the last two years up to 5,000,000,000 marks.—Trans-Ocean.

Paris Film Studios Strike

Paris, Yesterday. Workers in all the Paris film studios went on strike yesterday following refusal of their demands for wage increases by the directors.—Trans-Ocean.

Pope Reads Mass In Chapel

Rome, Yesterday. The Pope read Mass yesterday morning in his private chapel for the first time since his recent illness.

His Holiness was able to read the service without any strain on himself, and his health is now again regarded as satisfactory.—Trans-Ocean.

Un-Danish And Un-Nordic SCANDINAVIAN DEFENCE DEBATE

Copenhagen, Yesterday. The much-discussed project of formation of a Scandinavian defence bloc was the main subject of debate in Parliament yesterday.

Several deputies made attacks on the statement of the Premier, Mr. A. M. Stauning, that Denmark should keep out of entangling alliances.

One deputy described the Premier's speech as "un-Danish and un-Nordic." He added that the Scandinavian States should stand together in defence of their well-established rights of independence.—Trans-Ocean.

AMBASSADOR IN CANTON

Lays Wreath On 72 Heroes' Tomb

Canton, Yesterday. Sir Hugh M. Knatchbull-Hugessen, the British Ambassador to China, with Lady Knatchbull-Hugessen and their daughters, visited the Sun Yat-sen Memorial Hall, the Sun Yat-sen Cenotaph, the Yuehsan Mountains and 72 Heroes' Tomb this afternoon.

They were accompanied by Messrs. Chang Yuan-nam and Li Pang, Counsellor of the Kwangtung Provincial Government and Secretary of the Canton Municipality respectively, and Sir Hugh laid a wreath on the 72 Heroes' Tomb.

After the visit, Sir Hugh and Lady Knatchbull-Hugessen and the official party attended the banquet given by Mr. Tseng Yang-fu, Mayor of Canton, and Mrs. Tseng in their honour.

Generals Yu Han-mau and Hsiang Hang-ping, of the 4th Route Army, Mr. Sham Hsiang-hai, Secretary-General of the Provincial Government, (representing General Huang Mu-sung, the Governor, who is in hospital), and Mr. A. F. Blunt, the British Consul-General, and other high officials were among those present.—Our Own Correspondent.

Atlantic Air Route Rivalry

FRANCE PLANNING SERVICE

PARIS, YESTERDAY. THE NORTH ATLANTIC WILL BE SPANNED BY YET ANOTHER AIR SERVICE IF PLANS NOW BEING FORMULATED BY A FRENCH COMPANY PROVE FRUITFUL.

The company is a combine formed by Air France and the Compagnie Generale Trans-Atlantique, the biggest French airway and shipping companies, respectively.

It is stated that tests of long-distance planes, which have been in progress for some time under the direction of the Air Ministry, with the aim of eventually establishing such a service, will now be carried on in cooperation with the new company.

TRIAL FLIGHTS

First of the trial flights across the Atlantic will begin in the near future.

There is a possibility therefore that the North Atlantic will soon be spanned by a regular Pan-American Airways and Imperial Airways service, a zeppelin service and a French service.—Trans-Ocean.

H.K.-HANKOW TELEPHONE

New Service Routed Through Shanghai

A further link in China's system of wireless telephonic communication was forged when Chinese officials in Canton spoke to officials in Hankow over the newly-completed system yesterday morning.

First call from Canton to Hankow was put through at 9 a.m. which was followed an hour later by the first call from Hong Kong to the Yangtze city.

Calls on the new system will be routed from Hong Kong to Canton and then to Shanghai, which will handle all traffic to Hankow.

Rates for the service to Hankow will be $6.20 for a station call and $7.50 for a personal call.

GERMANY

Remittances by Mail or Cable

In favour of

FOREIGN STUDENTS or TRAVELLERS

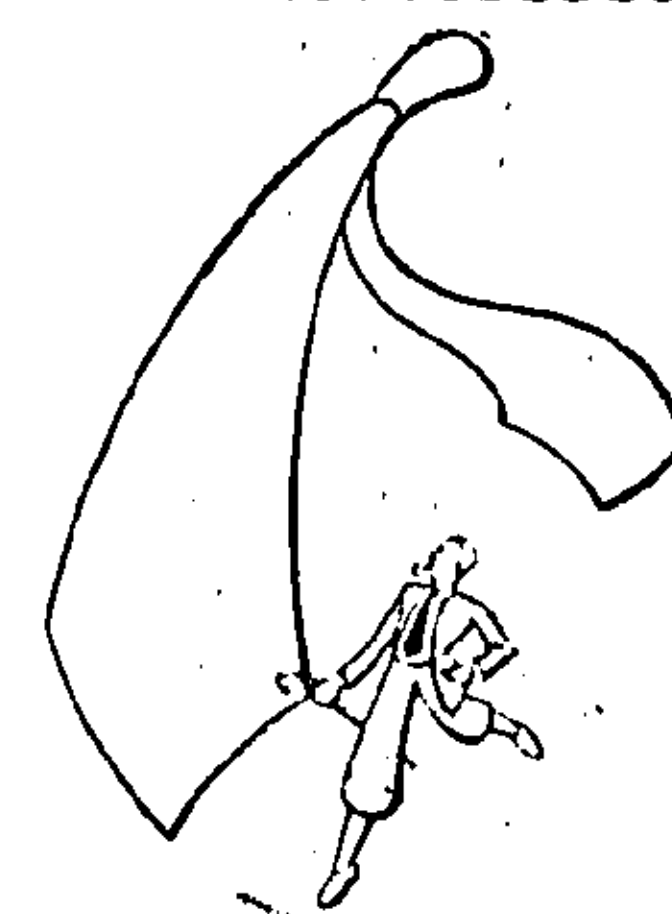

Effectuated at

Approximately Half Rates

THE AMERICAN EXPRESS CO., INC.

Incorporated with Limited Liability in U.S.A.

No. 4, Des Voeux Road, Central.

TIES

OF

DISTINCTION

A NEW SHIPMENT JUST RECEIVED in the latest designs,

Newest Colours,

At most Reasonable prices.

The outdoor man and his Tootal tie!

TOOTAL

ANTI-CREASE FABRIC

PATENTED WASHABLE

YEE SANG FAT

CO., LTD.

King's Theatre Building.

Wrote the poet Longfellow:

"I said unto myself, if I were dead what would befall these children? What would be their fate, who now are looking up to me for help and furtherance?"

WEST COAST LIFE

INSURANCE COMPANY

HONG KONG BRANCH OFFICE

9th Floor, Bank Of East Asia Bldg.

Tel. 31613.

District Manager
G. E. R. Divett.

Branch Manager
H. C. E. Bonhoff.

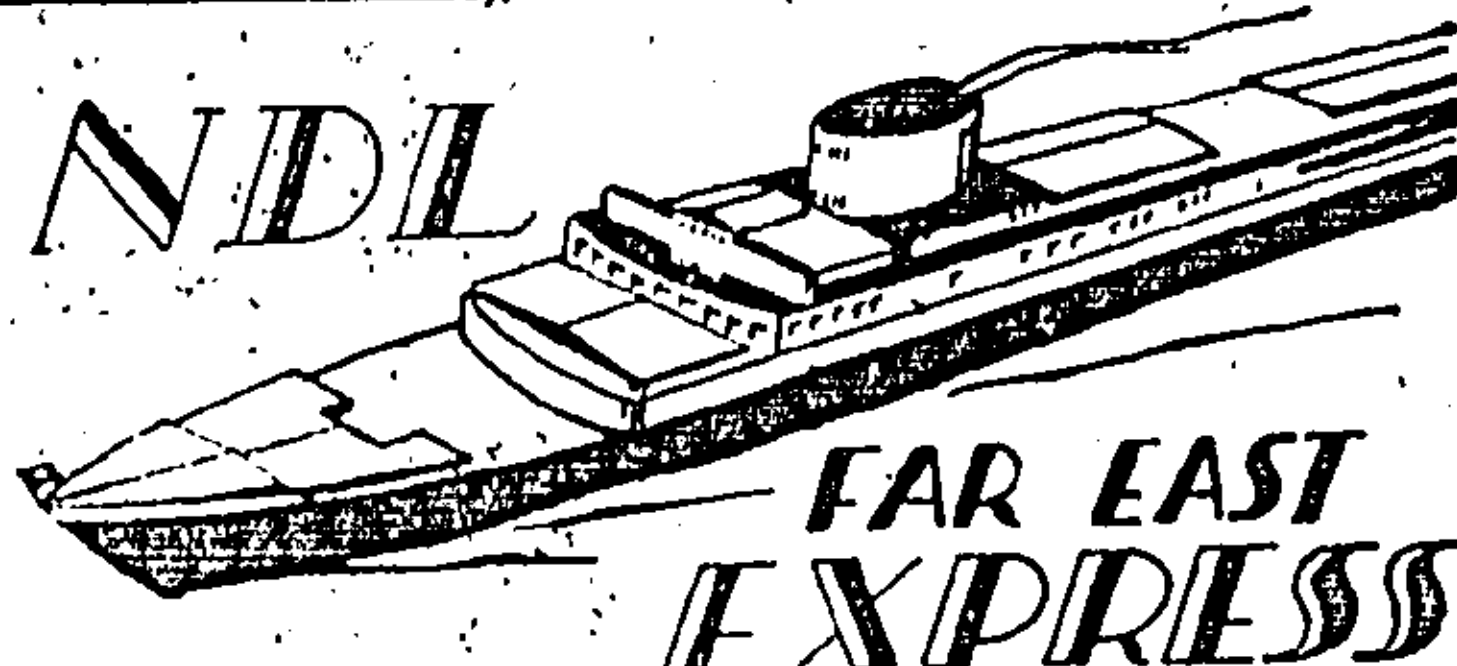

M.V. "VICTORIA" sails for SHANGHAI

On March 27, 1937, Morning and for GENOA, NAPLES
(London Overland)
Via Manila, Singapore, Colombo, Bombay,
Aden, Massawah, & Port Said.
On April 4, 1937, p.m.

LLOYD TRIESTINO

Queen's Bldg., Ground Fl., Tel. 32982
Tel. Add. "LLOYDIANO" P.O.B. 143.
Agents, Canton — Messrs. Dodwell & Co., Ltd., Shameen.

PASSENGER & FREIGHT SERVICE

From Hong Kong to	Vessel	Ports	Date
EUROPE	Schwarzburg	Hamburg, Rotterdam, Bremen & Ham- burg	Mar. 29
	Leopold	Marsdieke, Oden, Rotterdam, Ham- burg, Bremen	Apr. 2
STRAITS & CEYLON	Schwarzburg	Singapore, Penang, Malacca, Colombo	Mar. 29
	Leopold	Singapore, Malacca, Colombo	Apr. 2
MANILA	Schwarzburg	Manila	Mar. 29
SHANGHAI & JAPAN	Potsdam	Shanghai, Yokohama, Kobe	Apr. 8
SHANGHAI, NORTH CHINA & JAPAN	Lulu	Shanghai, Tsingtao, Dairen, Yaku	Apr. 5
SOUTH SEA ISLANDS	Frederun	Madang, Salamaua, Tulagi, Rabaul, etc.	Apr. 6
	Frederun	Madang, Salamaua, Tulagi, Rabaul, etc.	May 31

Subject to Alteration without Notice.
For Passage and Freight apply to:

NORDDEUTSCHER LLOYD BREMEN

Agents: MELCHERS & CO.
Queen's Building, Connaught Road, Telephone 27772.
CANTON AGENTS: JEBSEN & CO., Shameen, B.C.

SOVIET TRADE IN SPAIN

Moscow, Yesterday.
Official figures published yesterday reveal that Soviet trade with Spain increased in value from 20,000 roubles in January, 1935, to 9,000,000 roubles in January, 1937.
Among Soviet imports from Spain for January this year was 2,000 tons of lead and ore.—Trans-Ocean.

MANILA CLOSING QUOTATIONS

(Figures supplied by Messrs. Ellis & Edgar)

	Yesterday
Antamok	1.40
Atok Gold	4.05
Baguio Gold	2.75
Benguet Consol.	13.25
Benguet Expl.	1.75
Big Wedge	2.75
Cons. Mines	0.39
Demonstrations	0.39
Ipo Gold	1.35
Itogon	1.35
I. X. L.	40
Masbate	40
Mineral Resources	35
Northern Mining	12
Para. Gumaus	2.70
San Mauricio	41
Suyoc Consol.	0.5
United Paracale	0.2
Universal Expl.	33
Mambulao Gold	35
Sta. Rosa	0.65
Gumaus Gold	0.1
Cocogrove	Unq.
Equitable	Unq.
Gold Creek	24
East Mindanao	315
North Mindanao	Unq.
Salacot	0.65
Syndicate Invest.	115
Mother Lode	12
Dayaka	24
Tinago	10
Maraman	Unq.
Developments Inc.	Unq.

Shanghai Rubber Shares

The following prices have been received from Shanghai for some popular Rubber shares. As a result of the great activity in the commodity, a keen public interest is being taken locally in them.

Anglo Javans	18.40
Chengs	1.20
Kroevocks	1.35
Senawangs	1.31
Sua Manggis	2.20
Tanah Merah	2.78
Tebongs	1.08
Zhangbes	16.90

MINING IN CONGO

Marked Progress Recorded

GROWING OUTPUT

Brussels, Yesterday.
The rapid progress made in the mining industry of the Belgian Congo during the past year was sketched by the Minister of the Colonies before the Chamber of Deputies yesterday.

Provisional statistics for 1936, he said, revealed that 13,000 kilograms of gold, 100,000 kilograms of silver, 160 kilograms of platinum, 4,800,000 carats of diamonds, 500 kilograms of palladium, 100,000 tons of copper and 7,000 tons of zinc were mined during the year.

Stating that these figures represented a considerable advance over production in the previous two years, the Minister predicted that 1937 would yield 15,000 kilograms of gold, 600,000 carats of diamonds, 120,000 tons of copper and 11,000 tons of zinc.

The question of establishing a mining control board in the Congo, patterned after the Belgian direction of mines, was now being discussed, since the rapid growth of the mining industry in the Congo necessitated a local control organization.—Trans-Ocean.

CANTON BUSINESS REVOLT

Government Decree Defied

Canton, Yesterday.
The Business Tax dispute in Canton has become critical. The Canton Chamber of Commerce has instructed its members not to make their financial reports or to pay taxes to the Government until the whole question is settled.—Our Own Correspondent.

FRENCH LOAN SUCCESS

Paris, Yesterday.
The phenomenal success which has accompanied the French defence loan from the moment of its announcement has not abated. The second "slice" of the loan has now been closed, the two "slices" of 8,000,000,000 francs having been oversubscribed by 500,000,000 francs.—Trans-Ocean.

Cheaper Money in London

London, Yesterday.
The total amount applied for in treasury bills was £91,205,000. An amount of £45,000,000 was allotted in bills at three months. The average rate per cent. was 10/0.93d against 10/4. 95d week ago.—British Wireless.

THIS WEEK ON THE LOCAL SHARE MARKET

Messrs. G. A. Harriman and Co.'s weekly share report and market review issued at noon, yesterday states:—

The week just concluded has been a most active one with trading brisk at rapidly advancing rates in a market reminiscent of the "good old days" of a few years ago. At closing, business is more subdued, due to some profit taking and March Settlement adjustments. Manila ruled staid until mid-day Friday, when quotations dropped sharply owing to the announcement of the United States granting Philippine Independence in 1938 or 1939.

Hong Kong Utilities were, as usual, well supported and a very large business was done in the market favourites. Hong Kong Electric sold up to $59—ex dividend. Trams touched $15.40 (a rise of a dollar on the week). They close however at $15—$15.25. China Lights rose to $15.20, but now offer at $14.75. The 'new' had sales at $11.70. Star Ferries made $89½ and Yaumatis $26. Telephones (old) sold up to $30½ and the new at $12½ and $12.20 closing. Singapore Traction ords have buyers at 26½.

Cements were in active demand and large numbers of shares were taken up to $15.10. Ropes, also were actively dealt in between $3.75 and $4.60.

Dairy Farms reached $27½ cum, and on the excellent report look a good investment purchase on any reaction. Watson were keenly enquired for, up to $5½ and Lane Crawford spurred sharply to $9.00 sales.

Ewo took a sharp rise to Sh.$16½, with Shanghai in the market as buyers.

Vibro Piling are wanted at $7 and Constructions (new) at 45 cts. Large parcels of Hotels were bought for cash up to $7.40 cum dividend, and the substantial buying of this share augurs well for further appreciation in due course. Lands have been dealt in up to $36½ and Realty at $5.80.

Hong Kong and Kowloon Wharfs made $11½ ex and Docks were very active between $29½ and $32. Providents (old) exchanged in quantity from $1.30 up to $2.32½, closing under best at $2.20—$2.25. The "New" shares have buyers at 20 cts.

Douglas can be taken at $36 and Steamboats sold at $11. Maraman Hong Kong are now wanted at 9/6 after sales higher.

Insurances were firm, with sales of Cantons effected at $320, and Hong Kong Fires wanted at $296 cum. Unions are again higher at $632 cum. China Underwriters met with support up to $1.15 sales. Hong Kong Banks were dealt in at $1860.

Philippine Mining. The market appreciated slowly until Friday when a sharp reaction set in due to the aforementioned political announcement.

Following is the list of changes and enquiries in local share quotations yesterday.

BANKS

Hong Kong Bank $1860 a., $1860

Bank of East Asia $87 b.

INSURANCES

Canton Ins. $315 b., $320 a.

Union Ins. $630 b., $630 a.

China Underwriters $1.15 b.

H. K. Fire Ins. $297½ b.

SHIPPING

Douglases $36 b.

H. K. Steamboats $11 a.

DOCKS, WHARVES, GODOWNS, ETC.

H. K. and K. Wharves $115½ a.

H. K. and W. Docks $31½ a., $31½

Providents (Old) $2½ a., $2.20/30

MINING

Raubs $13 b.

LANDS, HOTELS & BLDGS.

H. K. and S. Hotels $7.30 b., $7.35

a., $7.40/30 a.

H. K. Lands $33 b., $36½ a., $30 a.

Humphreys $8½ b., $8½ a.

PUBLIC UTILITIES

H. K. Tramways $15 b., $15.20 a.

$15.20/15 a.

Peak Trams (Old) $4½ b.

Star Ferries $88½ b., $89 a.

H. K. Electric $58½ b., $59 a.

Sandakan Lights $11½ b.

Telephones (Old) $30½ b., $30½

a.

Telephones (New) $12.10 b.

INDUSTRIALS

Cements $14.00 b., $14.85 a., $14-

80/3 a.

H. K. Ropes $4½ b., $4.60 a.

STORES, & C.

Dairy Farms $27 a.

Watsons $5.65 b., $5½ a.

Lane, Crawford $40 a.

COTTON MILLS

Ewo Cottons Sh.$10.30 b.

Shanghai Cotton (Old) Sh.$118 b.

Shanghai Cottons (New) Sh.$93 b.

MISCELLANEOUS

Constructions (New) 45 cts. b.

Vibro Piling $7 a.

Opening 10 a.m.

In Paces.

Antamoks 1.35

Atoks 40

Baguio Gold 20

Balacot Mining 14

Benguet Consol. 13½

Benguet Expl. 17½

Big Wedge 20½

Coco Grove 62

Consolidated Mines 0.38

Demonstrations 84

E. Mindanao 33

Gumaus C'field 24

Ipo Gold 1.30

Itogons 1.30

Masbate Consol. 41

Min. Resources 34

Northern Mining 13

Paracale Gumaus 64

Salacot Mining 2.60

Suyoc Consol. 39

United Paracales 0.1

SINGAPORE RAW RUBBER

Messrs. H. B. Joseph & Co., yesterday received the following quotations from Singapore in Straits-Currency for Raw Rubber:

Spot 41½ b. Down 1.

April-June 42 b. Down 1½.

July-Sept. 42½ b. Down 1½.

Oct.-Dec. 42½ b. Down 1½.

Market:—Easier.

announcement. Demonstrations sold at $1.50, Paracale Gumaus at $1.06½, Baguio at 45½ cts., and a considerable business was negotiated in Nielson & Co., Inc.

up to 72 cts.

Closing comment. Hong Kong firm, but quieter. Manila easy after being firm.

Do your teeth live up to your Lipstick?

A deftly reddened mouth is attractive—but it does draw attention to your teeth. Make sure that they are white and lovely by using Macleans Peroxide Toothpaste.

Macleans contains a special solvent to remove stains so that its safe whitening ingredients can gently but thoroughly cleanse and polish the enamel.

"Makes yellow teeth white"

THE FAVOURITE at all race meetings...

SEAGER'S GIN

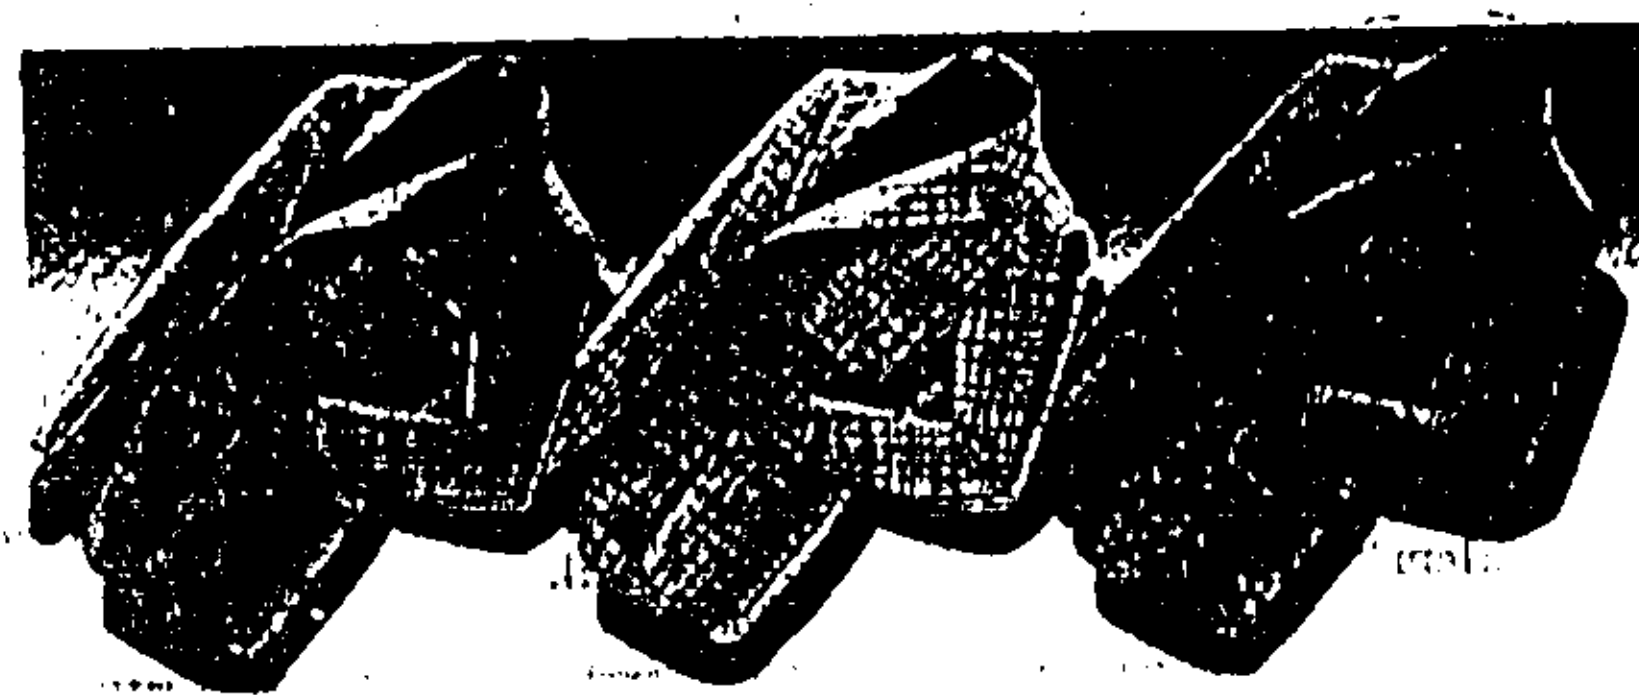

The Spirit of To-day ...and To-morrow

SEAGER, EVANS & CO. LTD., THE DISTILLERY, DEPTFORD, LONDON, S.E.8
THE CHOICE OF CONNOISSEURS FOR 130 YEARS

Obtainable Everywhere

Sole Agents:

H. Ruttonjee & Son

"A CUT ABOVE THE ORDINARY"

Try our individual service tailoring

A HIGH-GRADE SPECIALIZED SERVICE TO EACH PERSON AT PRICES WHICH DEFY COMPETITION

THERE'S PRACTICAL EXPERIENCE BEHIND EVERY GARMENT

Take this opportunity now during our STOCK TAKING

SALE

while our stock lasts as materials prices are rising

CHINA EMPORIUM, LTD.

Queen's Road Central

UNCERTAINTIES IN BRITAIN'S NEXT BUDGET

Death of Harry Vardon

LONDON, YESTERDAY.—THE DEATH OF HARRY VARDON, SIX-TIMES WINNER OF THE BRITISH OPEN GOLF CHAMPIONSHIP AND MOST FAMOUS GOLFERS OF HIS DAY.

Aged 67, Vardon had long ago given up competitive golf but at the time of his death was employed as professional by the South Herts Golf Club.

He won the British Open in 1896, 1898, 1899, 1903, 1911 and 1914.

In 1900 he won the American Open Championship for the only time in his long career, and eleven years later carried off the German title.

In 1912 he won the "News of the World" Tournament, this, his last win in a major competition, bringing his list of conquests in first-class tournaments to 62, an unprecedented record.

Vardon published two books on the game, "The Complete Golfer and How to Play Golf" and "My Golfing Life."—Reuter.

LIFE INSURANCE PROGRESS

Manufacturers' Life Annual Report

A substantial increase in Assets and in Insurance in force features the 6th annual report of the Manufacturers' Life Insurance Company for 1936.

New insurances amounting to $1,500,177, were written bringing the insurance in force to $109,425,067, and increase of $2,686,671.

Payments to policyholders and beneficiaries totalled $2,803,704. Of such payments the sum of $1,947,325 was paid to living policyholders, including $385,393 in dividends, while $856,379 was paid beneficiaries in death claims.

The assets increased by over $2,013,699 and amounted to $29,624,422. Policy and annuity reserves increased to $24,948,848. Contingency reserve has been increased by $102,740 to $410,959. The Reserve for dividends to policyholders amounted to $940,068.

The Head Office for South China is situated on the 2nd Floor, Shell House, Hong Kong, under the management of Mr. E. J. R. Mitchell.

The Company is also represented in Canton with a District Office under the management of Mr. R. K. Batchelor, and Mr. V. E. Ferrier, agent.

Messrs. Carr, Ramsey and Son, Swatow, are agents for the Company in that territory, while F. J. Noronha represents the Company in Macao.

At the meeting of the Rotary Club on Tuesday Col. J. L. Sleeman, Chief Commissioner of the Brigade Overseas, will speak on "The Order of St. John of Jerusalem."

Improving Revenues Complicate Mr. Chamberlain's Problem

CHANCELLOR MAY DOUBLE RADIO LICENCE FEE

MR. STANLEY BALDWIN'S ANNOUNCEMENT THAT THE BUDGET WILL BE PRESENTED BY THE CHANCELLOR OF THE EXCHEQUER ON APRIL 20 HAS GIVEN RISE TO A FLOOD OF SPECULATION REGARDING THE NATURE AND EXTENT OF THE ADDITIONAL TAXATION FOR WHICH IT IS CERTAIN, MR. NEVILLE CHAMBERLAIN WILL ASK.

Prophets are set a greater problem than usual. The remarkable increase in receipts from ordinary sources of revenue in the past two or three months have already revealed that this year's Budget, contrary to earlier expectations, will end with a surplus, and it is difficult to predict to what extent the Chancellor and his financial experts will expect increased income from existing taxation.

There is general agreement that there will be an increase in the income tax. A rise of 9d. or even a shilling is talked about, but the better opinion is that the Chancellor will find ways of obtaining the funds required without additional income tax beyond a rise of 3d. in the pound.

A rise in excess profits duties; A tax on bicycles; A bigger levy on motorists; Doubled fees for radio licences.

These are the ways in which, according to one newspaper expert, the Chancellor of the Exchequer, Mr. Neville Chamberlain will seek to meet Britain's huge arms bill in his Budget next month.

An increase in the excess profit duties is considered likely because these duties were imposed during the war as a partial check on profiteering, and an increase might help to satisfy the demand of the Opposition for a limitation on profit on arms.

Other taxes which it is believed will figure in the Budget are:—

A 6s. tax on bicycles (yield £2,000,000); Doubling the cost of a radio licence (£4,000,000); Restoring the old 51 per horse power tax on cars (£5,000,000);

A poll tax on all aliens entering Britain to take up any work, whether temporary or permanent.

It is also possible that the Chancellor will slightly increase the duty on tea and sugar though he will do all he can to avoid placing a burden on the poor man's breakfast table.

YESTERDAY'S SALE OF FLOWERS

$2,400 Realised For Chinese Charities

The Diocesan Flower Day, held yesterday under the auspices of the Chung Wah Shing Kung Society, resulted in over $2,400 being collected on the mainland and Island.

Miss Lun Sien-ching, a nurse attached to the staff of Dr. Arthur Woo, was once again responsible for collecting the largest amount. Her box contained $41.60 when opened.

Of the total amount $900 were collected in the Central District.

The money will be utilised in maintaining the Aged Women's Home, and other local charitable institutions, which are under the control of the Society.

The Society desires to thank all who contributed so generously.

Earl of Clarendon Sails For Home

London, Yesterday.—The Earl of Clarendon, the retiring Governor-General of South Africa, left Capetown to-day with Lady Clarendon for England. They were given a rousing send-off at the wharf.—Reuter.

The finish of the Mixed Double Sculls at the Canton Rowing Club Regatta last Sunday. See story on Page 15.

I.R.C. JUNIORS THWARTED BY RAINSTORM

In an intra-Club cricket game at the Indian Recreation Club yesterday the junior team drew with the senior team.

Rain caused the game to be abandoned 40 minutes before time and after five of the senior team's wickets had fallen for 76 runs.

I.R.C. 2nd XI
A. S. Suffad, b F. M. Arculli	5	28	15
K. Nazarin, b Madar	2	16
M. el Arculli, c sub, b Madar	1
A. R. Minu, c A. R. Rumjahn, b Abbas	3
J. S. A. Curroem, st. Ismail, b Kitchell	31
M. I. Razack, c Kitchell, b Curroem	22
K. M. Rumjahn, c Barma, b Bakar	15
A. R. Azickel, b Bakar	6
M. R. Abbas, b F. M. el Arculli	8
O. Sadick, c F. M. el Arculli, b Madar	7
A. K. Minu, not out	1
Extras (B12)	1

Total

Bowling Analysis		O	M	R	W
F. M. el Arculli	10	1	27	2	2
A. H. Madar	10	3	45	3	3
A. R. Abbas	6	0	40	1	1
A. R. Kitchell	4	1	17	1	1
A. Bakar	4	1	9	2	2
F. A. Curroem	1	0	1	1	1

I.R.C. 1st XI

Y. el Arculli, c and b M. el Arculli	1
S. A. Ismail, b M. el Arculli	0
A. R. Abbas, lb.w., b M. R. Abbas	23
A. H. Madar, b Minu	24
A. Bakar, not out	1
F. M. el Arculli, not out	9
Extras (B12, LB3)	15

Total (for 5 wks.)

Bowling Analysis		O	M	R	W
Y. T. Barma, F. A. Curroem and A. H. Rumjahn, did not bat.	One
M. el Arculli	9	1	30	2	2
A. R. Minu	6	0	18	2	2
M. R. Abbas	3	1	13	1	1

CHAMPIONS BEAT CENTRAL BRITISH TEAM

At King's Park yesterday the Kowloon Cricket Club beat Central British School by 95 runs.

Kowloon C.C.
W. L. McKenzie, c and b McLeLlan	24
G. A. V. Hall, c and b McLeLlan	14
E. F. Fincher, hit wicket, b Street	17
R. Baldwin, b McLeLlan	14
B. D. Lay, not out	38
A. W. Ramsay, not out	40
Extras (B8, LB1)	9

Total (for 4 wks. dec.)

S. A. Gray, R. Lee, C. B. R. Sargent, R. A. J. Simpson and A. A. Dand did not bat.	175
Bowling Analysis		O	M	R	W
McLeLlan	14	3	46	3	3
Street	13	1	55	1	1
Hosegood	3	0	13	0	0
Baxter	3	0	34	0	0
Gegg	1	0	17	0	0

Central British

N. J. Booker, c McKenzie, b Leo	3
W. Gegg, c Dand, b McKenzie	0
D. McLeLlan, b Leo	0
W. Mulcahy, c Leo, b Baxter	10
D. E. Street, b Sargent	18
T. Sutter, run out	4
C. Hosegood, not out	15
L. Lockhard, c Gray, b Lay	1
K. Shute, c Ramsay, b Fincher	3
W. Shute, b McKenzie	6
M. Smith, c Lay, b McKenzie	6
Extras (B11)	11

Total

Bowling Analysis		O	M	R	W
Leo	4	2	3	2	2
McKenzie	7.5	2	19	3	3
Baxter	3	1	10	0	0
Sargent	4	0	5	1	1
Gray	2	0	0	0	0
Lay	2	1	2	1	1
Fincher	2	0	9	1	1
Baldwin	2	1	3	0	0
Ramsay	1	0	4	0	0
Hall	1	0	5	0	0

Following a quarrel with her husband, Leung Yi attempted to take her life by swallowing 100 heroin pills on Friday and was admitted to the G.C.H.

"Y" LADIES LOSE PROUD RECORD

WEAKENED TEAM FAIL BY ONLY GOAL

SCRAPPY hockey interspersed with flashes of brilliance featured the two Champions versus the Rest ladies' hockey games, which were held on the Y.M.C.A. ground, King's Park, yesterday before a large gathering and which resulted in wins for the Senior Rest team over the "Y" Ladies, winners of the Caer Clark Cup League, by a solitary goal, and for the Junior Rest team over the Central British School "A," winners of the Brawn Cup League, by two clear goals.

The "Y" Ladies did extraordinarily well to hold the Senior Rest of the Colony side to a solitary goal defeat, in view of their greatly weakened team—they were without two of their regular members in Miss E. Thomson, their pivot, and Mrs. Read, their centre-forward. With the inclusion of these two they might quite easily have retained their unbeaten record.

The Rest side contained eight Interport players who recently played against the Shanghai Ladies, including the entire intermediate line, which was in brilliant form yesterday, Miss J. Wong being outstanding in the centre-half position. It was only her fine spilling which prevented the "Y" Ladies from recording a victory.

TWO OPEN GOALS

On the run of the play the "Y" Ladies should have been 3 goals to 1 in the lead at the interval, Miss Smith failing to score when presented with two open goals, one of her shots being caught by Miss Rose's skirts, while her second was kicked clear. A third attempt, following a solo run, went just wide of the upright.

The Caer Clark Cup champions had to re-arrange their team and Miss A. Fowler, at centre-half, was not the success she has been a full-back, her positioning being poor, while she was no match for Mrs. Donald, whose stickwork in the centre and distribution were features of the game.

Individually, the Rest team were better than their opponents. Mrs. Rose was confident between the sticks, but that was because she had two very sound backs in front of her in Miss Gray and Miss Smalley. The latter was particularly good in her interceptions, while Miss Gray's speed and reverse-stick clearances were her best assets.

SHAKY DEFENCE

The "Y" rear-line of defence was very shaky, although they started off confidently. Mrs. Burke hit a good hard ball in the opening minutes, but she was inclined to top the ball later, while Mrs. Slater gave a promising display as her partner, though lacking power in her clearances.

The Rest intermediate line was in splendid fettle, Miss Wong giving a magnificent display in the centre and being ably supported on the flanks by Miss L. Woolley and Miss Glover. Miss Woolley was not at her very best, however, her feeding of Miss F. Wong, on the right-wing, not being too good.

LOST IN CENTRE

Miss Fowler was lost in the centre, although she worked very hard and spied well, and her clearances, while powerful, one might say almost too powerful on occasions, were futile in view of the fact that none of her forwards were able to intercept them. Miss Lakeman was very poor on the left-flank.

The Rest attack worked with fine precision and Miss F. Wong, on the right-wing, and Miss Hunt, on the opposite flank, both nearly scored goals. Miss Marsh was a trifle selfish at inside-right, although she worked very hard for the openings. It was probably her over-eagerness which spoiled a golden opportunity of scoring when she shot at goal and missed instead of passing to Miss Wong, who was unmarked.

BRILLIANT DISPLAY

Mrs. Donald, in the centre-forward position, was never better, and distributed the ball right and left with equal precision. Miss Gittins, although she scored the only goal, was not at her best, the spilling several openings by being off-side, although it must be admitted that several of the passes from her halves were very poor ones.

MISS SMITH UNSUPPORTED

Miss Smith was almost unsupported at inside-left as Miss Westcott experienced an off-day. The latter, with the exception of one clever move, when she slipped the ball past Miss Smalley on the blind side, was never really a danger to the Rest goal. Miss Smith worked very hard for her openings, but could not find the net.

A breakaway by Mrs. Donald saw Miss Gittins snap up a pass to score from close quarters. There was no further scoring during the game.

"Y" Ladies:—Mrs. Stephens; Mrs. Burke and Mrs. Slater; Miss K. Tonge, Miss A. Fowler and Miss J. Lakeman; Miss V. Bradbury, Mrs. J. Gardner, Miss O. Dalziel, Miss M. Smith and Miss M. Westcott.

Senior Rest XI:—Mrs. Rose (St. Andrew's); Miss E. Gray (H.K.L.H.C.); Miss J. Smalley (H.K.L.H.C.); Miss I. Woolley (C.B.A.); Miss J. Wong (St. Andrew's); Miss F. Wong (H.K.L.H.C.); Miss W. Marsh (H.K.L.H.C.); Mrs. Donald (H.K.L.H.C.); Miss P. Gittins (St. Andrew's) and Miss D. Hunt (C.B.A.).

TROPHIES PRESENTED

Following the game, Miss E. M. Gray, Vice-President of the H.K.L.H.A., made a short speech in which she thanked the Services for the use of their grounds and also the men who had kindly helped by umpiring at their weekend League matches.

She then asked Mrs. T. E. Pearce, President of the Association, to present the Cups, Miss A. Fowler

BRAWN CUP CHAMPIONS OVERAWED

INFERIORITY COMPLEX

TWO GOALS FOR MISS HAMON

COMING ONTO THE FIELD WITH AN APPARENT INFERIORITY COMPLEX, THE CENTRAL BRITISH SCHOOLGIRLS' "A" TEAM GAVE A VERY POOR DISPLAY AGAINST THE JUNIOR REST OF THE COLONY SIDE IN THEIR HOCKEY ENCOUNTER AT KING'S PARK YESTERDAY. MISS E. HAMON SCORING TWO GOALS TO GIVE THE REST A COMFORTABLE VICTORY.

The schoolgirls never really threatened, too much individualism in their attack losing them golden opportunities of scoring. Their greatest failing was in their inability to follow up a hit with a view to intercepting the very weak clearances which were being effected by the opposing backs and halves.

Miss Fraser, the C.B.S. "A" right-back, who had worked up an admirable reputation as a hard-hitting full-back, seemed to suffer from stage-fright, while Miss Goodwin, her colleague, though giving a plucky display under trying conditions, proved no match for the fast right-wing combination of Mrs. Weir and Mrs. Campbell.

PLENTY OF GRIT

The Rest full-backs were not very good, Mrs. Ratcliffe being the pick of the two, although she was inclined to clear at random, instead of sending the ball to a definite player. Miss Dodd, at right-half, was the pick of the Rest intermediate line, and what she lacked in power behind her passes and clearances she made up for in grit and determination to prevent the schoolgirls from breaking through on the left-wing.

The C.B.S. intermediate line was very disappointing. Miss J. Booker was invariably out of position, Miss McCaw, at centre-half, was magnificent in her spilling, but her distribution was poor in the face of quick-tackling opposing inside-forwards who played the "V" formation, and Miss Lai-hovelesky, on the left-flank, was never completely at home against Mrs. Campbell and Mrs. Weir.

STAGE FRIGHT

The schoolgirls failed in their attack because there was too much individualism and not enough co-ordination. Miss Parkinson was also suffering from stage-fright and could do nothing right on the right-wing, while Miss M. Booker was too selfish at inside-right. This also applied to Miss M. Shand, the inside-left, who could have given the schoolgirls two goals had she passed to Miss D. McCaw just outside the circle instead of attempting solo efforts. Miss Baxter was poor on the left wing. In fact the only bright spark in the attack was Miss D. McCaw, who, through lack of support, could achieve very little on her own.

The Rest attack was much better, and combination among the inside forwards saw a fitting result in two clever goals by Miss Hamon.

MISS BOOKLER SHINES

Mrs. Weir showed a fine turn of speed on the right-wing and combined excellently with Mrs. Campbell, while on the other flank Miss Smalley and Miss Bookler made a very dangerous pair, the latter giving an exceptionally fine display in spite of the fact that she was a total stranger to the position.

Miss Hamon, in the centre, was excellent and realised that a shot from the edge of the circle was as good as taking the ball right into the goalmouth, and in this manner she netted both her goals in the first half. She displayed fine stickwork and was soon in some dazzling movements with Mrs. Campbell.

Junior Rest XI:—Miss Hall (D.G.S.); Mrs. Ratcliffe (R.U.R.) and Miss Parsons (C.B.A.); Miss Dodd (D.G.S.); Mrs. Hole (R.U.R.); and Mrs. Wigham (R.W.F.); Mrs. Weir (H.K.L.H.C.); Mrs. Campbell (R.U.R.); Miss E. Hamon (R.U.R.); Miss M. Smalley (H.K.L.H.C.) and Miss Bookler (C.B.S.).

C.B.S. "A"—Miss C. Minnott; Miss M. Fraser and Miss B. Goodwin; Miss J. Booker, Miss M. McCaw and Miss E. Laitorevsky; Miss J. Parkinson, Miss M. Booker, Miss D. McCaw, Miss M. Shand and Miss P. Baxter.

"Y" Ladies' receiving the Caer Clark Cup, Miss J. Smalley (H.K. Ladies), the Southern Cup, Miss M. McCaw, (C.B.S. "A"), the Brawn Cup and Mrs. Campbell (R. U. R. Ladies) the Knoll Cup.

USE YOUR HEAD AND COME TO CALDBECK'S

IN OUR NEW OFFICES
AT 2, CHATER ROAD

(CORNER OF STATUE SQUARE AND CHATER ROAD)

THE LEADING WINE AND SPIRIT MERCHANTS IN THE FAR EAST.

"Equal to a fine liqueur"

"I can tell

White Horse

blindfold! And to think that at one time I used simply to ask for whisky-and-soda! White Horse is just like a fine liqueur!"

Sole Agents for S. China: JARDINE MATHESON & CO., LTD.

SANDEMAN

SHERRY & PORT

OBTAINABLE EVERYWHERE

REX FAVOURITES.

- 8556—Sandy's River Outing. Sandy Powell.
- 8312—Nursery Rhymes. Jay Wilbur & His Orch.
- 8441—Sing 'em Again. Primo Scala's Accord. Band.
- 8560—Red Sails in the Sunset. Louisiana Fairy Tale. Casani Club Orch.
- 8568—Reginald Dixon Hits No. 2. Organ.
- 8567—Charlie Kunz Piano Medley No. 7.
- 8576—Anna. Primo Scala's Accord. Band.
- Joseph the Juggler.
- 8618—Old Soldiers Never Die. Gracie Fields.
- 8036—Trees. Gracie Fields.
- Smilin' Through.
- 8694—The Broken Record. Jack Payne's Orch.
- My Shadow's Where My Sweetheart Is.
- 8709—Sympathy. Casani Club Orch.
- Old Ship O' Mine.
- 8715—Animal Crackers in My Soup.
- When I Grow Up. Baby Durelle Alexander.
- 8744—Them Hill Billies are Mountain Williams Now. San. Original Hoosier Hot Shot. Hill Billy.

TSANG FOOK PIANO COMPANY,
Marina House, 19 Queen's Road, C.
Tel. 24648.

BAGGAGE TRANSFERS

Telephone 27761 to Engage our Service.

Efficient and Secure
CHINA PROVIDENT LOAN & MORTGAGE
CO., LTD.

CANTON ROWING TRIUMPH

Centenary Celebrations

HONG KONG TEAM RECORD TWO WINS BEFORE BIG CROWD

LADIES COMPETE IN CLOSE CONTEST

(From A Special Correspondent)

LAST SUNDAY, MARCH 14, THE CANTON ROWING CLUB, TO CELEBRATE THE CENTENARY OF COMPETITIVE ROWING IN CANTON, HELD AN INTERPORT REGATTA, TO WHICH THE ROYAL HONG KONG YACHT CLUB, THE VICTORIA RECREATION CLUB, THE SHANGHAI ROWING CLUB AND THE MANILA BOAT CLUB WERE INVITED, AND WHILE IT WAS ONLY POSSIBLE FOR THE FIRST-NAMED CLUB TO SEND CREWS TO CANTON, THE DAY WAS VERY FAR FROM MARRED BY THE ABSENCE OF THE OTHERS, AND AN EXCELLENT AFTERNOON'S SPORT WAS HAD.

Weather conditions were ideal, with a not too strong sun shining, and a gentle, following breeze prevailing. The course was laid out on the Pearl River from the new Sai Nam Bridge to a point about a mile above Shamen, where H.M.S. Seaweed and the Canonic Francaise Argus were moored, about 200 feet apart to form a finishing line, the judges' stand being on the former vessel.

In a line above H.M.S. Seaweed were moored many motor launches, houseboats and yachts, which, with the numerous motorboats, sampans and other craft cruising about the river outside the course, helped to give the whole affair a very festive appearance. It must have been strongly reminiscent of that day, a hundred years ago, when the newly-formed Canton Regatta Club held their first rowing and sailing regatta on the river, except that in those pioneer days they were not favoured with the presence of two gunboats, and of a large contingent drawn from the fair sex amongst the spectators. Canton was forbidden to foreign women in those days.

A service of launches carried spectators from Shamen to the course, where they were accommodated on board the two gunboats by courtesy of the Commanders, and on board other vessels provided by the kindness of local firms and individuals. It is estimated that the greater part of the foreign community present in Canton attended the regatta, not to mention a number of Hong Kong supporters who had made the trip to Canton.

Early Success

The first race on the programme, the Griffin Fours, was between representatives of the R.H.K.Y.C.—I. Rudloff (Bow), P.D.H. Munro (2), P.M.C. Dobbs (3), B. S. Carter (Stroke), G. Parker (Cox)—and the Canton R.C.—S.L. Bojesen (Bow), P. C. M. Sedgwick (2), H. Embden (3), H. W. E. Heath (Stroke), C. W. Lyle (Cox), started the day in most exciting fashion.

Racing "neck and neck" down the course, the issue was in doubt until the last moment, when the Canton crew just managed to nose their boat ahead in a desperate spurt to win the race by a few feet and thereby become the holders of the "Centenary" Challenge Cup for the first year of its existence. This gave Canton a 4 points' lead in the Interport series.

The next race, the Senior Fours for the Cameron Challenge Cup, saw the R.H.K.Y.C. enter two crews—"A": G. S. P. Heywood (Bow), R. W. Smith (2), A. G. Dalziel (3), H. A. Arnold (Stroke), B. S. Carter (Cox), and "B"—J. E. Potter (Bow), K. Knudsen (2), A. W. Holden (3), M. W. Scott (Stroke), G. Parker (Cox)—opposed to the Canton R. C. crew of R. J. Minnitt (Bow), J. P. Gardiner (2), B. R. Rasmussen (3), H. C. Braham (Stroke), G. R. Ross (Cox).

Good Start

Canton got away to a fine start and drew away into an early lead, which they managed to hold and gradually increase in spite of repeated challenges from the Hong Kong "B" crew, who had to be content with second place, two lengths behind Canton, while the Hong Kong "A" crew found the pace too hot for them and came in a few lengths behind their Club-mates. Canton now led by 12 points to nil.

Race three on the programme was provided by two crews drawn from H.M.S. Seaweed, rowing in Club Wharries, and a hard-fought race resulted in a win for the "White Boat" over the "Brown Boat" by two lengths.

Quickly on the heels of this race came the Junior Fours race for the "Hong Kong Telegraph" Challenge Cup. Canton were represented by F. E. W. Lammert (Bow), L. A. Searle (2), N. O. Christensen (3), V. E. Feimann (Stroke), C. W. Lyle (Cox), and Hong Kong by D. R. Ryde (Bow), T. Swan (2), R. C. Harley (3), J. C. McDouall (Stroke), G. Parker (Cox).

H. K. Crew's Misfortune

Getting away to a quick start, Canton jumped into the lead right away, and at the half-mile mark were leading comfortably by two lengths. The Hong Kong crew had the misfortune here to break their bow slide, and under this handicap they rapidly lost further "ground," coming in a number of lengths behind the home crew. This gave Canton another 6 points to their total.

The races were now going like clockwork, and the fifth event, for Griffin Pairs, proved another close event, the rival crews racing down the course close together until the last two hundred yards, when the Hong Kong pair, P. M. C. Dobbs (Bow) and B. S. Carter (Stroke), with G. Parker coxing, drove their boat across the finishing line in a fine spurt to win by two lengths from the Canton combination of S. L. Bojesen (Bow), H. W. E. Heath (Stroke), C. W. Lyle (Cox), thereby becoming holders of the C. R. C. Challenge Cup and giving their Club their first points. (Score: Canton 18 points; H.K. 2.)

Second Colony Victory

The sixth race, for Senior Pairs for the Schubert Challenge Cup, gave Hong Kong another victory and reduced the Canton lead by another 4 points. They entered two boats, "A" composed of J. E. Potter (Bow), M. W. Scott (Stroke), G. S. P. Heywood (Cox), and "B" A. W. Holden (Bow), K. Knudsen (Stroke), G. Parker (Cox), against Canton's crew of R. J. Minnitt (Bow), H. C. Braham (Stroke), C. W. Lyle (Cox).

Rowing well together both Hong Kong boats led the Canton representatives over the finishing line, their "A" crew being 1½ lengths ahead of their "B" crew, and the latter coming in a similar distance ahead of Canton. (Score: 18 points to 6.)

Ladies Included

Event seven on the programme, the Junior Pairs for the Otto Challenge Cup, was the last Interport race of the day, the remaining three events being competed for amongst the members of Canton Rowing Club.

Here Canton were once more successful, N. O. Christensen (Bow), L. A. Searle (Stroke) and

G. R. Ross (Cox), leading the Hong Kong crew.—R. C. Harley (Bow), J. C. McDouall (Stroke), G. Parker (Cox), by some lengths over the finishing line, Canton thereby securing the Hong Kong flag by 21 points to 6.

Event eight, Mixed Double Sculls, with lady coxswains and strokes and men in the bow seats, brought the spectators to their feet, cheering their favourites, and this proved a most exciting race, the two boats alternately leading until the last hundred yards, when the Blues.—Mr. E. Smiler (Bow), Miss S. Crowe (Stroke) and Mrs. B. R. Rasmussen (Cox)—managed, despite dour opposition, to force their boat over the line half a length ahead of the Whites.—Mr. J. P. Gardiner (Bow), Miss O. Archangelosky (Stroke) and Miss J. H. Christensen (Cox).

Event nine was for Veteran Fours. Hong Kong were to have sent up a crew to compete against the Canton veterans, but unfortunately two of their crew were unlucky enough to get "crooked" and they had to scratch.

Another crew of "Near Veterans" from Canton was entered and a good race was seen, the latter displaying fine style, but the difference in years proved too much for the Veterans and, despite a very gallant spurt at the end, they had to yield first place by two lengths to the "Near Veterans," composed of R. E. Beardsworth (Bow), H. J. D. Lowe (2), E. Smiler (3), A. C. Groves (Stroke) and G. R. Ross (Cox). The Veterans were K. Neckelmann (Bow), D. L. Dawson (2), H. Lehmann (3), M. A. Annett (Stroke), and C. W. Lyle (Cox).

International Classic

The last event on the programme showed how international the interest in rowing is in Canton, for three crews, representing England, Germany, and Denmark, entered for this event. Before the race, England were generally conceded the best chance of winning, with Germany and Denmark about equal, but Denmark sprang a surprise.

Getting off to a very quick start, and stroking 35 to 36 a minute for the first quarter mile, they obtained a safe lead, which they held to the end. The English and German crews put up a fine contest for second place, the issue being in doubt until almost the end, when the former drew ahead, to come in half a length in front of Germany.

The crews were:

Denmark: S. L. Bojesen (Bow), N. O. Christensen (2), B. R. Rasmussen (3), R. Stege (Stroke), G. R. Ross (Cox);

England: F. E. W. Lammert (Bow), L. A. Searle (2), H. W. E. Heath (3), H. C. Braham (Stroke), C. W. Lyle (Cox);

Germany: E. Link (Bow), H. Embden (2), Stegner (3), V. E. Feimann (Stroke), Sander (Cox).

After the last race the prizes were distributed on board H.M.S. Seaweed by Mrs. K. Neckelmann, wife of the President of the Canton Rowing Club.

Interport Dinner

In the evening, shortly after 7 o'clock, Officials, Hong Kong guests, and members of the Canton Rowing Club gathered at the Canton Club for cocktails and, later, dinner, the latter being served in the lounge of the Club, which had been attractively decorated with flags kindly loaned by the Navy. H. B. M. Consul General, Mr. A. P. Blunt, C.M.G., Patron of the Canton Rowing Club, presided over the large gathering at dinner, which numbered about 70 and filled the lounge to capacity.

During dinner Mr. A. P. Blunt gave an interesting and most entertaining speech, which was warmly applauded by all present. This was followed by speeches by Mr. J. E. Potter, the R.H.K.Y.C. Rowing Captain, and Mr. B. R. Rasmussen, the Canton Rowing Club Captain, attendant to the ceremony of handing over the Interport flag.

A concluding speech was given by Mr. K. Neckelmann, the President of the Canton Rowing Club, in which he thanked Mr. H. C. Braham, the Canton Senior Stroke, for the support he had given the Club and the sport of rowing during his membership. The happy spirit which had prevailed during the regatta continued throughout the evening and culminated in a general community "sing-song" with Mr. J. P. Gardiner at the piano providing the music.

"MOUTRIE"

The natural choice of those who appreciate a fine piano.

Models from $450.00 Nett.

Every "Moutrie" piano is fully guaranteed and built to last a lifetime.

Catalogue of complete range sent on request.

S. MOUTRIE & CO., LTD.
YORK BUILDING, CHATER ROAD.

A Great Name
a Great Gin—

Gordon's

You cannot go to sleep...

because you have neglected that cough. You will continue to have sleepless nights, unless you effectively combat your cough. Order a bottle of Tussamag, the highly effective, harmless cough remedy, which has a pleasant taste and odour. You need your nights rest if you wish to execute your duties next day.

OBTAINABLE AT ALL DRUGGISTS and STORES.
Sole Agents for SOUTH CHINA and HONG KONG:
MELCHERS & CO.

Tussamag

KING'S
SHOWING TO-DAY at 2.30, 5.10, 7.15 & 9.30 P.M.
THEY ARE SO EXCITING TOGETHER!
"Why should a young man like you care about a woman like me?"

GARY COOPER loves JEAN ARTHUR
IN
Cecil B. DeMille's
"THE PLAINSMAN"
with James Ellison • Charles Bickford • Helen Burgess
Porter Hall • Directed by Cecil B. DeMille • A Paramount Picture

Next Change • "SINNER" with Bruce Cabot • Margaret Livingston • Ralph Bellamy • M.G.M. Picture

MAJESTY
THEATRE
(MATINEES: 20c-30c • EVENINGS: 20c-30c-50c-70c)

"TO-DAY & TO-MORROW"
THE BELOVED VETERAN OF THE SCREEN
IN HIS MOST AMUSING ROLE AS THE LAZIEST MAN IN TOWN! ! !

Wallace Beery
IN M.G.M.'S NEWEST, HEART-WARMING HIT
"OLD HUTCH"
Don't take my word for it... but I think "Old Hutch" will make you laugh and cry and holler just like "Ah Wilderness" and "Min and Bill"!

Also
M.G.M. NEWSREEL AND THRILLER

THE SWEETHEARTS OF "Ah Wilderness" in another romantic triumph!

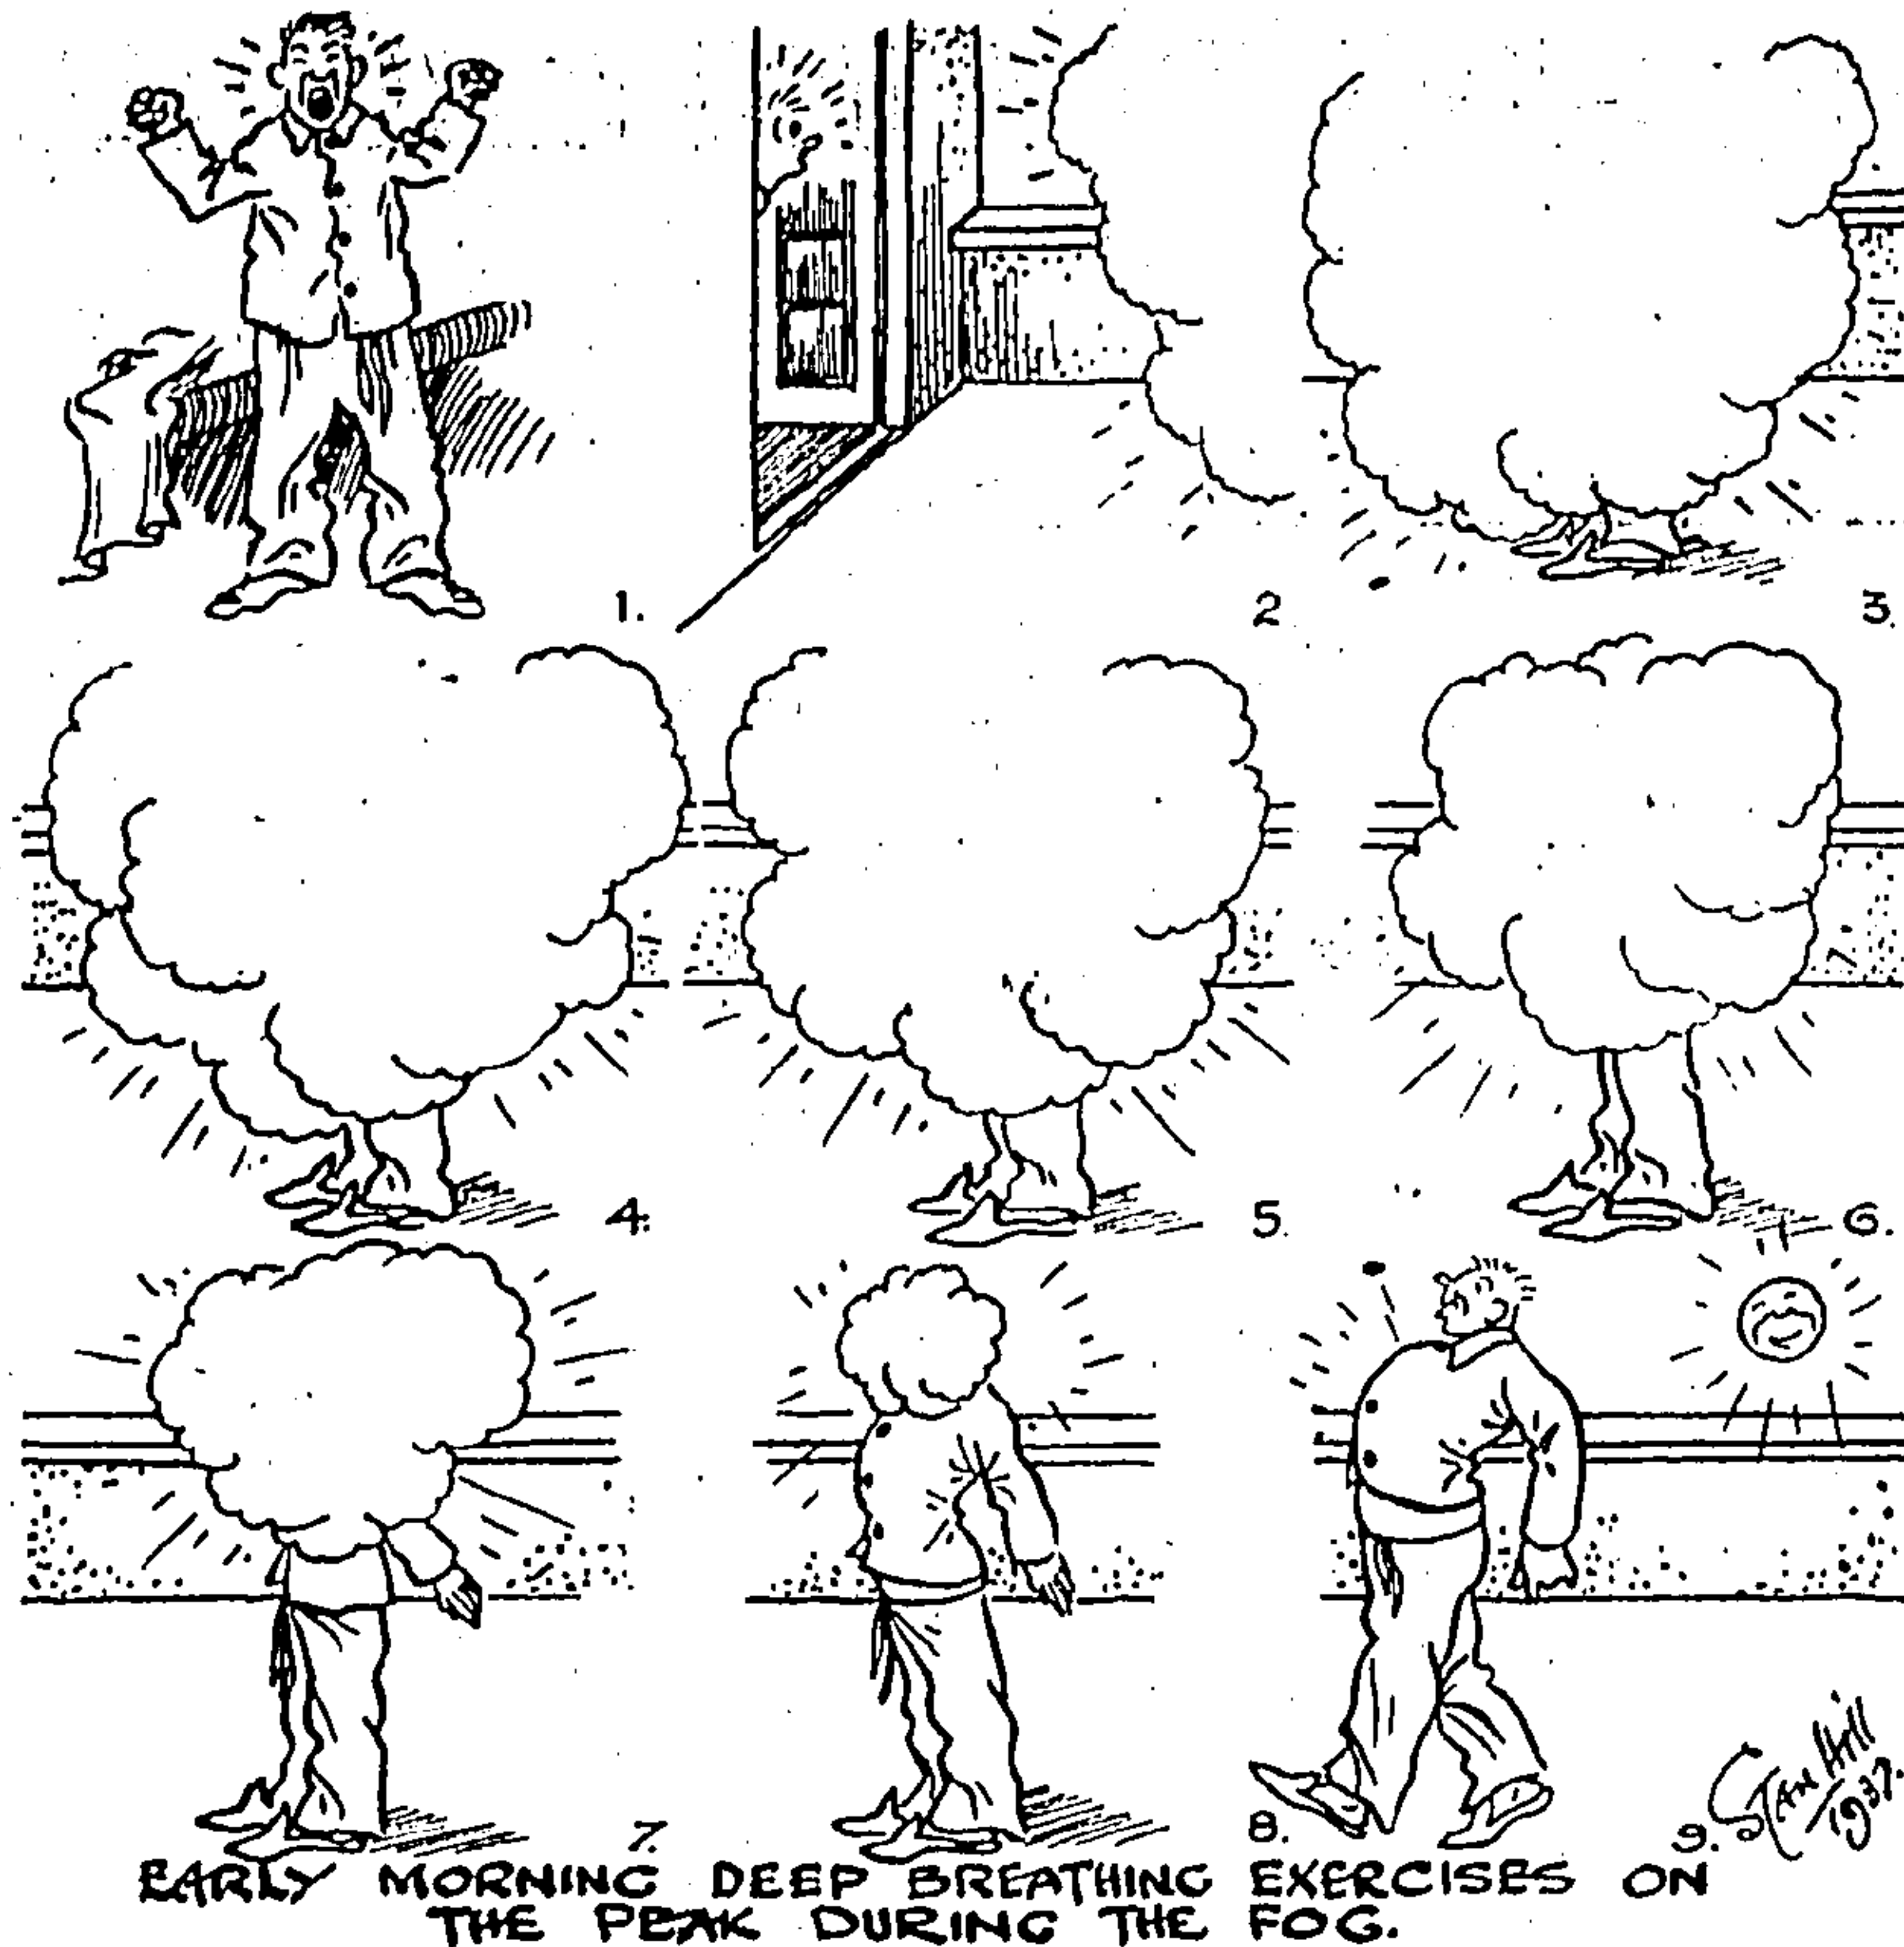

"TUESDAY, ONE DAY ONLY!"
"THE MAN WHO RECLAIMED HIS HEAD" WITH CLAUDE RAINS • JOAN BENNETT AN "OLD FAVOURITE" FROM "UNIVERSAL"

STAR
HONGKONG ROAD, KOWLOON, TEL. 57795

"TO-DAY AND TO-MORROW"

Glorious romance paced to flaming action on America's last frontier!

GARY COOPER loves JEAN ARTHUR
IN
Cecil B. DeMille's
"THE PLAINSMAN"
with James Ellison • Charles Bickford • Helen Burgess
Porter Hall • Directed by Cecil B. DeMille • A Paramount Picture

LISTEN IN TO-NIGHT TO

"The Yeomen Of The Guard"

By The D'Oyly Carte

SUNDAY'S BAND CONCERT

Attractive Peninsula Hotel Programme

An attractive programme is to be presented for the evening concert at the Peninsula Hotel on Sunday when the Band of the 1st Bn. The Royal Ulster Rifles, by permission of Lt.-Col. Rodwell and officers, will provide the music, assisted by Anne Winter and Eileen Hole.

The programme is appended:

1. March of the Peers from the Opera "Iolanthe".
2. Overture—"Raymond".
Ambrose Thomas.
The Opera "Raymond" was produced in 1851. The composer, whose works include several operas and ballets, was at one time Director of the Paris Conservatoire. This sparkling overture together with that to "Mignon", also by Thomas, ranks high among standard overtures.
3. Anne Winter, Soprano. Waltz Song from "Romeo and Juliet". Gounod.
4. Grand Irish Fantasia
"Let Erin Remember".
Colonel Fritz Brase, a German by birth, has produced several Irish Fantasias and other characteristic works, since taking over directorship of the Free State Army Bands. This No. 1 is probably his best effort. The work begins with an impressive introduction, following with a number of Irish folk songs are introduced with massive treatment and occasional thrilling climax. The Finale, bringing in "Let Erin Remember", is tremendous and brilliant.
5. Eileen Hole, Contralto.
(a) "The Hills of Donegal".
Sanderson.
(b) "Danny Boy" (Derry Air).
Weatherley.
6. Excerpts from the Opera "Carmen".
This opera, which was produced in 1875 has grown steadily in popularity and suffices to rank Bizet with the greatest of French composers. The selection contains some of the best-known airs.
- Interval
Recalled by Herman Finck.
A potpourri of the fascinating airs which haunted the memories of music-lovers in the past. There are 74 tunes, only one of each composer being chosen. These tunes range from grave to gay, lively to languid, and indicate in some degree variations which have taken place in the public taste.
8. Anne Winter. "One Fine Day".
(from "Madame Butterfly").
Fucini.
9. A Selection of Irish Airs.
arr. Myddleton.
10. Thomas Gibson. Saxophone Solos.
(a) Valse Erica. Widoett.
(b) "Sax-o-doodle". Widoett.
11. Selection from "Cavalcade".
Noel Coward.
Introducing: "Lover of my Dreams".
"Soldiers of the Queen". "Good-bye my Bluebell". "Soldiers in the Park". "Good-bye Dolly Gray". "I Do Like to be Beside the Seaside". "Alexander's Ragtime Band". "It's a Long Way to Tipperary". "Pack Up Your Troubles in your Old Kit-Bag". "The Long Trail". "Dance Little Lady". "Twentieth Century Blues".

10.30 a.m.—Relay of the Morning Service from the Union Church.
11.30 a.m.—Relay of the Morning Service from the Hop Yat Church (Chinese).
12.15-2.30 p.m.—European programme.
12.15 p.m.—Instrumental Music.
Air from Suite in D—Transcription (Bach)...Lerner String Quartet.
Quartet No. 1 in D Major—Finale Allegro (Ditterdorf).
Lerner String Quartet.
Intermezzo in B Flat Minor, Op. 117, No. 2 (Brahms).
Wilhelm Backhaus.
Intermezzo in E Flat Major, Op. 117, No. 1 (Brahms).
Wilhelm Backhaus. (Pianoforte).
Nigun (Improvisation) (from "Sant Shem"). (Hoch).
Joseph Szigeti (Violin).
The Herd Girl's Dream (Labitzky).
Trio: Violin, Flute and Harp.
12.45 p.m.—A Recital by Miliza Korjus (Soprano).
Nocturne, Op. 9, No. 2 (Chopin, arr. Schuler-Winkel).
Shadow Song (from "djinah"). (Meyerbeer).
La Villanelle (The Swallow). (Dell'Acqua).
1 p.m.—Local: Time Signal and Weather Report.
1.03 p.m.—Orchestral Music.
Fingal's Cave—Overture.
St. Louis Symphony Orchestra. (Mendelssohn).
La Scala di Sete—Overture (The Siken Ladder). (Rossini).
Arrival of the Queen of Sheba (from "Solomon"). (Handel).
London Philharmonic Orchestra.
Carnaval (Lucena).
Cordoba Philharmonic Orchestra.
1.30 p.m.—Reuter Press, Rugby Press.
Local: Weather Forecast.
Time and Announcements.
1.40 p.m.—Songs by Richard Crooks (Tenor) and Essie Ackland (Contralto).
2 p.m.—Marek Weber and His Orchestra.
The Beggar Student—Selection (Millocker).
"Tales from the Orient".
Waltz (Strauss, arr. Egg).
"Cloches de Corneville"—Waltz (Planquette, arr. Motra).
Stay with me for ever (Lehar).
My lips are made for kissing (Lehar).
"The Quaker Girl"—Waltz (Monckton).
Sweetheart—Waltz (J. Strauss).
2.30 p.m.—Close down.
4.7 p.m.—Chinese Programme.
7.10-10.30 p.m.—European Programme.
7 p.m.—An Hour with J. S. Bach. 1685-1750.
"Mass in B Minor"—No. 18—Et in Spiritum... Friedrich Schorr (Baritone).
Italian Concerto.
Wanda Landowska (Harpischord).
Cantata No. 65—Take me to thee, Cantata No. 85—See, what his love, Georges Thill (Tenor).
Suite No. 4 in D Major. The Adolf Busch Chamber Players.
Bist Du bei Mir.
Ellenbeth Schumann (Soprano).
"Sonata No. 6 in E Major".
Two Minuets.
"Sonata No. 1 in G Minor".
Prelude... Henry Merckel (Violin).
8 p.m.—Local: Time Signal, Weather Report and Announcements.
8.03 p.m.—Light Orchestral Selections.
The Countess Maritz—Potpourri (Kaiman) Edith Lorand & Her Women's Orchestra.
Cordoba (Albeniz).
Granada (Albeniz).
Oquesta Odeon. Serenade (Moszkowski).
The song is ended (Irving Berlin).
Carroll Gibbons and the Savoy Hotel Orchestra.
8.30 p.m.—A Violoncello Recital by Maurice Marechal.

Elegie (Gabriel Faure).
Guitarro (Moszkowski).
Intrada (Adagio). (Desplanes).
8.45 p.m.—From the Studio.
A Sacred Recital by Doris Blair (Soprano).
9 p.m.—Reuter Press.
9.10 p.m.—Popular Marches.
Overture "1914"—A War March Memory (arr. Debroy Somers).
Debroy Somers Band.
9.20 p.m.—From the Studio.
"Some Population Problems." A Talk by Professor R. Robertson.
9.40 p.m.—A Recital by Alexander Kipnis (Bass).
Verrat, Op. 105, No. 5 (Lemcke).
An Die Nachtigall, Op. 48, No. 4 (Holtz). (The Brahms Song Society).
Standchen, Op. 108, No. 1 (Kugler).
Vergeliches (Standchen, Op. 84, No. 4—(The Brahms Song Society).
"Faust"—(Gounod)— Mephisto Serenade.
Le Veau d'Or (Golden Edit).
10 p.m.—London—Big Ben.
Excerpts from "The Yeomen of the Guard".
Oh! A private buffoon is a light-hearted loon.
George Baker (Baritone).
Hereupon we're both agreed,
Free from his fetters grim.
Derek Oldham (Tenor).
Strange adventure!
Hark! What was that, Sir?
Members of the D'Oyly Carte Light Opera Company.
Like a ghost his vigil keeping,
Members of the D'Oyly Carte Light Opera Company.
A man who would woo a fair maid.
When a wooer goes a-wooing,
Rapture, Rapture!
Members of the D'Oyly Carte Light Opera Company.
Comes the pretty young bride,
Members of the D'Oyly Carte Light Opera Company.
10.30 p.m.—Close down.

QUEEN'S & ALHAMBRA

HONG KONG KOWLOON
AT 2.30-5.15 7.20-9.30 P.M. AT 2.30 5.20-7.20 & 9.30 P.M.
"SHOWING TO-DAY"

GARY COOPER and JEAN ARTHUR
The grandest love story of them all!
Cecil B. DeMille's
"THE PLAINSMAN"
with James Ellison • Charles Bickford • Helen Burgess
Porter Hall • Directed by Cecil B. DeMille • A Paramount Picture

"NEXT CHANGE"
"LET'S MAKE A MILLION" with Ed. Everett Horton
A Paramount Picture
"ALONG CAME LOVE" & "SPECIAL POPEYE CARTOON"
A Paramount Picture

4 SHOWS DAILY 2.30-5.15 7.15-9.00
TAKE ANY TRAIN OR HAPPY VALLEY BUS ORIENTAL
THEATRE
PLEASANT ROAD WANCHAI TEL. 36472

"TO-DAY - TO-MORROW - TUESDAY"

AFTER "BROADWAY MELODY" AFTER "THE GREAT ZIEGFELD" COMES THE BEST OF THEM ALL!

BORN TO DANCE
STARRING Eleanor DOWELL
Your "Broadway Melody Girl"
JAMES with VIRGINIA STEWART • BRUCE
UNA MERKEL • SID SILVERS • FRANCES LANGFORD • RAYMOND WALBURN ALAN DINEHART • BUDDY ESEN
Directed by ROY DEL RUTH Produced by JACK CUMMINGS

HIT TUNES By COLE PORTER
"Easy to Love"
"Two Get You Under My Skin"
"Swingin' the Lins Away"
"Hey, Babe, Hey"
"Rag-Tap on Wood"
"Rolling Home"
"Love Me, Love My Pakeenah"

"SHE'S THE TAPSI!"
Sings! Dances! Romances!

MATINEES: 20c-30c • EVENINGS: 20c-30c-50c-70c

Give the Family a New Taste Thrill With a Gay Dessert

By FRANCES LEE BARTON

These Two Suggestions Will Brighten Up Winter Menus

Cheerful, colourful desserts are a welcome treat at any season of the year, but if there's one time you really need them it's during the winter. A sparkling, bright dessert helps the family forget about dull days, and helps you get welcome variety into winter meals. Try this dessert for a real winter pick-up.

Prune Medallion Pudding

1 package Lemon or Raspberry Jell-O
1 pint warm water
and prune juice
1 cup sugar
Dash of salt
Dash of cinnamon
nut meats

1 package Lemon or Raspberry Jell-O
1 pint warm water
and prune juice
1 cup sugar
Dash of salt
Dash of cinnamon
nut meats

1 package Lemon or Raspberry Jell-O
1 pint warm water
and prune juice
1 cup sugar
Dash of salt
Dash of cinnamon
nut meats

firm. Unmould. Serve in slices. Garnish each slice with whipped cream, if desired. Serves 6.

And here's the perfect way to serve grapefruit or pomelo:

Jellied Grapefruit Dessert

2 grapefruit or pomelo sections free from membrane and dried
Dash of salt
1 cup sugar
1 package Lime or Raspberry Jell-O
1 1/2 cups warm water

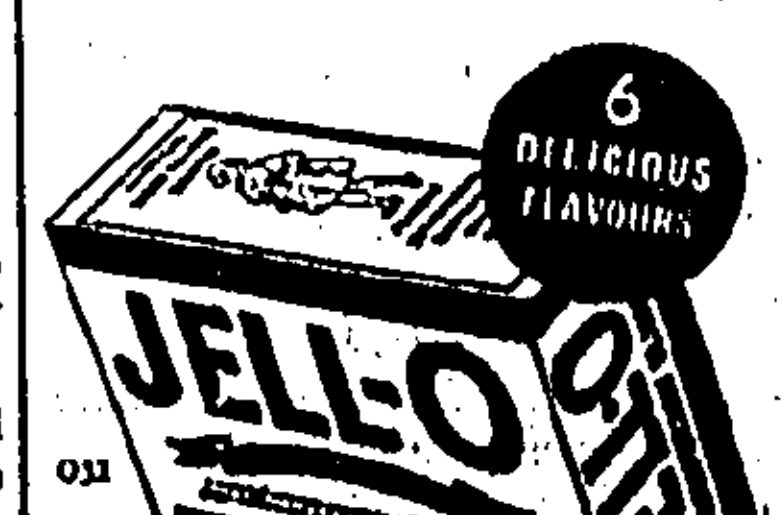

Combine grapefruit or pomelo, and sugar and let stand 10 minutes. Dissolve Jell-O in warm water; add salt. Pour over grapefruit. Chill, stirring occasionally until slightly thickened. Turn into sherbet glasses. Serves 6.

Of course you want your Jell-O desserts to come out of the mould cleanly and perfectly. These simple rules will help:

To Unmould Jell-O

Dip the mould to the rim in warm—not hot—water. Hold a moment, remove, and dry outside of mould with clean towel. Cover mould with serving plate and invert both. Then raise one side of mould slightly and give a sharp shake. Lift off mould. Repeat, if necessary.

LEAGUE CHAMPIONS TAKE LEAD

MAX BAER TO FIGHT FARR EMPIRE STADIUM AT WEMBLEY

LONDON, YESTERDAY.
LONDON WILL SOON WITNESS A HEAVYWEIGHT BOXING CONTEST BETWEEN MAXIE BAER, ERST-WHILE WORLD CHAMPION AND PLAYBOY-BOXER, AND TOMMY FARR, THE BRITISH AND EMPIRE CHAMPION.

Farr won the British and Empire titles on Monday when he beat Ben Ford, the holder, in a tame and uninteresting bout.

Baer had previously been matched with Bob Pastor, an American heavyweight, the former champion having been promised a purse of U.S. $50,000 for the bout, which was to have taken place in Dallas.

IN TRAINING

Now this fight is off and Maxie has gone into training in London for his fight with the Welsh champion, Tommy Farr.

The contest will probably be staged at the Empire Stadium at Wembley.

Rumour has been rife for some time in regard to Baer's next fight in his attempt to stage another comeback after his disastrous fight against Joe Louis.

One of the latest reports had it that Maxie would fight Louis in London this summer.—Reuter.

To-day's Selections
For Macau

RACE NO. 1:

NATIONAL FAITH
PERSIAN CAT
CHINA CLIPPER
Outsider:—Play Boy

RACE NO. 2:

HURDLING MORN
WENTWORTH
HOGMANAY
Outsider:—Gold Reserve

RACE NO. 3:

HOHENFELS
NEW MARKET TIP
WHITE SPIRIT
Outsider:—Fairy Ousel

RACE NO. 4:

SHANGHAI 4
SHIH YIN GRAND
MERRY FATTY
Outsider:—Rothsay Bay

RACE NO. 5:

PRUSSIAN PLANE
LESLIE HENSON
WOOD NYMPH
Outsider:—The Big Trail

RACE NO. 6:

PRIDE OF TSINGTAO
GOLD COIN
DIOGENES
Outsider:—Plain View

COLONY
LAWN TENNIS CHAMPIONSHIPS

The following are the Colony Lawn Tennis Championship fixtures for to-morrow:

Open Singles Championship
R. L. Withington v P. C. Lee
J. D. Milne v Leong Ping-chiu
W. J. Howard v J. D. Holmes
B. O. M. Deane v G. E. Clarke
Open Doubles Championship
D. Bickson and H. C. Boverman v S. S. Hussain and S. A. Hussain
Chan Kam-moon and Chak Kam-hung v Lt. Cmdr. Rump and C. Ravenhill
A. V. Gosano and A. V. Remedios v Ma Nai-kwong and Li Kwan-hung Club Championship
H. Owen-Hughes v C. C. Monaghan
Club Handicap Singles
C. C. Clark (+ 20) v C. C. Stark (-1.0)

Yesterday's Results
At A Glance

FIRST DIVISION
EASTERN	2 R. CHINESE
S. CHINA "A"	2 ATHLETIC
SECOND DIVISION
EASTERN	4 R. CHINESE
THIRD DIVISION
KWONG WAH	C. POLICE
* not played.

YESTERDAY'S GOAL-SCORERS

FIRST DIVISION
Lee Wai-tong (S. China "A")	1
Li Shui-wing (S. China "A")	1
Soong Ling-sing (Eastern)	1
Han Sing-to (Eastern)	1
SECOND DIVISION
Lung Chi-lip (K. Chinese)	2
Fung Shui-sheng (Eastern)	1
Lee Wee-hung (Eastern)	1
Sabhan (Eastern)	1
Chun Kam-po (Eastern)	1

TABLES TO DATE

FIRST DIVISION
P. W. D. L. F. A. Pts.
S. China "A"	20 12 5 3 51 21 29
R. U. Rifles	20 13 3 4 51 22 29
R.W. Fusiliers	20 10 6 4 41 26 25
S. China "B"	20 10 5 5 42 28 25
Seaford H.	19 11 2 5 41 32 24
Royal Navy	21 9 4 8 41 35 22
St. Joseph's	19 9 3 7 33 28 21
Eastern Ath.	19 8 3 8 37 39 19
H.K.F.C.	19 9 0 10 41 36 18
Recroin	18 6 5 7 30 42 16
Kowloon F.C.	21 7 12 21 43 16
Athletic	21 5 4 12 23 41 14
K. Chinese	20 3 7 10 26 51 13
Police	20 1 5 14 18 51 7

SECOND DIVISION
P. W. D. L. F. A. Pts.
Royal Navy	22 19 2 1 109 26 40
R.W. Fusiliers	21 15 1 2 71 19 34
South China	22 12 5 5 54 31 29
R. Engineers	20 13 1 6 54 30 27
R.A. Lyemun	21 11 5 5 57 32 27
Seaford H.	20 12 4 4 53 30 26
R. U. Rifles	21 11 3 7 52 38 25
C. Police	21 7 3 11 38 53 17
K.A. Scutters	21 5 4 12 32 57 14
Kowloon F.C.	19 6 1 12 34 48 13
Athletic	22 6 1 15 26 60 13
H.K.F.C.	21 4 2 15 24 78 10
Eastern Ath.	21 3 3 15 29 89 9
K. Chinese	19 2 4 13 29 74 8

EASTERN FORWARDS
WAKE UP FIRST LOW STANDARD OF PLAY

The lowly position occupied by Eastern and Kowloon Chinese in the League table was reflected in their meeting at Causeway Bay yesterday, for play throughout seldom reached a high standard, neither side achieving anything out of the ordinary.

Two goals from the Eastern forwards in the last ten minutes of the game clinched the issue, but Kowloon Chinese had only themselves to blame for the loss of the points by reason of their failure to accept the openings that came their way, particularly in their non-acceptance of first-half opportunities. The defences of both teams displayed splendid steadiness, the full-backs being quick and resourceful in their tackling and clearing, while the displays of the respective goal-keepers were all that could be desired. Although beaten twice, Lau Hin-hon gave a splendid performance between the Kowloon Chinese 'sticks' and was just a shade better than his counterpart in the Eastern goal.

Seven minutes from time Soong Ling-sing opened the scoring and three minutes later Han Sing-to caught the defence 'napping' to race clear and beat the Kowloon keeper with a fast shot taken on the run.

Athletic Well Beaten
TAM'S BRILLIANCE
BETWEEN STICKS
LEE WAI-TONG SCORES CHARACTERISTIC GOAL

DEVELOPING an inferiority complex early in the game, Chinese Athletic never had the least chance of taking even one point from South China "A" at Caroline Hill yesterday, and, after a desultory 70 minutes, the League Champions emerged easy winners by two clear goals.

There was, however, one bright spot in the Athletic display which merited the highest praise and that was the goalkeeping of Tam Kwam-kon, who confined Lee Wai-tong to a single goal — he saved numerous typical efforts from the centre-forward and for the majority of the game stood alone between the South China forwards and a crop of goals.

This win places South China "A" temporarily at the head of the First Division table, by virtue of a fraction better goal average than the Rifles.

Even though South China was obviously only half extended in view of to-day's game against Eastern they were far too good for their opponents, and in the second half Lee Tin-sang and Tam Kong-pak had so little to do in defence that they began to take expeditions into the Athletic territory.

K. CHINESE OFFER BOLD FRONT BUT LOSE SPEEDY EASTERN ATTACK

Kowloon Chinese offered a bold front in their Second Division encounter at Causeway Bay, but, after discounting a two goals deficit and holding the opposition to a level two goals until towards the close of the game, they eventually went down before the superiority of Eastern and were beaten by 4 goals to 2.

It was an even game of the end-to-end type, both teams impressing with their cleverly conceived movements.

Fung Shui-sheng, although the smallest player on view, proved himself a real 'live-wire' at inside-right for Eastern. He foraged with great success and supplied his partner with many excellent passes. Lee Wai-lam was quick to respond and this wing gave the Kowloon defenders a lively time. Sabhan was forceful and Yeung Pan-wan swift and elusive on the other flank, while Lee Wee-hung fitted in successfully to form a strong front line. Tao Kwok-chui and Arculli were also prominent for Eastern.

Kowloon Chinese were best served by Lam Kwok-chuen, Chui Kam-foo and Siu Kin-chor.

Fung Shui-sheng opened the scoring and Eastern's lead was increased when Chun Kam-po deflected a shot into his own net. Lung Chi-lip replied for Kowloon Chinese before the interval and levelled matters following the resumption. Late in the second half Eastern scored twice through Lee Wee-hung and Sabhan.

Haphazard with their passing, and lacking any sort of method in attack, the Athletic forwards rarely produced a movement which looked likely to lead to a goal, and after the interval the South China custodian's share of the game was the taking of three dead-ball kicks. Both the Athletic wingers contributed largely to their own failure by attempting too many individualist efforts, whilst the inside forwards waited in vain for the right kind of passes from their half-backs. Ng Tak-wing's endeavours to stop Lee Wai-tong met with little or no success, whilst the wing-halves were unusually lethargic both in attack and defence, rarely contributing anything to the game which might be called useful.

With the game well in hand the South China attack were content to play "exhibition" football, which only resulted in long periods of monotonous interpassing, evidently with the idea of luring the opposition away from Lee Wai-tong. The inside forwards made headway, but on the few occasions they tried shots they were hopelessly wide. Lee Wai-tong was on the mark, as usual, but he was foiled time and time again by the brilliant goalkeeping of Tam Kwam-kon.

There was very little need for the South China halves to participate in defence and for the whole of the second half they played a passive sort of game, merely kicking the ball when it came to them and leaving the spasmodic efforts of the Athletic forwards to Tam Kong-pak and Lee Tin-sang.

The first quarter of an hour saw South China take the lead, Lee Wai-tong taking a free kick which Tam could not quite hold and Lai Shui-wing rushed in and tapped the ball into the net. In the second half Lee Wai-tong scored a great goal when he beat three men within the space of a few feet before crashing the ball past Tam.

SOUTH CHINA "A"
AND EASTERN
MEET TO-DAYLeague Championship
In The Balance

The only League football game this afternoon is the return encounter between South China "A" and Eastern at Caroline Hill, which should result in an easy win for the former in spite of the fact that they were fully extended in their first encounter, winning by only the odd goal in five.

South China "A", having now come within striking distance of winning the League championship for the third year in succession, a record now held by the Athletic, are taking no chances in their remaining games and will be strengthened by the return of Tam Kong-pak, at full-back, thus allowing either Tay Qwee-liang or Ip Pak-wah to play on the left-wing.

Eastern, in spite of having played yesterday, expect to give the champions a good game, and are fielding G. Yeung in the forward line, and Sung Ling-sing in the intermediate line.

NEW SPRING
SPORTS SHIRTS.

The largest selection ever shown constitutes this season's range. They are in Cellular, Art Silk, Spun Silk and Cotton in White, Navy, Maroon, Sky and Royal Blue, Cream, Fawn, Green and many neat fancy stripes and checks.

Art Silk	from $3.95 Nett
Spun Silk	" $5.75
Cellular	" $4.50
Cotton	" $3.75

(Less 10% Cash Discount)

SHIRTS

with

TRUBENISED COLLARS.

Trubenising is a new scientific process which has been proclaimed the greatest discovery of the present century. A collar so treated will retain its neat appearance for the life of the shirt and will not wrinkle or crease under any condition — even with excessive perspiration.

Price from $8.75. Less 10% Cash Discount

A Further Shipment Just Received With Collars

Attached. Also With Two Separate Collars.

Wm. POWELL, Ltd.

Specialists in Gentlemen's Wear

Hong Kong Stock Exchange — 10, Ice House Street.

1887 GOLDEN JUBILEE YEAR 1937

Summary of 50th Annual Report

NEW INSURANCES in 1936 £ 11,599,177.

INSURANCE IN FORCE at 31 Dec. 1936 109,425,967.

ASSETS 29,524,422.

(Held in Trust on 238,709 Policies and Supplementary Contracts)

DEATH CLAIMS PAID 856,379.

PAYMENTS TO LIVING POLICYHOLDERS 1,947,325.

TOTAL PAYMENTS TO POLICYHOLDERS 2,803,704.

ESTABLISHED 1887

THE

MANUFACTURERS LIFE

INSURANCE COMPANY

HEAD OFFICE

TORONTO, CANADA

CHIEF OFFICE FOR SOUTH CHINA — SHELL HOUSE, HONG KONG

BRANCH MANAGER: E. J. R. MITCHELL. TELEPHONES 20601 and 20691

M.C.C. 165-0, Then 250-8

Christchurch, N.Y., yesterday. With two wickets to fall in their second innings, the M.C.C. tourists are 310 runs ahead of Canterbury in their first three-day match in New Zealand.

The feature of the day's play was the complete collapse of the Englishmen in their second innings after a first wicket stand of 165 by R. E. S. Wyatt and Worthington.

After the partnership had been broken seven M.C.C. wickets fell for only 85 runs.

Canterbury, who had scored 70 for 3 wickets at the close of play yesterday, were all out for 167 this morning, sixty runs short of the M.C.C. first innings total.

Hammond, the Gloucester all-rounder, took three wickets for only four runs.

R. E. S. Wyatt and Worthington opened the visitors' second innings with a magnificent partnership of 165, Wyatt obtaining 100 and his Derbyshire colleague 79.

The latter batsmen, however, played light-heartedly and the side had scored only 250 for the loss of eight wickets when stumps were drawn.

The match will be continued on Monday, the last day of play.

Scores:
M.C.C.: 217 and 250 for 8.
Canterbury: 157.

—Reuter.

GALA PREMIERE, March 27

THE HERSEYS
EDITH AND BILLY

THE MANAGEMENT OF THE GLOUCESTER HOTEL TAKES PLEASURE IN INTRODUCING

America's finest dressed team. Played for 16 weeks at the Park Central Hotel, New York. The sensation of the famous Black Hawk Club, Chicago.

Toured with the renowned Hal Kemp Band throughout the United States — and then LONDON.

Experts at the Rumba, Bolero, Cariocca, La Cucaracha, the Continental and Chicago Tango.

After a brief season in Hong Kong — booked for a three months' season at the Biltmore Country Club, New York.

Book The 27th For The Gloucester

HOW TO TREAT A STOMACH PAIN

When your stomach is healthy and well, you never think of its existence. But when it is out of sorts for any reason you know all about it. Pain sets in—sometimes very severe, nagging pain. What are you to do? You certainly must do something. In nine cases out of ten the remedy is simple enough—a dose or two of Maclean Brand Stomach Powder. You must have read of case after case, many of them much worse than yours, where blessed relief has come almost in a twinkling. Flatulence, heartburn, dyspepsia, even gastric and duodenal ulcers, have had to yield to the soothing and healing properties of this modern miracle worker.

It will be strange indeed if your pain does not disappear as all the others have done. Anyway, you can confidently turn to Maclean Brand Stomach Powder—the one with the signature "ALEX. C. MACLEAN" on the bottle. Thankful you will be that you took such a simple short cut to lasting stomach peace. Sold in bottles in cartons, in powder or tablet form. Never sold loose. If any difficulty in obtaining write to:—Banker & Co., Ltd. P.O. Box 536, Hong Kong.

A. SEK & CO.

PHOTO SUPPLIES

Latest Model of Roliflex

And Miniature Cameras

SOLE AGENT FOR

Lumiere & Himosa Plates

Films & Papers

New Arrival of the Famous Hensoldt

Field Glasses

Developing, Printing, Enlarging and Repairing Cameras

PRICE MODERATE

26A Des Voeux Road Central

Telephone 23459

Branch: 22, Wing Hon Rd. N. Canton

SHORT STORY

THE LONELY INN

By THOMAS BURKE

A weird tale of the silence that was kept for a long long time in a queer English pub

They were men of ordinary appearance, in soiled or ragged clothes of miscellaneous quality and style; but their silence and their attitude made them extraordinary.

The horrible figures evoked by the lobster nightmare or the unchaining drug cannot so freeze the human mind as the sight of the ordinary creature in the extraordinary attitude or state. De Quincey's picture of the fat man of Kewick sitting alone on his lawn in shirt-sleeves on a bitter March midnight brings more of the authentic recall than any of his laudanum visions.

And so these dumb and solitary figures affected the two visitors more than any scene of ugliness or violence. Something in their peculiar arrangement suggested that they were sitting like that with some reason. It was as though they had placed themselves like actors on a stage, awaiting the rise of the curtain. The silence of the place, whose silence was underlined by the intermittent drip-drip of the beer-tap, also had an effect, and when the talkative visitor wanted to say something he found himself muttering.

He touched his friend. "Queer place, Mac." The other nodded. "Must be a side-entrance somewhere, I guess."

"Why?"

"Well, I didn't see anybody come in, but a minute ago I'd have said there were four people in the far corner."

"So there were."

"Well, there's six now. And there were two just behind us."

"Yes."

"There's three now."

Mac looked about him, and found that his friend was right. He found too that the company, without moving, was exchanging signals. He saw a head nod, and then another head respond to it. He caught his friend's eye, and together they watched the invisible message pass visibly along the room in nods. It was as though a row of Victorian mantel-piece images had been set in motion. All these people, it seemed, knew each other; yet sat apart holding no communication beyond nods.

He brought his earthenware mug sharply to the counter. He expected it to make in that silence a startling report, and had made the motion deliberately in the hope of bringing a touch of life to the room. But somehow, possibly by the shape of the room, it made only a faint noise, and the company ignored it. His friend turned to him: "Wonder if there's a deaf-and-dumb institute near here. And if this is some of 'em." He looked at the landlord. "Customers not very talkative," he said. The landlord continued to stare at nothing.

It was while he was taking a cigarette from the packet held by Mac that he became aware that the silence was being very gently troubled. At first he thought it was the swishing of a curtain. Then he knew that it was a whisper. A whisper was passing along the benches and chairs, and once or twice he caught its burden. That's him. That's him. He saw that Mac had heard it too, and as they turned and looked at the benches they found the dilapidated faces of the company fixed on them. It seemed to him, as he turned, that they were fixed on him, but with the next glance he saw that they were all looking beyond him, at Mac. The moment they saw that they were observed, the faces dropped, and each man resumed his former pose.

Mac picked up his mug and finished it. "Fit?" His friend nodded. They stepped out of twilight into orange sunset and scented fields of limpid light. They took some six paces from the inn; then the tall one stopped and said, expressively: "Gawd!" He took three deep breaths. Then: "I'd like to show that place to some of those literary blokes who write about the old village inn, and the mellow company, and the rich rustic voices, and Uncle Tom's Cobleigh and all." Mac agreed. "Still, we can't have everything. The cottage is about perfect, so we shall have to put up with the local. But what a hole. And not merely dull and dingy. Something more than that about it. We must investigate again. A place like that in this gorgeous country must have a reason for being what it is. Some story behind it. And why were they so interested in me?"

"Lord knows. Don't look as though they could be interested in anything—let alone an everyday specimen like you. Perhaps they'd seen you in the village, though, and were thinking of giving you the village greeting—'Ere be a stranger; leave 'arf a brick at 'im.'"

"Huh. Well, I've found some queer pubs in my up-and-downs of England, but that's the queerest so far."

The next day, Saturday, Mac said "Coming down to the Lousy Local?"

"Not this evening, I think. I've got about four or five letters I want to answer, so's to have tomorrow free. You go."

"Right. I'd like to have another look at it. Something about it fascinates me."

"Don't be long, though. I've got an appetite. Don't want to have to wait dinner."

"Needn't worry. I've got one too. I'll be on time."

Mac stepped out of the door as the other settled himself at a table. As he passed the open window he heard his friend call "What's the date?" He answered "April thirty," and swung down the lane.

And dinner was late. They waited until twenty to nine, and then, as Mac had not returned, they waited no longer. "I suppose he's managed to get the deaf-and-dumb school talking, and can't tear himself away. Ethel can't go down and drag him out. Create a bad impression on our first week-end—wives pulling husbands out of pubs. Father, dear father, come home with me now."

Ethel was dealing with soup. "Oh, he'll turn up when it suits him. He's done it before. When he finds an interesting local, as he calls them, he forgets time."

But he did not turn up. They left the door unlocked until one o'clock; then, as he had not turned up, they went to bed. "Gone off on a binge, perhaps, with one of the deaf-and-dumbs. Probably turn up with a hang-over tomorrow."

But he did not turn up. The trio left at the cottage never saw their Mac again.

At about midday his friend went out to look about, and to inquire at the Local and in the village. Just outside the gate he met the old man whom they had engaged to keep the garden tidy during the week.

"Morning. D'you happen to have seen anything of my friend?"

"Your friend?"

"Yes; the man who came with me. You saw him yesterday."

"Ar—'im. What would he be like?"

"Stocky figure. Red hair. Horn-rimmed glasses."

"Oh. . . 'im. No. I ain't seen 'im. I remember 'im. Scotty, I says to meself."

"Yes. He is a Scot. Well, he went out yesterday evening—down to the inn here—and was coming back in an hour. But he didn't come back last night. Nor this morning. I wondered whether you'd seen him or heard anything of him."

"No—o. I ain't seed 'im."

"I was just going down to the inn to ask if he'd been there. Thought perhaps you might have been there last night and seen him." He went into the lane and turned to the left. The man stopped him.

"This way, sir."

"No. This way. The inn's down here. Down the lane."

"You mean up the lane."

"I mean down the lane."

"You mean up the lane. The Green Man, just outside the village."

"I don't. I mean down the lane." He pointed to the left.

(Continued on Page 19)

SINGLE Shell

The Oil for your

TERRAPLANE

*DODGE

WILLYS

*CHRYSLER

BUICK

CHEVROLET

*PLYMOUTH

*STUDEBAKER

DOUBLE Shell

The Oil for your

OVERLAND

WHIPPET

*FORD

TRIPLE Shell

The Oil for your

AUSTIN

STANDARD

SINGER

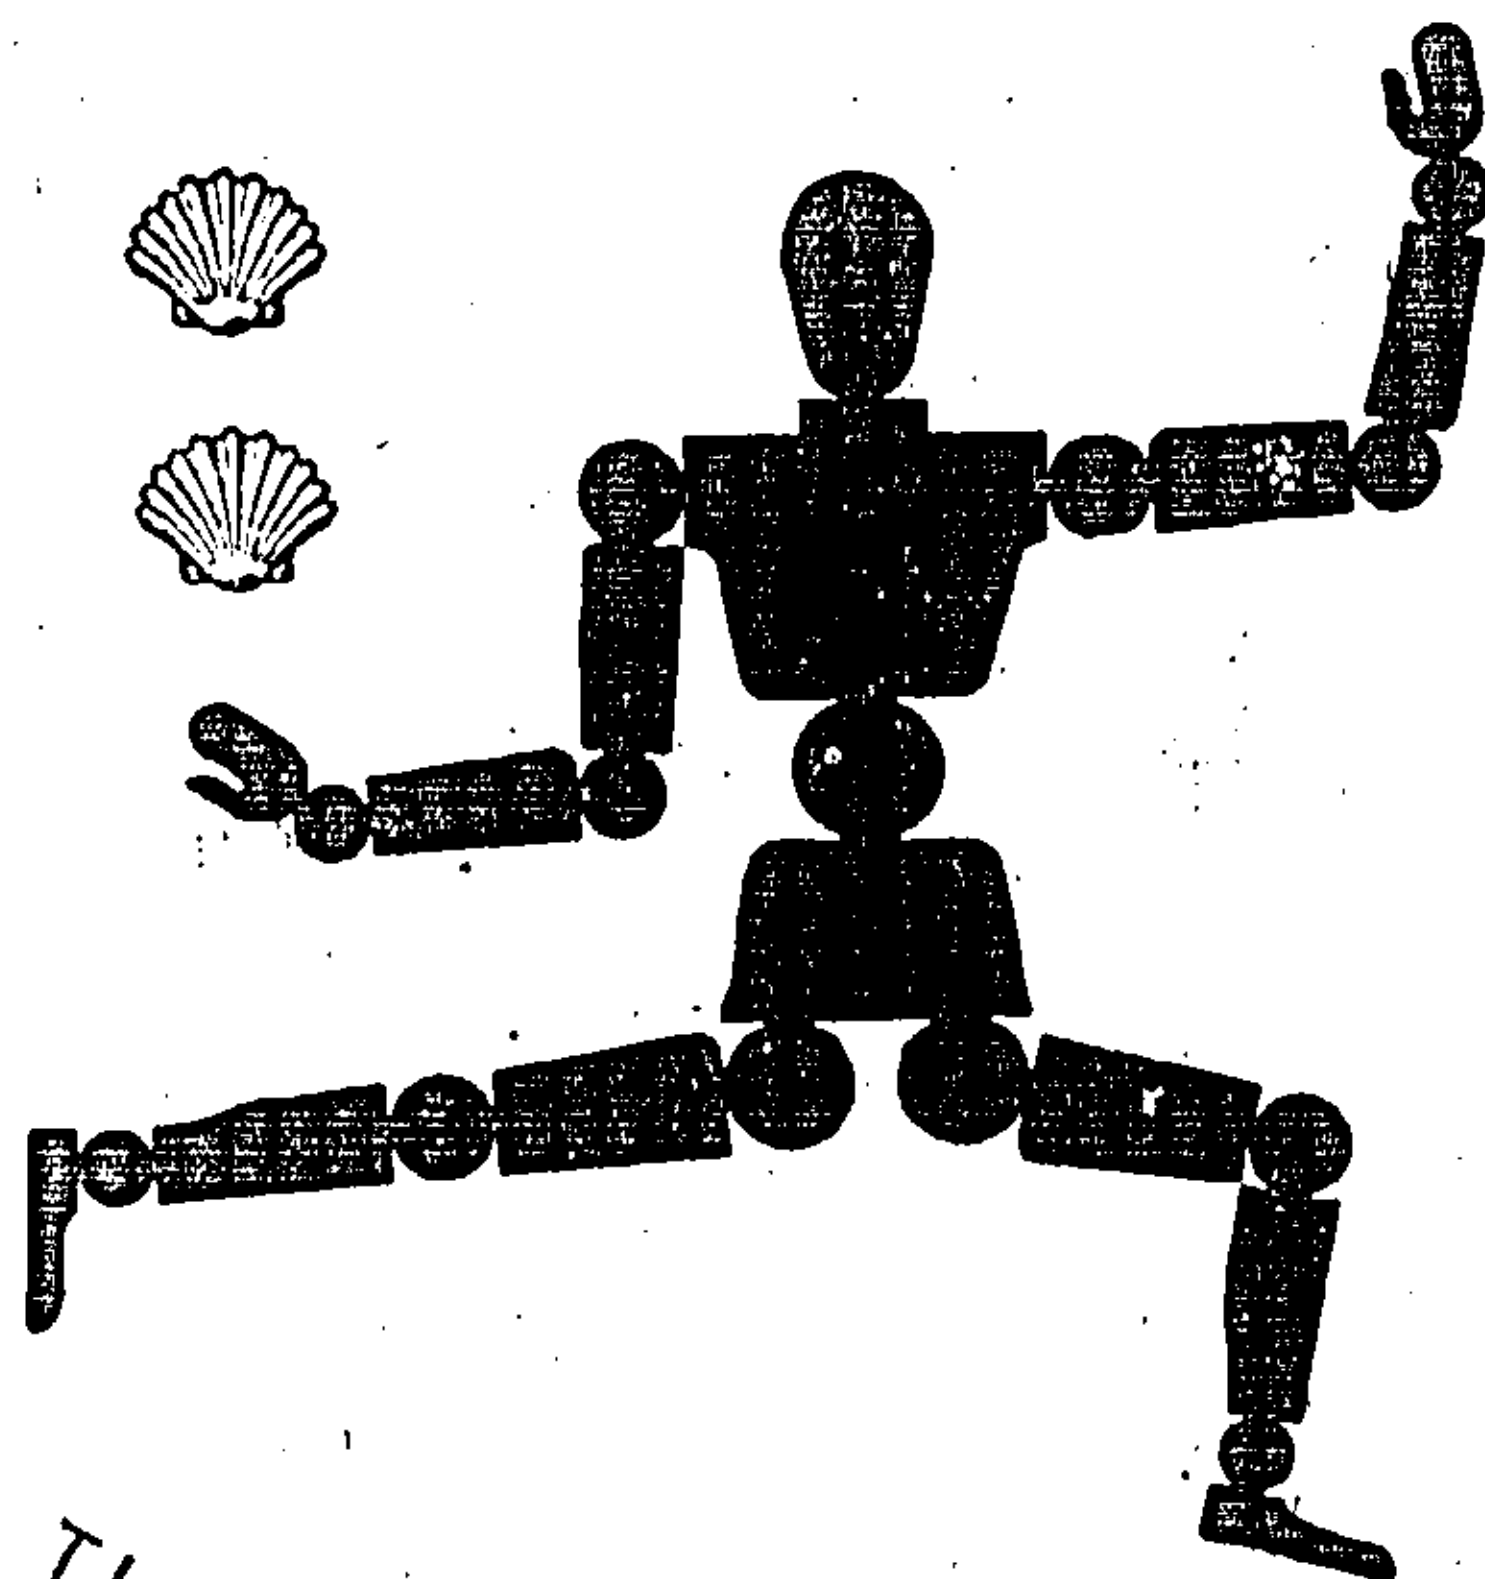

MORRIS

WOLSELEY

HUMBER

HILLMAN

DOUBLE SHELL

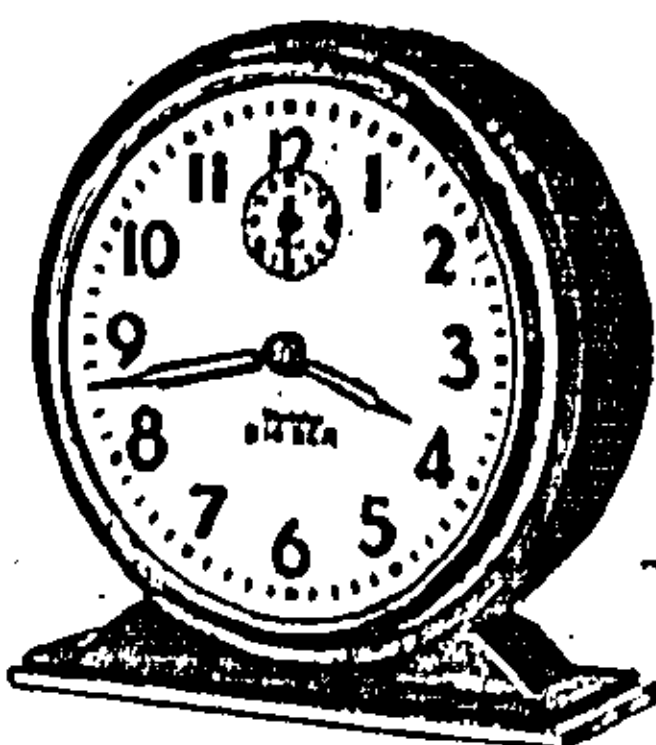

THE OIL FOR YOUR

VAUXHALL

LUBRICATION BY SHELL

WHERE ASTERISKS ARE SHOWN, HEAVIER GRADES FOR AIR TEMPERATURE ABOVE 10° FAHRENHEIT AS FOLLOWS: *TRIPLE SHELL *DOUBLE SHELL

BIG BEN

the clock for any room in the house!

In your bedroom Big Ben Chime Alarm ticks so quietly that you scarcely hear him all night long. Then, at the appointed hour, comes his first call—a gentle whisper. His second more insistent call is a shout—it's for those who fail to get up the first time.

Extra heavy sleepers need Big Ben Loud Alarm. He wakes you with a rousing call that never fails. His case is dustproof.

Big Ben is so attractively styled, so well made that he belongs in any room in the house.

Big Ben is a member of the famous Westclox family of alarm clocks and watches. At all good stores.

BINGO—One of the many Westclox models. Beautiful finish with brown metalic lustre—nickel trim. Top alarm shut-off. Good looking, dependable.

TIDE—Distinctive case. Black with nickel trim. Attractive two tone dial with modern figures and hands. 4 1/2 inch square. Supported by back foot rest.

Westclox
WESTCLOX
La Salle, Ill., U.S.A.

Distributors:
Dodge & Reynolds (China), Ltd.
Queen's Road, Central French Bank Bldg., Hong Kong.

THE VOIGTLANDER

Roll Film Reflex Cameras
Fitted with the famous
Voigtländer Skopar 14-6 and 16-4
Lenses on a compact rapid shutter up to 4/400 sec. with delayed action device.

A. TACK & CO.
29, Des Voeux Road Central
Tel. 20945.

Graduate from the Government of Japan Women's University

HIGH-CLASS EXPERT LICENSED MASSEUSE

MRS. Y. AMANO

10, Peking Road, 1st floor, Kowloon.
(Above Mamak's Sports Company)
Ordinary Sprain & Stiffness
Rheumatism & Neuralgia

Paralysis & Infantile Paralysis
Fat People—Become Thin!
Thin People—Become Normal!
Weak People—Recover Your Good Health!

Special treatment for convalescents after operation or illness.

The Lonely Inn

(Continued from Page 18)

The man stared at him. "Don't know of no public down there."

"No? I see you don't know your own country. Often happens that the stranger finds what the inhabitant misses." The man looked puzzled. He stroked the stubble of his chin. He seemed about to say something but didn't say it. He was dealing with a Londoner. Queer things, Londoners. Said what they didn't mean, and twisted words about, and called it wit. Played silly games called pulling your leg. Sometimes they weren't quite right in the head. Zany, some of 'em. This seemed to be one.

"I don't know of no—"
"Ah, but I do. I'm just going along there to ask if my friend called in last night. If you care to come along I'll show it to you. And you can sample the brew."

"I'll come along with ye, but—" They went along. They went down the twisting lane. The gardener held his puzzled expression, but made no remark. They went along until they came to the elm, through whose branches the sign had been visible.

"Just at the next bend," the tall man said; and they made the next bend. Having made it he looked about him. "Funny. Must have been the next bend." They went on and followed the next bend, and this bend marked the end of the lane and its junction with a main road. The tall man now did some staring. "Well, . . . He looked back up the lane. "Can't have passed it, can we?"

"No sir, we din pass it."
"I remember it as just this side of that elm." He took a few strides up the lane. "Yes. This side of the elm. Just opposite that gap in the hedge. I could have sworn that—And I'm certain we never left the lane. But if so, what the devil—"

The gardener watched him with blank expression. He appeared to have no interest in the proceedings. He was humouring a Londoner. The tall man turned to him. "Well, if it wasn't in the lane where was it? How did we lose ourselves? You— Then something in the man's blank face arrested him.

"There bent no public in this lane. Nor anywhere bout 'ere, for four mile. Not till ye come to the Golden Lion. And that be along the road—four mile."

The tall man stared at him and then at the lane, and then shouted. "But man, we did come to a

Davies Presents His Credentials

Ambassador Davies (right), now American Ambassador to the Soviet Union, is shown with Mr. I. Kallin, chairman of the Central Executive Committee of the Soviets in Moscow, as he presented his credentials to the Communist government officials.

pub here. We did have drinks in it. In the lane. A dismal place."

The gardener looked sad and shook his head. With rustic civility, or polite contempt, he refrained from comment. He repeated only "Bent no public in this lane."

"But man, I tell you—" He broke off. He realized that he could not insist on the fact of his pub, because nowhere in the lane was there any pub. There had been a pub, and now there wasn't a pub. He strode backwards and forwards. "What's happened here? What funny work's going on here? We can't both have been insane. We did come to a pub here, and we did have drinks. What do you make of it?"

The old man stared at the horizon. "If there'd been a public 'ere I'd a-known it. I come down ere twice a week. Never no public 'ere in my time. Nor in me father's time. But I do remember me granfer telling me that 'is granfer told 'im there was a public down 'ere."

"What!"
"There were a public down 'ere. I do remember me granfer telling me that 'is granfer told 'im it were burnt down. It were mixed up in sommin in 'istry. Nigh on two unner year ago. I dinno the rights of it, but 'e did say sommin bout some kind of war. And a lot of Scotties come 'ere. And one of 'em sold the others. And the people set fire to the place, and they was all burnt. 'Cept the one that sold 'em. And 'im they cursed with their dying breaths."

TESTING ROAD SPRINGS

Some of the most remarkable machines in modern motor factories are those employed for testing individual components.

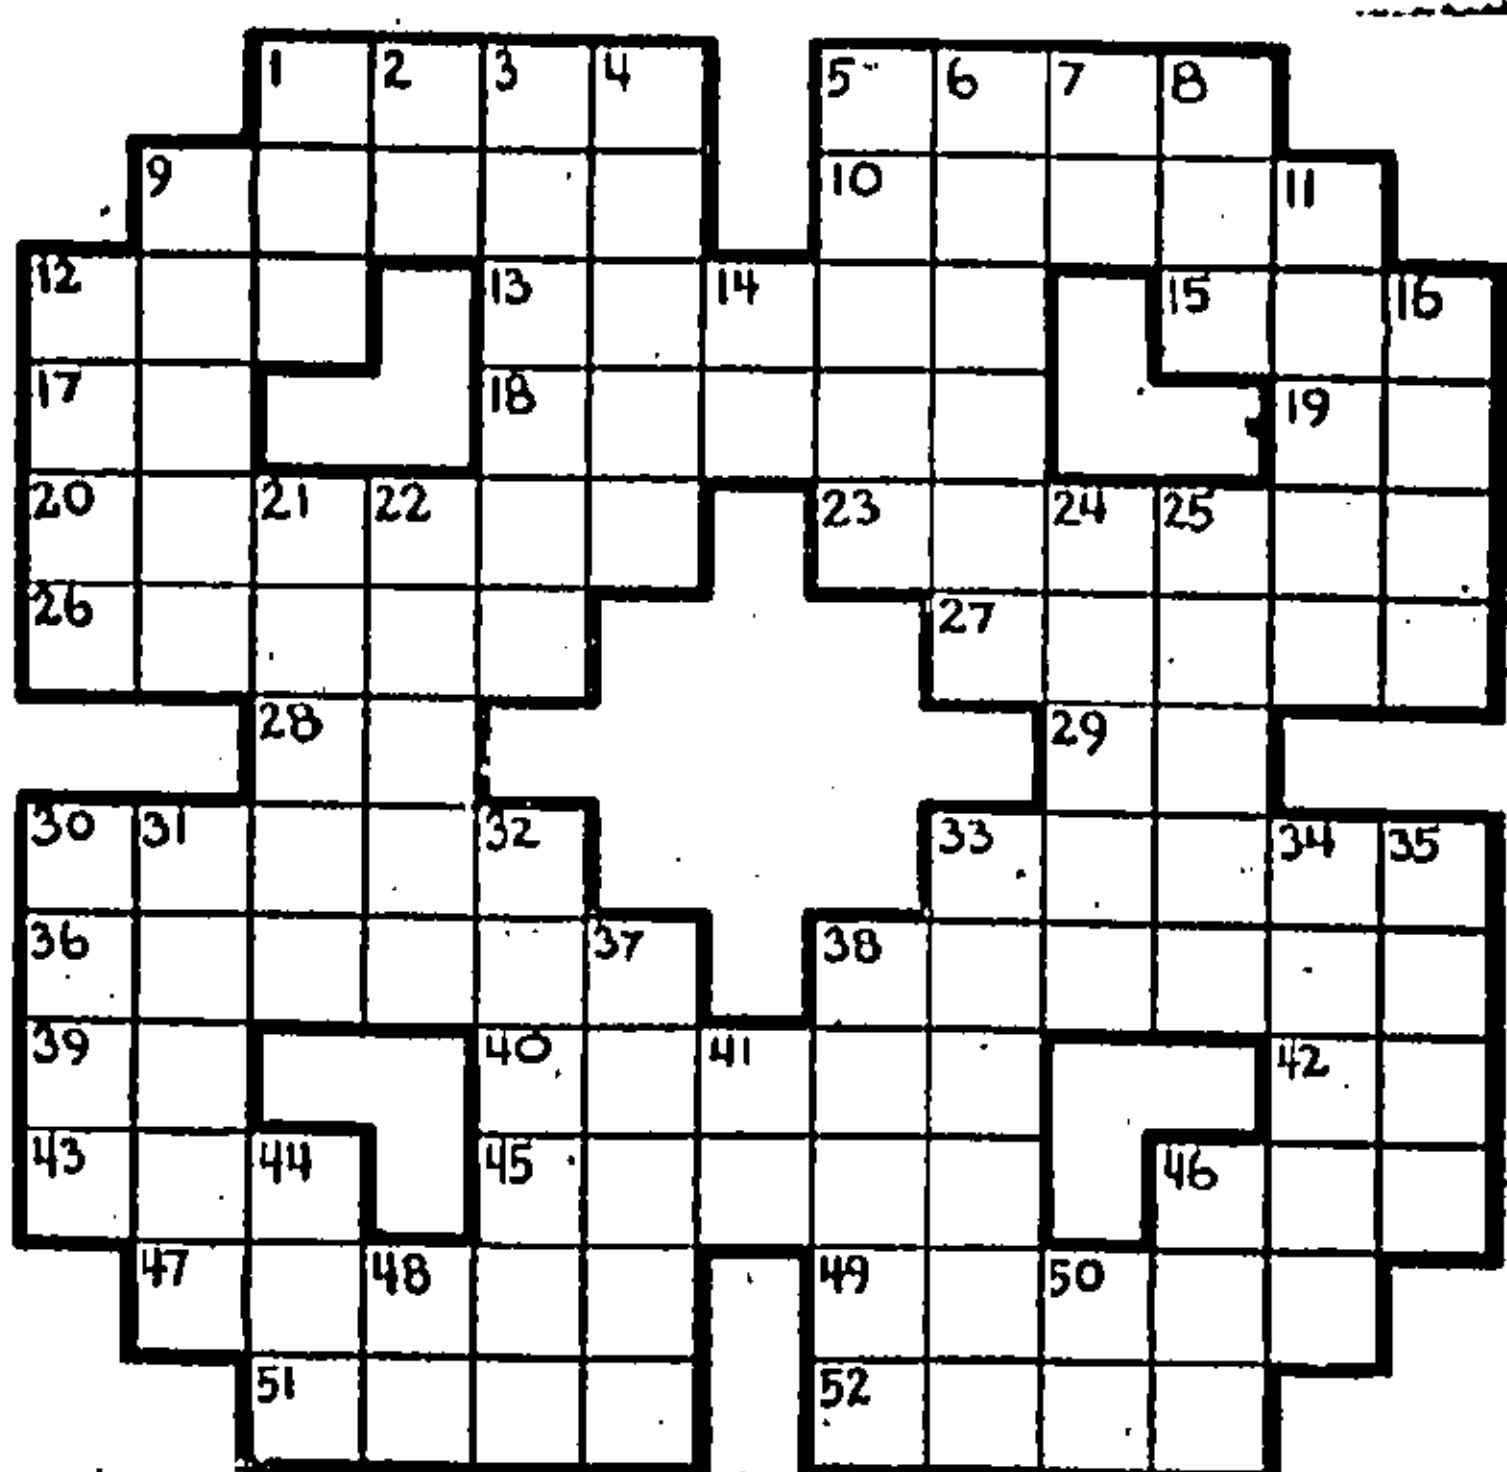

These machines compress the equivalent of years of service into a few days, and by applying destruction tests to representative samples the engineer can forecast the behaviour of the whole under service conditions.

A striking example are the presses used at Dagenham for testing the road springs fitted to Ford cars.

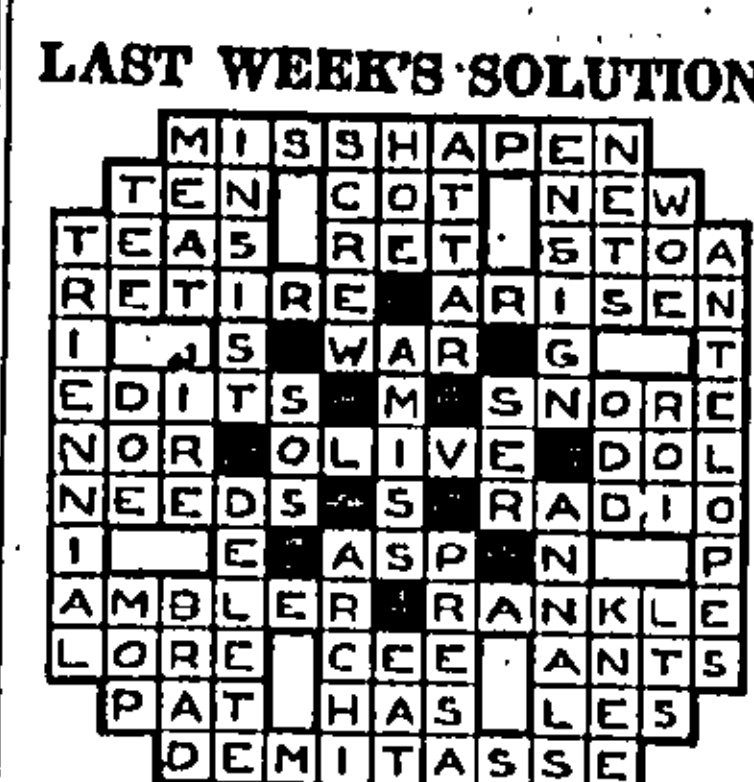

As each batch of springs is received examples are selected at random and placed on one of the testing presses. The machine deflects the spring 90 times each minute, running continuously for 40 hours.

OUR CROSS-WORD PUZZLE

This cross-world puzzle has been made by an expert but our readers are warned to look out for occasional phonetic spelling, such as harbor, plow, and altho.

- | | | |
|-------------------------------|---------------------------|------------------------------------|
| HORIZONTAL | HORIZONTAL (Cont.) | VERTICAL (Cont.) |
| 1-Pillable | 39-Type measure | 12-Venture |
| 5-Despise | 40-Nest of an eagle | 14-A division of the Bible (abbr.) |
| 9-One who receives a gift | 42-Five hundred five | 16-Go by |
| 10-Cream color | 43-A canine | 21-Not fresh |
| 12-Bag | 46-More fluid | 22-A singing voice |
| 18-Species of lyric poem | 47-Not at any time | 24-Part of a church |
| 19-Tear | 48-Evergreen tree | 25-Manufacturing city of England |
| 17-Exit | 51-Come short of | 30-Imitated |
| 18-Metric measure of capacity | 52-Paradise | 31-A citrus fruit |
| 19-Each (abbr.) | | 32-Torments |
| 20-Reclined | VERTICAL | 33-Looked ality |
| 23-Market booths | 1-Mop | 34-Large sea-duck |
| 26-The natural fat | 2-Upon | 35-Rescue |
| 27-Snow vehicles | 3-Tentacle | 37-Darlings |
| 28-Indefinite article | 4-Lukewarm | 38-Section |
| 29-Tellurium (abbr.) | 6-Secrets | 41-Royal Navy (abbr.) |
| 30-Apparition | 6-Wards off | 44-A precious stone |
| 33-Loads | 7-Preposition | 45-Interdict |
| 36-Peaked | 8-Make a mistake | 46-Six |
| 38-Country of Asia | 9-A coin (pl.) | 50-Prefix. From |
| | 11-Produce | |

1887 GOLDEN JUBILEE YEAR 1937

THE MANUFACTURERS

Makes the Future More Secure

NO one knows what the future holds for himself or his dependents.

That is why over 200,000 men and women are policyholders with this Company.

For them Life Insurance is fulfilling a three-fold purpose: providing for emergencies, protecting dependents, and saving toward old age.

CHIEF OFFICE for SOUTH CHINA, SHELL HOUSE, HONG KONG.

E. J. R. MITCHELL, Branch Manager. Telephone 20601.
CANTON Office: 11, Taiping Road. Tel. 16372. R. K. Batchelor, District Manager. MACAO: F. J. Noronha.
SWATOW General Agents: Messrs. Carr Ramsay & Son Ltd. C. R. W. Thomson, Special Representative.
7APB9

Try this mild cigarette of consistently fine flavour.
The blend is choice and uniformly fine.

W.D. & H.O. Wills

GOLD FLAKE

VIRGINIA CIGARETTES

• HARBOUR VIEW •
PRIVATE HOTEL
ON THE SEA FRONT
Chatham Road, Kowloon. Phone: 56734.
Proprietress. — Mrs. M. GARDINER.

• THE ARLINGTON •
PRIVATE HOTEL
Mody Road, Kowloon.
Phone: 50126.
Proprietress. — Mrs. M. GARDINER.

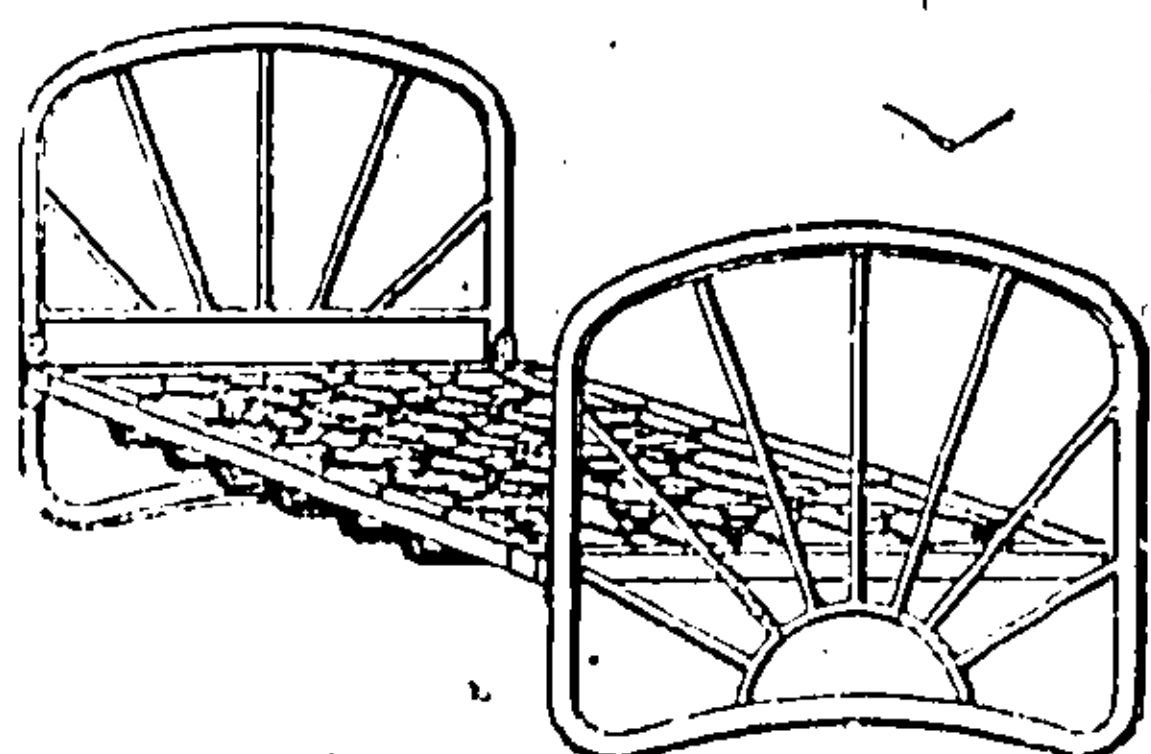

Hong Kong Sunday Herald

HONG KONG, MARCH 21, 1937

DAVLIS STAMP CO.,
Wholesale and Retail Dealers in Postage Stamps and Philatelic Accessories.
SPECIAL "CLIPPER" FIRST FLIGHT COVERS!!!
The special copyright cover published by us for the First Through Flight by the Pan American "Clipper" during March is comparatively cheap and furthermore, DOES NOT OFFEND THE OPTIC NERVE!!!
Ready for inspection to-morrow, Monday, March 1st.
Give this "the once over" before you decide to purchase your supply from elsewhere.
We stock a comprehensive range of Rapkin's Accen-series. Albums; Duplicate Books; Magnifiers; Two-zers; Hinges; Perforation Gauges etc., etc. At competitive prices.
LARGEST STOCKS
IN COLONY.
We Buy, Sell and Exchange Stamps.
65 Hennessy Road.
Telephone: 32053.

BEDS & BEDDING

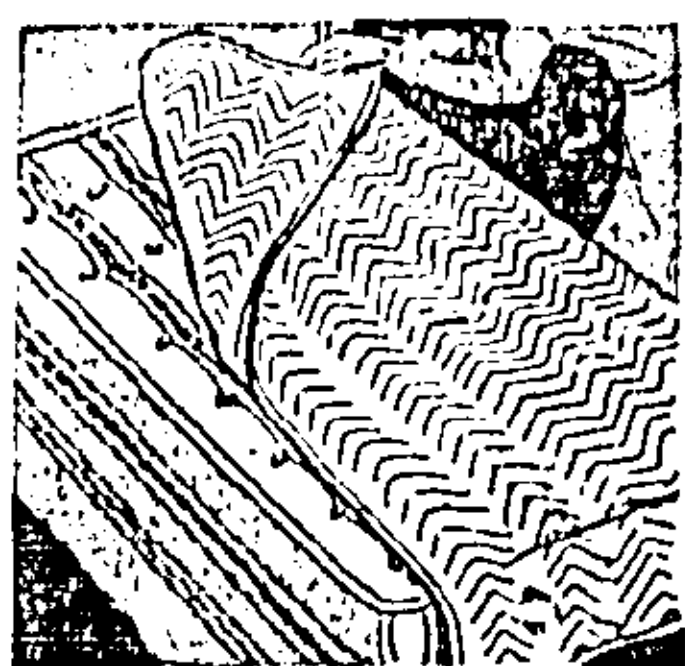

QUALITY, HYGIENE, SERVICE!

NUCHROM
BEDSTEADS Finished in Dull Silver,
By The Very Latest Process
And Fitted With Sagless Springs

SIZE 3' 6" x 6' 6" PRICE $7950 EACH

INTER SPRING MATTRESSES
COMPRISING 837
FINELY TEMPERED
STEEL COILS & FILLED WITH THE BEST COIR SISAL, COVERED WITH PURE LINEN TICKEN.

SPECIAL PRICE $7950 FOR 3' 6" x 6' 6" SIZE

PILLOWS FILLED WITH PURE HYGIENIC IMPORTED FILLING
IN DOWN FEATHER, HAIR
COIR OR KAPOK.
SIZE 20" x 30"
FROM
$3.50 to 18.50 Each

H. S. & EMBRD.
SHEETS &
PILLOW SETS.
EACH SET CONTAINS
2 Pillow Cases
2 Sheets 70" x 100"
1 Bolster Case

HEMSTITCHED SHEETS

PRICE $1350 SET
SPECIAL VALUES
IN White Hemmed

BATH TOWELS

MADE FROM HIGH GRADE
QUALITY ABSORBENT COTTON YARN
AN EXTRA SPECIAL VALUE

SIZE 72" x 36"

PRICE $495 EACH

"CHRISTYS" TOWELS
IN PASTAL SHADES OF GREEN, BLUE, ROSE, GOLD, ETC.

SIZE 50" x 27"

PRICE $495 EACH

"ADMIRALTY" TOWELS
MADE FROM PURE BLEACHED COTTON
SIZE 49" x 25" PRICE $195 EACH

FIRST FLOOR

WHITEAWAY, LAIDLAW
& CO., LTD.

SEA DEVIL AT SEA

COUNT LUCKNER OUT AGAIN MAY COME TO
HONG KONG

Hamburg, Yesterday.
Count Felix von Luckner, the famous German sea raider and terror of Allied shipping during the Great War, took his new sailing-vessel "Seeteeufel" out to sea to-day for the first time on a test trip.

Count Luckner is shortly leaving on a round-the-world voyage, in the course of which he may visit Hong Kong and other China coast ports, where he was well-known before the War.
The famous sea-dog declared himself fully satisfied with his new vessel.—Trans-Ocean.

AIR FACTORIES TAKEN OVER BY GOVERNMENT

Paris, Yesterday.
Four more French aircraft factories have been nationalised, according to an official announcement, including the well-known firms of Breguet and Bleriot.

Concern was expressed over the slowness of production when the Senate Aviation Committee discussed aircraft production to-day.
The chairman of the committee was authorised to draw the attention of the Government to the matter and to request that all possible measures be taken immediately to speed up production in every industry connected with aviation.
—Trans-Ocean.

CHARITY CONCERT

In Aid Of Chinese Church

A charity concert in aid of the building fund of the Chinese Holy Trinity Church, which is being built in Ma Tau Chung Road was held in the hall of the Mun Sang College last evening.

In spite of the dismal weather the concert was quite a success, there being a good attendance. It was organised by Mr. Y. L. Sue.
Among those who contributed towards the programme was Professor F. Gonzalez, who conducted a special orchestra.

UFA FILMS

Famous German Co.
Changes Hands

Berlin, Yesterday.
Control of the Ufa Corporation,
Germany's best-known film producing company, has changed hands.
The majority of the stock has now passed into the possession of a group affiliated with the Deutsche Bank.

Changes in the board of directors will probably take place during a special general meeting to be held at the beginning of May.
—Trans-Ocean.

Drizzle Or Light Rain

The Royal Observatory reported last evening that pressure remains relatively high over Northern China and Manchuria. The depression is moving eastward into the Pacific and is now situated between the Loochoos and the Bonins. Pressure is relatively low over Tongking.

Forecast:—East winds, moderate; cloudy with mist and drizzle or light rain.

Berlin, Yesterday.
Herr Hitler yesterday received
M. Ilitch, Mayor of Belgrade, who is in Berlin making a study of traffic organisation.—Trans-Ocean.

ENGLAND WINS THE RUGBY TITLE

SCOTLAND DEFEATED AT MURRAYFIELD

Edinburgh, Yesterday.

A crowd of 65,000 saw England win the 1937
International Rugby Tournament and the Calcutta Cup at Murrayfield to-day when the visitors beat Scotland by 6 points to 3 in cold and damp weather and on a heavy turf following yesterday's rain.

WORLD WHEAT SHORTAGE?

ARGENTINE MAY CONTROL EXPORTS
BIG ORDERS FROM EUROPE

London, Yesterday.

News that Argentina is alarmed at the heavy shipments of wheat and has announced the possibility of restriction in order to safeguard home interests, caused Liverpool wheat prices to soar to-day.

It is estimated that Argentina will have exported 2,500,000 tons out of her 4,000,000 ton surplus by the end of March, and much of the remainder has already been sold forward.

Moreover, the Canadian and Australian surpluses are the smallest in years.

Ordinary demand for wheat has been supplemented by large German and Italian purchases, which have given rise to talk of a world wheat shortage.

Only expectation of a bumper
North American crop, which entirely depends on the weather, is likely to allay the existing bullishness.—Reuter.

ATTACKS ON AIR RECORD

FRANCE MAKING
FRESH BIDS

WITH NEW PLANES

Paris, Yesterday.

Attempts by French aviators to attack several world aviation records will be made shortly.

An attempt is to be made to better the altitude record, held by Squadron-Leader F. R. D. Swain (Britain) with a height of 49,907 feet.

M. Doret, who recently met with failure in his attempt to fly to Tokyo from Paris within 100 hours, is to try again.

Another aviator is also reported to be planning to gain the Air Ministry's prize for completion of the flight under 100 hours.

Miss Maryse Hiltz, who already holds the altitude record for women, intends to beat the long-distance record for women.

All the attempts will be made with Gaudron-Renault planes. —
Trans-Ocean.

Moscow Indulges In New Coat---Of Arms

Moscow, Yesterday.

The Soviet Union is to have a coat of arms, according to the decision of the Central Executive Committee, which has approved the design of the new insignia.

The coat of arms depicts the world surrounded by a sickle and hammer and a five-pointed star, while the Communist slogan "Proletarians of the world, unite!" is inscribed each side of the sphere.

This is England's first win at Murrayfield since 1923 and it is her first championship since the 1933-4 season.

The two vacancies in the England fifteen were filled by Candler
(St. Bart's) at wing three-quarter and Bolton (Harlequins) at forward. H. Wheatley (Coventry) displaced Prescott in the pack.

Scotland made three changes,
MacRae replacing Dick, who has poisoned his foot, Shaw replacing MacRae and Dryden (Watsonians) taking Shaw's place.

The English forwards enjoyed the best of the early exchanges, and, on the whole, the forwards were more energetic than the three quarters, who were uncertain in their handling.

The Scots were very deadly in their tackling, but in the 38th minute Unwin crossed over in the corner, Cranmer failing to kick the goal. Shortly after this Ross retired with an injury, but half time arrived soon after with England leading 3-0.

SEVER'S GOOD TRY

Ross resumed after the resumption.

In the 70th minute Sever received from a line-out and dodged through a crowd of Scotsmen for a try which Cook failed to convert.

Three minutes later Shaw kicked a penalty goal for Scotland.
England finished strongly, being easily the better side.—Reuter.

England.—H. G. Owen Smith (St.
Mary's Hospital); H. S. Sever (Sale),
P. Cranmer (Richmond), Lieutenant
E. J. Unwin (Army), J. Candler
(St. Bart's); F. J. Reynolds
(Old Cranleighians), B. C. Gadeney
(Leicester); H. Wheatley (Coventry),
H. B. Toft (Waterloo), R. J.
Longland (Northampton), T. E. Hus-kisson (Old Merchant Taylors), A.
Wheatley (Coventry), W. H. Weston
(Northampton), J. C. Cook (Bedford).

Scotland.—K. W. Marshall (Edinburgh Acad.); W. G. S. Johnson, D.
J. Macrae, R. W. Shaw and W. Dryden (Watsonians); W. A. Ross and
W. R. Logan; M. M. Henderson, G.
L. Gray, W. M. Inglis, G. B. Hor-burgh, C. L. Melville, W. B. Young,
J. A. Waters, Bolton (Harlequins) and G. D. Shaw.—Reuter.

1937 TABLE TO DATE

	P.	W.	L.	F.	A.	Pts.
England	3	3	0	19	14	6
Ireland	2	1	1	19	13	2
Scotland	3	1	2	20	23	2
Wales	2	0	2	9	17	0

* 1936 champions.

The remaining match, between Ireland and Wales, which was postponed last Saturday owing to a heavy snowstorm, will be played at Belfast on April 3.

Sun Fo On Japan's Overtures

Shanghai, Yesterday.
Sino-Japanese economic cooperation cannot be realised before political obstacles are removed, declared Mr. Sun Fo, President of the Legislative Yuan, on his arrival here from Nanking to-day.

He added that the prerequisites for China's cooperation with another country must be strength and the resolution to resist foreign aggression.—Reuter.

ELECTRICITY AND WAR

SIR T. INSKIP ON IMPORTANCE

BRITAIN'S RAPID ADVANCE

London, Yesterday.

The electricity industry was congratulated yesterday by the Minister for the Co-ordination of Defence, Sir Thomas Inskip, on the greater part it is playing in the manufacture of munitions than was the case at the height of demand during the Great War.
Lord Eltisley, President of the British Electrical Development Association, said that ten years ago this country was generating 5,500,000,000 units of electricity annually.

Last year over 20,000,000,000 units were generated, which was an increase of about 14 per cent.
over the previous year's generation.

That was a larger proportional increase than any other country in the world could show.

Many more houses were being wired for electricity. There had been an increase of 2,300,000 during the past four years.

While reckoning both high tension and low tension lines in one calculation, Britain had a record of over 30,000 miles of rural lines.—British Wireless.

ENGLISH FORUM DINNER DANCE

Gay Festivities At Hotel Cecil

A delightful time was spent by almost 200 young people last evening when the Hong Kong English Forum commenced its current year's activities with their second annual dinner dance at the Hotel
Cecil, which was gaily illuminated and decorated for the occasion.

In the course of the evening, two songs were rendered by Miss Alice Tseng, who contributed
"Where Are You?" and "Did I Remember," which were enthusiastically received.

Among those who attended were: Mr. Thomas Young and party, Mr. Jimmy Poon and party,
Mr. W. Leong and party, Mr.
Kenneth Wong and party, Mr. Ma
Nai-kwong and party, Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Young, Mr. C. L.
Chan, and Miss L. Lee, Mr. C.
Cheung and Miss M. Lee, Mr. N.
Lee and Miss Gene Wong, and Mr.
S. F. Chang and many others.

Classical Evening At Hong Kong Hotel

A further performance by Miss Notargiacomo, the Italian soprano, and Miss Xenia Zarina, classical dancer, who scored a triumph at their classical evening a fortnight ago at the Hong Kong Hotel, is to be given on Tuesday evening. Both are artistes of the highest standard and give a delightful and well-arranged programme.

CHARLTON GO DOWN

FIRST DIVISION
SHOCKS

RANGERS DRAW WITH ABERDEEN

London, Yesterday.
The following are the results of to-day's League football matches and Cup-ties.

FIRST DIVISION
Arsenal	1	Birmingham 1
Bolton	4	W. Bromwich 1
Brentford	4	Middlesboro 1
Derby	5	Charlton 0
Everton	1	Manchester C. 1
Huddersfield	1	Portsmouth 2
Manchester U.	1	Grimsby 1
Preston	1	Leeds 0
Wednesday	1	Liverpool 2
Sunderland	2	Chelsea 3
Wolves	2	Stoke 1

SECOND DIVISION
Aston Villa	4	Blackpool 0
Bradford C.	2	Blackburn 2
Burnley	2	West Ham 1
Chesterfield	1	Tottenham 3
Coventry	4	Bradford 0
Doncaster	1	Newcastle 2
Fulham	2	Norwich 3
Notts F.	1	Sheffield U. 1
Plymouth	1	Barnsley 2
Southampton	1	Leicester 1
Swansea	2	Bury 0

THIRD DIVISION (SOUTH)
Aldershot	0	Notts C. 1
Bournemouth	3	Crystal P. 1
Brighton	1	Exeter 0
Bristol R.	4	Luton 0
Gillingham	1	Torquay 0
Millwall	3	Walsall 1
Newport	0	Bristol C. 0
Northampton	2	Cardiff 0
Southend	3	Queen's P. 2
Swindon	1	Clapton 3
Watford	6	Reading 1

THIRD DIVISION (NORTH)
Accrington	4	Crowe 1
Darlington	1	Carlisle 5
Gateshead	3	York 2
Hull	3	Barrow 2
Lincoln	3	Chester 0
New Brighton	5	Rochdale 1
Oldham	1	Mansfield 1
Port Vale	3	Halifax 1
Rotherham	3	Tranmere 1
Stockport	2	Southport 1
Wrexham	0	Hartlepool 1

SCOTTISH LEAGUE

FIRST DIVISION
Aberdeen	1	Rangers 1
Albion	0	St. Johnstone 4
Arbroath	3	Dundee 0
Clyde	2	Kilmarnock 0
Dunfermline	0	Third Lanark 0
Hamilton	5	Hearts 1
Hibernian	1	Motherwell 2
Partick	2	Falkirk 3
Queen's Park	2	Queen O'S. 2
St. Mirren	1	Celtic 2

SECOND DIVISION
Ayr	1	Morton 1
Brechin C.	4	Edinburgh 0
Dundee	4	Leith 2
East Fife	0	Cowdenbeath 4
East Stirling	4	Forfar 2
King's Park	1	Alloa 4
Montrose	1	Stenhousemuir 2
St. Bernard's	6	Airdrie 1
Dumbarton	3	Raith 1

—Reuter.

[No correction had been received up to 3.15 a.m.—Ed.]

Special Boat Race Broadcast

A telegram received by the Postmaster-General from the B.B.C. intimates that while work on the new Daventry aerial will cause curtailment of Empire Transmission 2 as from to-morrow, there will be a special Boat Race transmission on Wednesday from 1100
G.M.T. to 1200 G.M.T.

Printed and published for the Proprietors, Newspaper Enterprise Ltd., by GORDON CADE BURNETT, at 5A, Wyndham Street, Victoria, Hong Kong.